AAVI CHE HOLI (GUJARATI)

āvī chē hōḷī bharī pickārī śyām na āvyā hōḷī na manāvī

The festival of Holi (the Indian festival of colors) has come. The water piston is full with watercolor. But Shyam (Lord Krishna) has not arrived. How can we celebrate without Him?

The body is not smeared with color, but our minds are, for You have applied the color of grief (of separation) to our hearts.

mārā śyām amārē sāthē ramō hōḷī vāṭ jōyē tārī nīt amē
kṛṣṇā kṛṣṇā śrī kṛṣṇā

O Shyam, come and play holi with us. We are eagerly waiting for You, Sri Krishna.

bhīgī gayu chē tan ramyā vagar hōḷī vahē chē āsūvō darśannē mōhan

The body has become wet even without spraying the colored water. How is it so? It is because of the tears we have shed awaiting Your darshan.

kōyī tō samjhāvē ēnē kōyī tō lai āvē vrajnī yād ēnē kōyī tō apāvē rē

O, will someone make him understand our pathetic condition. Please bring him to us. At least kindle the remembrance of Vrindavan in his heart.

AAVO MARA (GUJARATI)

āvō mērē nandalāl

āvō mārā nandalālā
rādhā pōkārē tanē

Please come, O Nandalal (Krishna), I, Your Radha, am calling out to You.

tārā sivā huṃ jīvī nahīṃ śakūṃ sudh budh mananī huṃ khōyī jāvūṃ śuṃ nathī rādhā śyām tārī pyārī vēlā āvō ō murāri

Without You, my Lord, I cannot survive, I lose my consciousness quite often. Am I not most dear to You, Krishna? Please do come back, O Murari!

tārī yādōṃ māṃ pigaltī rahī chē śyām nī rādhā raḍī rahī chē havē vilamb na karō giridhārī dūr karō duḥkha amārā

I am melting, dwelling in Your thoughts. I have been crying continuously for You. Please do not delay any further, O Lord, please put an end to all my sorrows.

āḍiḍuvōm

āḍētamu mēmu āḍētamu kannayyātōkalisi āḍētamu pāḍētamu mēmu pāḍētamu – cinni kannaḍi līlalē pāḍētamu

Let us dance and dance along with the Lord Krishna and sing gaily His glory for ever and ever.

ānandunī mukam kā nūcu ānandakaḍalilō munigēdamu anniṭini maraci nilicedamu abhayam nīvēnani anēdamu

Seeing the face of the blissful one, let us get ourselves immersed in the ocean of bliss, forgetting everything else, in seeking His refuge.

bṛndāvanam vaṇṭi nā madilō pillana grōvini ūdēdavu rājīvanētrā kannā nī priyatama rādhani nēnē lē

O Krishna! You are playing Your pleasant music in the Vrindavan of my heart. O the one with lotus eyes! I am Your Radha with reddish lips.

Won't Thou come to comfort me who am weary of the burden of sorrow? With the hope that Thou wilt come, I am waiting always.

BANDHAVAR ESHTO (KANNADA)

bandavareṣṭō hōdavareṣṭō janmagaḷeṣṭeṣṭō

How many people have come, how many have gone, and how many lifetimes have passed!

bāḷidareṣṭō biddavareṣṭō māḍidavareṣṭeṣṭō

How many people have prospered, how many have fallen into bad times, and how many have died!

eṣṭō sambandhagaḷu ēnēnō bandhagaḷu

How many relations, how much bondage, banderagida nōvugaḷu paripari parīkṣegaḷu

How many tests and how much pain there is!

matte tāyi oḍaḷinali huṭṭusāvu cakradali

Time and again, themother- child relation has been forged, only for this bond to dissolve.

bhavarōga niścitadi nammavaru yārilli

The diseases take us away who is there that is our own here.

dharmava biṭṭu keṭṭu dēvanige tōri beṭṭu

Is it ok to blame, having abandoned the proper way of living ?

iruvāga neṇṭareṣṭu hōdāga nammavareṣṭu

While living, we have many relatives. After death, who is there to call our own?

manavadu hēgula kāḷiyavaḷu dēviyu

The mind is a temple, Kali is enshrined therein.

nenapidu irali sadā daiva prajñe jāgṛta

Remembering this always, let us awaken God-consciousness.

That which truly exists is within us. To see that, we must go within.

BHAJEHAM GAṆĒŚAM (SANSKRIT)

bhajēham gaṇēśam viriñcādi vandyam prapañcasya sāram punītam vinītaḥ

We sing to Ganesha who is worshipped by Brahma and other gods, the pure, humble one, who is the energy of the universe.

suśānta svabhāvam śubham bhūrimōdam vibhum viśvadēvam prabhum susmitāsyam

The one of calm nature, auspicious and abundant with joy, the mighty Lord of the universe with a sweet smile!

śivam jñānadantam param śrī vahantam umāṅkē lasantam bṛhaddēhavantam

The child of Shiva and Shakti, whose tusks symbolize wisdom, he who is a part of Uma (Parvati), one with a mighty body, the embodiment of the primordial sound Aum;

mahānāda-rūpam budhairnitya-sēvyam mahādēvatējōbhavam dēvamīḍē

Ever served by the wise, He contains the brilliant splendour of Shiva and is praised by the devas (subtle energies of higher realms).

pracaṇḍam pravarṣam prabhāpūrṇa gātram pramattam prasannam pratarkairagamyam

The great one with the effulgent body, the one who is intoxicated with the knowledge of the supreme, blissful one, unattainable through conjecture.

dhruvam dhūmravarṇam calachūrpakarṇam avarṇam supūrṇam gaṇēśam bhajēham

Eternal one of dense hue with large elephant ears (the ever listening ears of the Supreme), the indescribable, complete one.

satām mānacōram bhavāmbōdhipāram sthiram cārurūpam priyam sarvamūlam

You steal the hearts of devotees and take them across the ocean of worldly existence, O unchanging one of beautiful form!

sadā svaprakāśam virūpākṣamīśam jagaddēśikam śrī gaṇēśam bhajēham

Beloved and the root of everything, ever self-effulgent emanation of the supreme consciousness (Shiva)... We worship Ganesha, the Lord of the universe.

namaḥ śubhrakīrtē jagajjanma dātrē paritrāhi mām sarvasandāna-mūrtē

Salutations to the splendid one who is witness to the birth of the universe . Help us, O healer of all!

namaḥ śārṅgiṇē cakrapāṇē namastē namaḥ śūlinē pāśinē bhō namastē

Salutations again and again to the wielder of the bow and discus. Salutations again and again to the one holding the trident (creation, sustenance, dissolution)

The son of Nanda was going to dance the Rasa Lila, the divine butter thief was going to celebrate!

bāśīr sūr bōhey nirontarō
ḍam ḍam ḍōl bājē obirōtō

The melody of the flute began to flow. The dhol (round drum) began to sound its 'dum-dum' beat.

śyām dorgone sobe rōhe
cukh dēb mohimā rāmkāy būgh

When they saw Shyam, everyone was spellbound. Their mood was coloured by the mood of the Lord.

kānāyi ō... ekāki kānāyi śōtō gōpī

Though I am always absorbed in meditating upon You, why, then, does my mind become so restless?

tumii mātrō śaraṇāgati,
āmār priyō mahādēbī.

You alone are my final refuge, my beloved Great Goddess.

antarē bāhirē tumi,
bhūtō bhābī bartamānē

You are within me and without me; You exist in the past, the future, and the present.

param satya tumi ō mā,
tumi ō mā, mahākālī.

O Mother, You are the Supreme Truth! You, O Mother, are indeed Mahakali.

trilōkapālinī tumi, triguṇakāriṇī tumi

You are the Protectress of the three worlds; You are the very source of the three Gunas.

biśva śakti dēbī tumi,

ĪŚVARA LĪLEYIDELLĀ (KANNADA)

īśvaralīleyidellā lōkadi ammana līleyidellā

Everything is a divine play. The whole universe is a divine play of Mother's.

ādiyu antyavu āḷavu kāṇada nitya nigūḍhatayellā

This is all an unfathomable mystery,without beginning, end, or depth.

ēkātmavastu adondē lōkadi nānatvavāgihudu

Everything is one absolute reality manifesting in this universe as different forms.

ammana ā mandahāsavu oḷagella hūvāgi hā araḷide

The beautiful smile of Amma became the flower garden of the universe.

ādima niścala nidrāvaśadi nīnondu svapnava tōride

In the beginning, You had a dream.

The Divine Play

īśvaralīlayitentā lōkā nammadē līlayitentā ādiyu antamu lōtē kanalēnī nitya nigūḍhamitentā

What a divine play this is! The entire world is Your cosmic drama. An eternal, unfathomable mystery, whose beginning, end, and depth can never be perceived.

ēkātmavastu atokaṯē bhuvilō nānātva vēṣam dhariñcē

Dance to this song of mine, O Ganapati, let this devotee's heart be filled with joy.

RADHE SHYAM KRISHNA (GUJARATI)

japū mē sadā

japu hu sadā hari nu nām rāt divas savār sāñj
rādhē śyām... rādhē śyām... kṛṣṇ nām... kṛṣṇ nām

Without stopping I chant the name of Hari. Night and day, morning and evening I chant the names of radhe shyam and Krishna.

rādhē śyām kṛṣṇ nām hū gāvu rē harē rām harē kṛṣṇ nām japū rē sant sajjana saṅg hū maḷū rē sadguru caraṇa pūju bhajan karū rē

I sing the glorious names of radhe shyam and Krishna, I chant their names incessantly. Saints and good-hearted, pure people are those that I keep company with. Worshipping the holy feet of the Guru I sing praises to the Lord.

śyām jap nām jap sadā bōlu rē śrīdhar vāsudēv bhajan karū rē muraḷi gān mā hu nācu rē
mukundā gōvind bhajan karū rē

I forever chant shyam's holy name. I sing praises to sridhara vasudeva. I dance when I hear the blissful strains of the Lord's flute. I sing the names of mukunda and Govinda in exaltation.

madhusūdana madanamōhana śaraṇa rahū rē nārāyaṇa nārāyaṇa guṇ gāvu rē
muraḷi gān mā hu nācu rē

I take refuge in madhusudana the slayer of madhu. He is the one who charms the mind of his devotees. I sing praises of the great Narayana, I dance hearing those blissful notes on the flute. I sing the names of mukunda and Govinda in exaltation.

JVALANA KALYĀṆA (KANNADA)

jvalanakalyāṇa mēghavāgenmana gaganavīthige bāreyā daivavē kadanamāḍuvī bēsatta manasige tuhina śītāṃśu dhāreyāgī bā

O Mother, come like a radiant, beneficent cloud through the pathway of the open sky of my mind. Into the sorrowful recesses of my trembling being, come as the cool moonlight.

vimalavāgisū manasanū nirmalē sajalavāgisū nētratīragaḷa jalitavāgalī smaraṇegaḷellavū saphalavāgalī jīvita daivavē

Make my mind pure, O pure one! May the corners of my eyes shine with tears that arise in longing for You. May my memories of You shine in my mind, O let this life be fulfilled for eternity.

sakalakālakū satyavū nīnē arivu mīrida ānanda nīnē akaladā en ātmabandhū nī arivināgara āgamasāra nī

You remain forever my only Truth. The inner bliss beyond the intellect is Your real essence. We can never be separate, as You reside in me as my own true Self. You are the indestructible principles of the scriptures.

bayake bhārava hottu nā bēḍuvē kaḍeyā āseyā amma īḍērisū ommanadā din pādasmaraṇeyū nīḍali amṛtānandapūrṇatē

My heart aches for Your grace, it is ablaze to reveal its yearning to You, Mother. In the unrelenting remembrance of Your holy feet, may the full-moon of eternal bliss arise.

kālam kanalu

The Fire of Time

kālavu keṇḍava kārutide jīvavu tampige tapisutide jīvita mārgati muḷḷu hūvu haraḍuta nintide vidhihitavārū ariyuvaru

Time rains down embers of fire, and the soul longs for a cooling shade. The path of this life is strewn with both thorns and flowers. Who can ever know what destiny has ordained?

māḍita karmavu phalisuva samayadi naguvaru kelavaru aḷūvaru karmada niyamanusārave phalavu neraḷugaḷu hinde baruvuvu

When past actions come to bear their fruit, some will laugh while others weep. According to the law of karma, these results follow close behind us, like a shadow.

samāna kāṇuva sukhaduḥkhagaḷa kālada līleyu ellā anubhavamātra badalāguvudu anubhava sākṣi mātra

See happiness and sorrow with an equal eye, for all is the divine play of time. Experience is ever-changing; you are but the silent witness to it all.

āseyu nēyuva janimṛtipāśava bēdhisi duḥkhava mīru ātmavicārada mārgava hiḍidu paramānandava gaḷisu

Transcend all sorrow by piercing the bonds of birth and death woven by desire. Hold fast to the path of self-inquiry and attain the ultimate, supreme bliss.

MANASĀ VĀCĀ KARMAṆĀ (KANNADA)

manasā vācā

By mind, by speech...

manasā vācā karmaṇā nirantara ninna smaraṇē

Through mind, speech, and action, I am constantly in Your remembrance.

ādaru yākinnu nannalli karuṇe tōre nī nannamma

Then why, my own Mother, have You not yet shown Your mercy upon me?

varuṣagaḷēsō uruḷivē śāntiyē illa ī manakē

So many years have rolled by, yet this mind has found no peace.

tilamātra bharavasē nīḍalu taḍavēkē hēḷu nannamma

Why this delay, my Mother, in granting a shred of assurance?

suḷiyali silukida nauke entē baḷalide nōḍu ī manavu

My mind struggles, a boat trapped in a swirling vortex.

bhavabhramē nīgisi nannamma inittu manaḥśānti nīḍu amma

My Mother, dispel this worldly illusion and grant me a little peace.

sāku sākamma sahisenu nā bēḍamma īvidha jīvita

It is enough, Mother, enough! I cannot bear it. I do not want this life.

innu ī krōdhava sahisenu nā āgadamma nannindā gādu

I cannot bear these trials any longer, Mother! I simply cannot.

āsare illada dīnē nā nīnallade nanagyāru illa

I am helpless and without support; besides You, Mother, I have no one.

parīkṣeyā nilisi nannamma kaihiḍidenna daḍa dāṭisu

End this trial now, my Mother; take my hand and carry me to the shore.

MANASĒ NINA SWANTADAVARU (KANNADA)

Trapped in the subtle snare of maya as you are, do not forget the sacred name of the Divine Mother.

śāśvatavallī śarīra śavaventu tiḷi manassē śuddhātmava ariyalentu pariśramisu

Remembering the truth that the body by itself is not permanent but only a corpse work hard to know the soul, the true Self.

nēti nēti vādadinda vēdamantra

Position, prestige and wealth are all impermanent; the only reality is the universal Mother.

kāḷimāte nāmavannu kāmakrōdhavellā tyajisi āmōdadi hāḍutali nartisōṇa bā

Renouncing all desires, let us dance in that bliss singing the name of Mother Kali

MANASĀ VĀCĀ KARMAṆĀ (TAMIL)

manasā vācā

For a while, aching, tremulous, delicately poised, dripping, emptying, and will be no more.

ulakattin kathai evvār-ariyum – neṭiya kālattin gati evvār-ariyum

Poor me, can I scan the meaning of the mystery of the mazy world, time's ceaseless motion, its drift, thrust and goal? Cramped in the world, bound in time, can I see the truth transcending world and time?

My mind is pining for 'kani' (first darshan on an auspicious day), that is rare like the moonlit night when the jasmin bud blooms. Won't You come closer? When You come closer, my heart will know it, without a word about needing to be spoken, and it is longing for that auspicious first intimation of Your presence.

Remembering You incessantly, Lord, we have to attain the supreme goal

prēm kā añjan lagā kē dvēṣ bhāv miṭānā hai

Applying the balm of love, Lord, I should remove all hatred within me

dēkh tujhē sab kē dil mēṃ sabkā ādar karnā hai

Seeing You residing in all hearts, I should treat all beings with respect

dukhōṃ kē ghērē mēṃ bhī mujhkō muskurānā hai

Even in the midst of sorrows, I should be able to smile

pās tērē aur ānē kā avasar inhēṃ banānā hai

I should utilize my sorrows as opportunities to grow closer to You sac nahīṃ hai sāth kisī kā man mēṃ bōdh jagānā hai

I should kindle the awareness within, that no support in this world is permanent sang rahōgē tum hī mērē sumiran nit yē karnā hai

I should remember always that You alone will be with me forever

RĀDHĀ RAMAṆA (TELUGU)

rādhā ramaṇā mama hṛdayēśā

In all you see, may you see Hari. In all your thoughts, may there be the Lord.

anagin bhēs banāyē rāmā kyā mītā kyā duśman

The Lord manifests as infinite forms. What then is friend, what foe?

bhēd-bhāv sab chōḍ kē paglē ēk īś kō var lē

Renouncing all sense of difference, make the 'one' your own hari bōl hari bōl hari hari bōl hari bōl hari bōl hari hari bōl hari bōl hari bōl hari hari bōl hari bōl hari bōl hari hari bōl Chant the name of Hari!

dhyān usī kā kar lē manuvā nēh baḍhāyā jis nē

Meditate upon the one that filled You with love.

amit dayā kī jyōti sē hī path darśāyā jis nē

The one who lit Your path with the infinite light of compassion.

kadam kadam ādhār banā jō - bōjh usī pē dhar lē

On the one that became your support for your every step; to that one, surrender your burden.

O Mother Ambika, I meditate on Your resplendent red form with three sacred eyes, tārānāyaka śekharām smita mukhīm āpīna vakṣoruhām

Wearing a sparkling crown jewel and the crescent moon and displaying a sweet smile.

pāṇibhyām alipūrṇa ratna caṣakam raktotpalam bibhratīm

With Your large breasts brimming with motherly love, holding in each hand jewel- studded vessels, saumyām ratna ghaṭastha rakta caraṇām dhyāyet parāmambikām

Decked with red lotus flowers which are encircled by bees. And with Your red lotus feet resting on a golden jar filled with jewels!

dhyāyet padmāsanasthām vikasita vadanām padma patrāyatākṣīm

O Mother, let me meditate on Your beautiful form with the color of gold, with a beaming face and large lotus eyes, hemābhām pīta vastrām karakalitalasad hemapadmāmvarāṅgīm

Sitting in the lotus flower wearing a yellow garment and resplendent with all the ornaments, holding a golden lotus in Your hand.

sarvālaṅkāra yuktām satatam abhayadām bhaktanamrāmbhavānīm

Worshipped by the bowing devotees and always giving refuge! Let me meditate on You.

śrī vidyām śānta mūrtīm sakala suranutām sarva sampatpradātrīm

O Sri Vidya, embodiment of peace, the object of worship by all the Devas, and the bestower of all the riches!

sakuṅkuma vilepanām alika cumbi kastūrikām

O Mother of the universe, as I sit for japa, let me remember Your form with the beauty of the hibiscus flower, samanda hasitekṣaṇām saśara cāpa pāśām kuśām

Wearing a red garland and sparkling ornaments, smeared with red saffron.

aśeṣa jana mohinīm aruṇa mālya bhūṣojvalām

Shining with a mark of musk on Your forehead whose fragrance is attracting the bees, holding in Your hands the bow and the arrow, japā kusuma bhāsurām japavidhau smaredambikām

The noose and the goad, and displaying a gentle smile, throwing sweet glances around, and beguiling everyone!

aruṇām karuṇā taraṅgitākṣīm dhṛta pāśāṅkuśa puṣpa bāṇacāpām

O great Goddess, let me imagine that I am one with Your glorious red form, surrounded by the golden rays from Anima and the other eight divine glories, aṇimā dibhirāvṛtām mayūkhair-ahamityeva vibhāvayemaheśīm

Holding the noose and the goad, the bow and the arrows of flowers, with eyes in which rise waves of compassion!

Joy and sorrow is dependent on external objects, if we gain what we desire we feel joy, if we lose it we are miserable, my children should learn to control their minds.

kaiviṭṭupōyatil duḥkham – pinne kaivanniṭāttatil duḥkham kaivannateṅgane kāttusūkṣikkume- nnōrkkumbōḷ bhōgaṅgaḷ duḥkham

We are sad at what we have lost, we are sad at what we have not gained and when we think of how to preserve all that we have gained, our possessions turn into our sorrow.

jīvanadharmam marannāl – ātma mōcanamarmam pizhakkyum mōhanasvapnaṅgaḷ neytuneytentinī śōkāntanāṭakam vīṇḍum

If we forget the dharma of our life, we will lose the opportunity to save our self, why do we weave such sweet dreams again to enact this sorrowful drama of life?

śōkattin duḥsvādiyattum – svarga bhōgattilāśavakkyāte cittakuṇḍattil jvalikkum hutāgniyil vṛttidravyaṅgaḷ yajikkū

Do not desire heaven or material pleasure, but sacrifice all the thoughts of your mind into the fire blazing up in the sacrificial fire pit of your pure consciousness.

āśayāṇētinum hētu – ātma lābham koticcālatēkum bhōgam koticcāl nizhalpōle śōkavum tānēyatōṭottukūṭum

Desire is the cause for all, if we desire Self realization we will gain it, but if we long for material pleasure, sorrow will arrive and become its shadow.

tyāgōjjvalam karmameṅgum – puṇya dēvatīrthampōle vandyam svārthakarmam viṣamālinyamēttunno- rōṭanīrennapōl nindyam

Actions that are lustrous with sacrifice are worthy to be worshipped, like sacred streams of pilgrimage selfish deeds are like poisonous pollutants, repellent as the stinking water in drainage channels.

rāgadvēṣatīkeṭuttān – manam snēhatīrthattil kutirkkū lōkajētākkaḷām tyāgikaḷ tan vazhi ttārayil dhīram carikkū

Irrigate the heart in a stream of love to put out the fires of desire and anger move forward with courage in the path shown by the great souls who have conquered the world uḷkkāmberikkilum duḥkham – nammil utkṛṣṭabhāvam teḷikkum andhakārattile kaittiriveṭṭamā- ṇantarangattile duḥkham

Even though our keen sorrow burns us, it will ennoble us, as our inner sadness is the little lamp that lights up the darkness.

cetta/ham muttittiṇarttān – pinne tettum śariyum tiriyā illāttatuḷḷatāy uḷḷatillāttatāy vallātta mōhattilāzhttum

If darkness grows within us we will be unable to distinguish between right and wrong we will fall into the depths of illusion, and delude ourselves that the truth is not real, and what is unreal is the truth.

dharmakarmaṅgaḷkku tammil – bhinna dharmamillenkilum tānāy ceyyunnatokkeyum karmamāṇuḷḷuṇar- nnācariccālatu dharmam

There is no difference in the actual action, but if we perform it with the notion of "I", it becomes karma if we perform with an awakened consciousness, it becomes dharma.

krōdhattāl bhinniccīṭāte – daiva snēhattālonnikka makkaḷ svantam manassinde āndōḷanam svayam tāntān niyantrikka makkaḷ

My children should not cleave in anger, but should unite in the love of God and learn to control the turbulent emotions that pass through the mind

āyussorālkketra tuccham – atin mūlyamōrttāletrameccam nēṭunnatittiri, nēṭānorottiri āśakaḷetrayō miccam

A man's life is very short but its value is beyond comparison, we gain only a little, there is a lot more to be gained and many more dreams to be fulfilled martyasvātantryam pradhānam – prēma maitribandham supradhānam mṛtyunirmuktamāmātmasvātantryamā ṇatyantamuttam

nūnam

One should be free and have relationships forged in love but the most ideal is the freedom from death which comes with the liberation of the Self.

rakṣippavantanne namme – svayam śikṣikkumennōrttiṭēṇḍa
rakṣitāvāyavan śikṣitāvennatu durbalanītiyonnatre

Do not think that the one who saves will also punish us, our saviour can never be our castigator, as it will indeed be weak justice.

snēhahastattin taṇalil – ōrō jīvanum śānti śvasikkām

ŌMKĀRA DIVYA PORŪḶĒ 50 (MALAYALAM)

ōṃkāra-divya-porūḷē varū ōmana makkaḷē vēgam
ōmanayāy vaḷarnn-āmayaṅgaḷ nīkki ōṃkāra-vastuvāy tīrū

Come quickly darling children, you who are the divine essence of "Om." Remove all sorrows, grow to be adorable and merge with the sacred syllable "Om."

pūrṇa-tējassōṭe vāzhām – maṇṇil pūvupōl saumyarāy-ttīrām pūritānanda-hṛdantam mahēśvara pūjakkyu pūvākki-māttām

Let us live vibrant lives with the calm of a flower, let our blissful hearts be an offering to the Lord kaivalya-rūpan kaniññāl – ārkkum kaitavamellām-oṭuṅgum snēhattāl lōkam jayiccuḷḷ- aṭakkuvōrkk- īśvaran dāsanāy-ttīrum

When God, the embodiment of pure consciousness showers His compassion upon us, all our sorrows will cease God is the servant of those who control their minds and conquer the world with love śītaḷam nīhāra-dharmam – tāpam tīyin tanatāya dharmam ānandam-ākunnit-ātmāvin dharmamenn- ōruvōn-ānanda-rūpan

The true dharma of water is coolness, that of fire is heat: God, who is of the nature of infinite bliss, tells us that bliss is the dharma of the Self.

nērkkezhām vighnaṅgaḷ nīḷe – lakṣya lābhattin-ārjavam vēṇam ātma-sākṣātkāra-vīthiyil pātāḷa gartaṅgaḷ-uṇḍām-anēkam

There may be many obstacles and we need enthusiasm and energy to attain our goal ōṃkāra-bījākṣarattil – mūnnu kālavum lōkavum līnam kaivalya-muktikk-anuṣṭhāna- sādhanam abhyāsa-naipuṇyar-ākū

The three times (past, present, future) and this world merge in Om, meditate upon Om to attain liberation

tān-tannil-ārenn-uṇarū – svayam tannil-ēkāntam tirayū tanney-ariyumbōḷ tānēy-ariyunnu tānāṇu kāṇāyat-ellām

Know yourself, turn inwards, when you know your own Self, you will know that all that you see is your own Self

śōkam śamikkān-upāyam – śōka hētuv-entenn-ōrttu-nōkkū svāṛtham-āṇenkil nissā...

Find out the cause in order to become free of sorrow, if selfish desire is the cause, then renounce it and you will become free.

nissvārtha-sēvanōtsāham – śraddhā bhakti, viśvāsam, vinayam anyūnamāy-irikkaṭṭe – tapōtkarṣa nairmalyavum snēhavāypum

Let us be enthusiastic in service, let the qualities of faith, devotion and humility flow without ceasing, let us become pure and loving.

mōha-nirmuktar-ākumbōḷ – arum śōka-vimuktar-ākunnu bhaktiyennāl bhāva-śuddhiyāṇ- ōrkkukil mukti-lābhēcchayum vighnam

One becomes free of sorrow when one is free of desire, true devotion is purity of heart: even the desire for liberation becomes an obstacle.

niṣkāma-bhāvattilūṭe – pūja puṣpamāy-uḷḷam viṭarnnāl tānenna tēnkaṇam tūmaññutuḷḷi- pōl prēmārṇavattil layikkum

When the heart is without desire, it blossoms as a flower for the Lord and one becomes a honey drop that will merge into the ocean of love.

sārasa-patram kaṇakke – karma lēpam puraḷāte makkaḷ jīvandey-udgatikkāyum jagattinde sadgatikkāyum śramikkū

Do not allow karma to sully your soul, strive for the welfare of the world and for the fulfilment of the Self ācāra-niṣṭhar-ākēṇam – pakṣē ācāra-baddhar-ākolla ātmaikya-lakṣyattil-ūnnāttor-ācāram kālccaṅgala-kkeṭṭu-tanne

Rituals and traditions must be followed, but one should not become tied to them, any ritual that is not founded on longing to merge with the self will become chains that bind your feet.

dhyānattin neyttiri nīṭṭām – hṛttil jñāna-prakāśam teḷikkām kēvalānandam svadikkām, svajīvitam snēhātmakam śōbhay-ēttām

Let us light the lamp of knowledge in our hearts with the wick of meditation, and experience pure bliss; then our own life will become full of love and light.

innallēl nāḷe nām vēṇam – tannil tan bhāgadhēyam tirayān nērvazhi kāṭṭuvān-ammay-uṇḍenkilum nēr-ariyēṇḍavar makkaḷ

If not today then tomorrow, we will have to search for our inner essence all by ourselves , Amma is there to show the right path, but my children should seek out the truth on their own.

kāmanayil ninn-uṇarnnāl – lōkam ādarikkum daiva-tulyam kōri-ccoriyunnor-audārya-vāypināl ārilum ādarav-ēttum

When one becomes free of desire, the world will respect him as equal to God; the love and care that flows from him will give him universal respect. Needs something..

kaiviṭān-uṇḍ-ēre yatnam – dēham ñānenna mithyābhimānam janmāntaraṅgaḷāy-onnenn- uraccupōy tānum śarīravum tammil

There is a lot to be given up, the pride and identification with the body, the delusion that we are the body that has been cemented through many lives.

bhautikōpādhikaḷ tēyum – sthirōt- sāham keṭum svaram tāzhum kālamām tēruruḷ-kkīzhil- ppeṭumbōzhum pōkilla

bhōgāśa-tellum

The instruments by which we seize life will wear out, our enthusiasm will wane, our voice will become dull, but even when we are crushed under the wheels of the chariot of time, our desires will never decrease.

ādarśa-bōdham pularttū – atin nērvara nōkki-ccarikkū īśvarādēśam grahikkū – vinamrarāy śāśvatānandam svadikkū

Always stay true to your ideals and follow the straight path of dharma, recognize what God expects from you and in all humility, experience eternal bliss.

satyam vacikkunn-avarkkum – sadā dharmam carikkunn-avarkkum mithyābhimānam- attātmāvabōdhattil nityam pratiṣṭha nēṭīṭām

Those who speak the truth and live in the path of dharma will be able to abandon their false ego and become established in the self.

ōti-ppaṭhippippat-ellām – innu bhōga-samskāra-pradhānam tyāga-samskārattil-ūnnalezhikkilō lōkattinn-āpatt-aṇakkyum

All that is taught now is focused on the attainment of material wealth, if it is not rooted in the spirit of sacrifice, such education will prove dangerous to the world.

nandanōdyānatte vellum – uḷḷil ponmaṇidvīp-onnu kāṇām lōkaṅgaḷ-okkeyā lōkattu dhūḷikaḷ mēḷiccu kūttāṭimāyum

Within you there is an island of gems that revels in the garden of Nanda, in this wondrous land all the worlds are mere specks that play together then fade away.

bāhya-lōkattinnu-vēṇḍi – ātma lōkam marakkāt-irikkū bāhya-lōkam marann-ātmalōkam mātram nēṭān kotikkāt-irikkū

Do not forget the inner world of the Self for the sake of the external world, at the same time do not shut out the external world in order to gain the world of the Self.

onnum niṣēdhicciṭēṇṇa – uḷḷat- uḷḷapōl kaṇṇ-ādarikkām taḷḷān-iṭam pōrā koḷḷān-iṭam pōrā uṇmayāl pūrṇamāṇ-ellām

Do not deny anything but see and respect its true nature, otherwise there will not be enough space within us to like and dislike, know that everything is perfect in its essence.

bāhya-nētram-koṇṇu mātram – kāṇum kāzhcakaḷ-ellām-apūrṇam ātma-nētram turann-īkṣikkil darśikkām sīmayatt-ēkātma-lōkam

All the sights that we see with our external eyes are imperfect, the sights that we see with our inner eye is that of a vast world of bliss.

anyaril nyūnata kāṇān – kaṇṇor- āyiramāṇ-ārkkum-eṅgum tannile nyūnata kāṇilla kāṇkilum kāṇātta bhāvam naṭikkum

We have a thousand eyes to see the faults of others but we do not see our own faults, and if we do, we ignore what we see.

vāḷalla vajrāyudham tān – kaṭum vākk-ennatār-ōrttiṭunnu kāṇillayenkilum vāṭā-vraṇam-pōla- tāzhattil viṅgum, tiṇarkkum

None realizes that the word is not a mere knife, but a blazing sword of lightning. Its wounds cannot be seen but it goes deep and will fester like an unhealed wound.

vīṇayil tatti-ttuḷumbum – nāda vīcipōl prēmārdramāyi lōkattin-ākeyum hṛdyata tōnnunna vākkum pravṛttiyum nēṭū

Learn to speak and act with tender love, like the gentle strains that arise from the veena, so that the world may welcome your deeds and words.

śānti-tēṭunnavar-ennum – tēṭum āgamōdātta-sandēśam ārāmavāṭiyil pūnilāvenna-pōl jīvitam pālamṛtākkum

The ones who search for peace will always seek the exalted message of the Vedas, their lives will become as beautiful as a flower garden lit in the silvery moonlight.

vidyaye vittam kavarnnu – vidya vittam-ennār-ōrttiṭunnu pāttikkozhicc-eṭuttāttil-kkaḷaññu nām ārjicca samskāra-mūlyam

Knowledge has been stolen by wealth, those who believe that wealth is knowledge have thrown out like chaff the noble samskara that we have received from our ancestors.

agnikkanal kāññukatti – uḷḷil- adhyātma-dāham tiḷakkye muktikk-orāḷāyavan tēṭiy-ettunnu satya-dṛkkām sadguruvil

When the flames of fire rise high and the thirst for knowledge of the Self burns within, the seeker comes in search of the satguru, the seer of the truth.

nīrccālu nīnti-kkaṭakkām – mahā sāgaram nīntān prayāsam īśvarānugraham sādhyamām- enkilum klēśam guruprēmalābham

It is easy to ford streams, but it is extremely difficult to cross an ocean: we may receive the blessings of God, but it is more difficult to gain the loving grace of the guru.

sadguror-ājñakky-adhīnam – manō vṛttikaḷ vērattiṭumbōḷ tattvamasyādi-vicāram vazhikk- aham śuddha-caitanyam-ennōrām

With total obedience to the satguru, all the actions of the mind become uprooted. Reflecting upon the great saying "Thou art that" we will realize that the Atman is pure consciousness.

vāsanā-bījam manassil – melle āzhattil-āzhnnu vērūnnum mēlē-paṭarppēri mūṭum, nizhal vīśi- ppāṭēy-iruṇḍūpōm māṛgam

The seeds of latent tendencies will become deep rooted and grow as overhanging shrubs and our path to liberation will become dark ñāninde tāyvēṛu kāṇān – dēham ñānenna mithya māyēṇam

ñān-āyirunna ñān ñānalla –jñānikaḷ ñānennu kāṇunnu sarvam

To find the root of "me", one should become free of the delusion that "I" am the body: the one who was "me" is not the true reality and the knowledgeable ones see "me" in everything.

mēghaṅgaḷ garjicciṭaṭṭe – mahā sāgaram kṣōbhicciṭaṭṭe parvatam-pōley-urapp-ārnnezhum cittam allilum lōkam jayikkum

Let the clouds thunder and the ocean grow angry, but the heart that is steady as a mountain will win over the world ceytiṭṭu cinticciṭāte – svayam cinticcu ceyyēṇam-entum cinticcu ñānenn-ahantay-attācari- ccennāl phalam nūrumēni

We must not think after we act, we must think for ourselves before we act, if we think and act selflessly, we will reap a hundred fold mānikaḷ mānicciṭāññāl – ceytat- ētum kṛtārtham-ākilla 'ñān' ennu kunticc-ezhum cintakaḷkk-antyam-ākumbozh-ārādhyar-ākum

If the great ones do not respect your deeds, all that you have done is in vain. When the thought of "I" ends, all your actions will be revered sattayil jīvikkumeṅkil – atta- lokkeyum-astamiccīṭum duḥkha-saukhyam manōvṛttikaḷkk- āspadam sattayil taṅgaṭṭe cittam

If we are established in our true essence, all our troubles will disappear: joy and sorrow is dependent on the turbulent actions of the mind, let us remain always established in our true Self vastukkaḷ kāṇunna kaṇṇāl – vastu sattaye kāṇill-orāḷum sattaye kāṇunna kaṇṇonnu vēreyāṇ- akkaṇṇu kāṇāykil-andham

We will never see the reality that sustains objects with our external eyes, the eye that sees our essence is the inner one, if we cannot see our true essence with our inner eye, then we are actually blind.

uḷḷuṇarnnuḷḷat-ōtēṇam – narum veṇṇilāvōlunna-pōle satyattin saurabhyam-ēlātta vākkukaḷ cappum cavarum-ennōrkkū

We must awaken inside and reveal the truth which is like a radiant moonlight! Words that do not have the fragrance of truth are mere rubbish kaṇḍāl-arakkunna dhārṣṭyam – pūṇḍu tānallāt-ākolla makkaḷ munnē paṭhikkēṇḍa pāṭham marakkukil kallicc-iruṭṭilām-uḷḷam

Do not forget your true Self and become repulsive with overweening obstinacy: if we forget this lesson, our hearts will become dark and stony kottum kuṭiyumillāte – tēṅgum paṭṭiṇi-ppāvaṅgaḷ cuttum nāykkaḷe pōttunna cētōvikāravum martyar-ōṭillāttat-entē?

We see around us the starving and homeless poor: why do we, who are kind even to dogs, have no empathy towards the poor?

sadyakkyilakaḷ niratti – atil tattva-vēdāntam coriññāl kāḷum vayarinde tī keṭillārtaril ātmōpadēśam nirartham

If we lay down plates for a feast and ladle out theoretical Vedanta in them, it will not fill the stomachs of the hungry: it is not the message of the Self that we should give them ūṇalla lakṣyam-ennālum – verum vēdōktikaḷkk-entu mūlyam?

ānanda-lābhattin- ātmānusandhānam kāyum vayarukaḷkk-annam

Even though our ultimate aim is not the feast, where is the value in dishing out mere lines from Vedanta? We must first fill their stomachs with food in order for them to gain knowledge of the blissful self kāññeriyum karaḷttāpam – tiṅgi nīrāvi kaṇṇunīrāyi tāzhnn-aṭiyunnavarkk- āśvāsamēkāykil jīvitam-ennatē vyartham

The burning sorrow of the heart should evaporate and descend as tears that give solace to the downtrodden, otherwise our life becomes a tearful wasteland dēvatōpāsanayālum – melle ātmīya-bōdham-uṇarum ēkānta-bhaktiyum bhāvanā- śuddhiyum tānatāy-ttīrān sahāyam

Even if we worship devatas, we will slowly awaken to the Self: our pure hearted faith and devotion will lead us to oneness with the Self

svatam pitāvinde citram – verum citram-ennalla nām kāṇmū vigraham kāṇke smarikkunnat- avvidham svasvarūpātma-caitanyam

We do not see the picture of our father as a mere portrait, similarly when we see the vigraha , we remember the pure consciousness that resides within us.

satyam-advaitam-ennālum – dvaita bhāvam niṣēdhicciṭēṇḍa ōrātirikkunna nērattu nēṛāṇa- tōrumbōḷ satyam-advaitam kṛṣṇa-pakṣattile candran – pōle āśakaḷ lōpiccu-pōkām vīṇḍum 'sitēndu' pōl vardhicciṭām- āśa pōṇam manōvṛtti pāṭē āśakky-adhīna-ppeṭumbōḷ – śakti hīnanāy-ttīrum manuṣyan āśa-varjikkukil śaktiy-ārjicciṭum śaktanē muktiy-ārjikkū

When man becomes enslaved by desire, he loses all his inner strength: when desires are renounced strength is gained and only the strong can attain liberation.

ŌMKĀRA DIVYA PORŪḶĒ 51 (MALAYALAM)

ōṃkāra-divya-porūḷē

(Malayalam 2020) Adhyāyam 19

ōṃkāra-divya-porūḷē varū ōmana makkaḷē vēgam
ōmanayāy vaḷarnn-āmayaṅgaḷ nīkki ōṃkāra-vastuvāy tīrū

Come quickly darling children, you who are the divine essence of "Om." Remove all sorrows, grow to be adorable and merge with the sacred syllable "Om."

satyam vadikkān paṭhikkū – makkaḷ dharmmam carikkān śramikkū satyattōṭ-ābhimukhyam varum buddhikku dharmmam viḷakkāy bhavikkum

Children, learn to speak the truth and act according to dharma: then the intelligence will become tuned to speak the truth and dharma will guide our way like a lit lamp.

satyam svayam śvasikkunnu – satya hīnan svayam naśikkunnu satyattināy-kkoṇḍu jīvipp-avan svayam mṛtyulōkam jayikkunnu

Truth will breathe independently, and the one who is false will destroy himself: the one who lives for truth will conquer the world of death āṭṭittimarkkunnu lōkam – bhōga lālasarāyiṅgu mūḍham svantam mukhattin kariñcēru kāṇāte kāṇunnit-anyande dūṣyam

The world is in the grip of vain entertainment and sensory pleasures and without seeing the black stains in our own face, we see only the faults of others.

neñcakam tiṅgunna snēham – jīva sañcayattinn-arghyam-ākkū puñciri-ppūkkaḷāy bhūmukhōdyānatte añcitam-ākkuvin makkaḷ

The heart that is full of love should become an offering for the welfare of our world: let our smiles becomes the flowers that light up the garden of this world.

tēṅgum manassukaḷkk-ennum – snēha dhārayāy-ttīruvin makkaḷ vāzhttuvin makkaḷē, sānandam-eppozhum snēhāpadānaṅgaḷ-eṅgum

Become a stream of love to heal sorrowing hearts, sing with joy in praise of loving deeds and words.

nindikka śīlamuḷḷōrē svantam tinmakaḷ nindiccikazhttū vandikka samskāram-uḷḷappozh-anyande nanmakaḷ vāzhtti-stutikkū

Those who criticize others should first censure their own faults and become free of them: those who applaud should admire the good qualities and deeds of others.

kāla-dōṣatte pazhikkum – ceyta karmma-dūṣyam vismarikkum karmmānusāriyām harṣa-viṣādaṅgaḷ kālam kaṇḍāgamiccīṭum

We blame time and say it is unfavourable to us, conveniently failing to recall our bad actions: time will bring with it both joy and sorrow, the fruit of our past actions.

anyaney-anyanāy kāṇkē – tānum anyanāy-ttīrunnu tānē anyanum-avvidham kaṇḍāl samūhattil anyar-ākunnu nām-ellām

When we see others as "others", we will also become "the other", and every one of us in society becomes "the other".

onninōṭ-iṣṭam varumbōḷ – varum pinn-onninōṭ-iṅg-aniṣṭam ajñāna-buddhi ñān-endey-ennōrkkumbōḷ antaram kāṇunnit-eṅgum

If we develop a liking for somethings we will naturally develop a dislike for other things: our ignorance will prompt us to see everything as "me and mine", and will bring about a sense of separation from others.

onnukil dēhōhabhāvam – pinnat-allenkil-ātmāvabōdham raṇḍil-ētenkilum-onnil-ākunnu nām raṇḍum kalarnnat-āvilla

We are either in the level of "I am the body", or in the state of " I am the self" : we are in either one of these states, we can never be a mix of both narttanam ceyyunna nēram – nṛttam narttaki-tann-ātmabhāvam sṛṣṭiyum sraṣṭāvum raṇḍalla taṅgaḷil raṇḍattat-āṇātmasatyam

The dance emanates from the inner self of the dancer: similarly the creator and His creation are not two, it is this knowledge that leads us to the truth of the Self.

mithyaye satyamāy-kkaṇḍāl – manō duḥkhattin-illazhiv-ētum svapnattil mṛṣṭānnam-uṇṇunna martyannu jāgrattil kṣutt-eṅganārum?

If we believe this illusionary world to be the truth, then we will always experience sorrow: we will be like a man who has feasted in his dreams and yet remains hungry when awake.

mōhattāl kaṇṇukaḷ-andham entum svāyattam-ākkān tiṭukkam tyāgattil-ānandam-āsvadikkunnavar bhōgattil-āsaktarākā

Our eyes have become blind with desire! We are in a hurry to own everything: but those who enjoy the bliss of renunciation will never be greedy for sensual pleasures yōgattil-āsaktiyillēl – manam bhōgattil-āsaktamākum bhōgattil-āsaktamāyāl mahāmāya mārggatil vanmatil tīrkkum

If we are not eager for union with God (yoga), then we will become eager to experience worldly pleasures: and if we are greedy for sensual pleasures, "Maha Maya" the great and divine illusion will build a big wall in our path bhōgattil-āsakti māññāl – manam yōgattil-āsaktamākum yōgattil-āsaktamāyāl mahāmāya mārggattil pūmetta tīrkkum

When our desire for sensual pleasure disappears, we will long for union with God (yoga), and if we desire God, "Maha Maya" will strew a carpet of flowers on our path.

yōgam samatvam-atallo – raṇḍu cērnnat-allēkatayallo ēkātma-bōdhattoṭ-ācarikkum karmmam-āreyum yōgasthan-ākkum

Yoga is equality, it is oneness, and if we perform actions with the knowledge that we are one, we will become established in yoga māykkilum māyilla mēnmēl – manō vṛttikaḷ 'svatvam' marakkyum niṣkāma-bhāva-samśuddhiyāl-ajñāna vṛttikaḷ tēññ-astamikkum

The turbulent thoughts of our mind can never be erased and however hard we try it will veil our inner essence: when our actions become pure and desireless, our mind ceases its turbulent activities and thoughts disappear.

mudraṇam ceyyunnu cittil – ōrō ceytiyum cintayum sūkṣmam māññupōkillatin svādhīnam-etrayō bhāvi-janmaṅgaḷkku hētu

Every subtle thought and action leaves an imprint on the mind: it will remain as latent impressions and become the cause for many future births

nanma-tinmakkyāke bījam – pūrvva karmma-samskāram-ennōrkkū samskāram-evvidham-avvidham-ākunnu jīvitam-ennōrkka makkaḷ

Remember that past actions (karma samskara) are the seed for the good and bad in our present life, my children should remember that this life will be lived according to our previous karma samskara.

ātmīya-mūlyam tyajikke – uḷḷil āsuravṛtti tezhikkum āyōdhanattil madikkum, malarvāṭi pōlum marupparamb-ākkum

If we sacrifice our spiritual values, devilish thoughts will sprout in its stead: it will delight in warfare and will make a charnel field of a flower garden.

tankaiyil-ākunnu nañcum – divya pīyūṣavum-ennariyū onnil-uṇḍām mṛtyumattatil jīvitam raṇḍilonn-

Power and fame will fade away, the world will forget external pomp and glory: the moon and the stars will remember great sacrifices for the sake of a better world buddhiyekkāḷum pradhānam – ātma śuddhitan divya-prakāśam

neñciṭippēriyāl mātramēy-ōrttiṭū svantam hṛdayatte nammaḷ

The divine light pulsating from a pure self is more important than mere intelligence: we will become aware of our own heart only when it beats very fast

kūṭe naṭapp-uṇḍu mṛtyu – ōrō śvāsa-niśvāsavum-eṇṇi kālam pizhakkyull-arakṣaṇam pōlumā kaittalam nērkk-iṅgunīḷam

Death is walking beside us counting each breath of ours: we can never delay the time when death's hands stretches out for us jīva-ttuṭipponn-aṭaṅgān – mātra nēram matiy-ennirikke tammil kalahiccu-manyare drōhiccum-entē svayam tān naśippū?

Only a second is needed to end the pulsation of life within us, then why do we self destruct by quarrelling and harming others?

tānennu tāntān-urakkye – āru-tānennat-āruṇḍ-arivū nērāya tān dēhabāhyam-āṇānanda rūpamāṇ-ēkātmasāram

When one keeps saying "I", does anyone know who the real "I" is ? : the real "I" is beyond the body and mind, it is pure bliss and oneness of the Self.

nīyenna samjñakkyor-ūnnāy – bāhya mānaṅgaḷ-illāykilappōḷ ñānenna samjñakkyum-ādhāramilla-pinn-āruṇḍ-anantata mātram

When there is nothing to support the sense of "you", there will be no foundation for the sense of "I"- only the eternal and infinite remains dēham tyajiccupōm dēhi – dēha nāśattil-ātapikkilla dēhi vēṙpeṭṭatām dēhattin-illazhal śōkamārkk-entinnu pinne?

The Self that leaves the body will not grieve at its destruction and if the Self does not grieve over the loss of its own body, then why should anyone else?

bhōgādhipatyam phalattil – ātma-lōkādhipatyam hanikkum

śāśvatamāyatē śānti nalkū svayam ātmāv-anaśvaramallō

Worldly power will destroy our lordship over the Self: peace can be gained only by realizing the everlasting eternal Self.

mālinyam-ēlātuṣassin – bhāva dīpti coriñ-uḷḷuṇarnnāl tāvunnatētāṇat-ākunnu-ñānenna sāram – cidānanda-bōdham

Let our pure hearts awaken in the radiant light of the dawn: the sense of "I" will disappear in the light and our inner essence will reveal itself – as existence, consciousness, bliss.

satyam marañ-nilkkunnu – dṛśyam dṛkkennu nām bhramikkunnu darśanam draṣṭāvu dṛśyam-enn-antaram illēlat-ākunnu satyam

Truth remains hidden and the seer deludes himself to believe that he is the seen: when the awareness awakens that there is no difference between the seer, the seen and the act of seeing, then the truth reveals itself bhinnadēhaṅgaḷ-āṇēlum – makkaḷ onnāṇanādi-caitanyam bhinnata kāṇunnat-ajñāna-buddhiyāṇ-ajñāna-gēham-īdēham

My children, even though you are separate bodies, you are the one all pervasive consciousness that is without beginning or end: it is our ignorance that makes us see separation, and our body is the seat of ignorance aikyam-allēkatayallō – aikyam-ātmāvil-illaṅgat-ēkam cārccayil-ninnezhum cērccay-allēkata kēvalam raṇḍatta-bōdham

It is not union, it is oneness, the Self is one: oneness is not a union of the two, it is the awareness that there is no two.

kāṇumbōḷ nannennu tōnnum – tōnnal mārumbōḷ kāzhcayum mārum sankalpa-valliyil pūtt-ullasikkunna varṇṇasūnaṅgaḷ-āṇellām

We might like something for a while, when our liking abates, we will look for something else: such objects are the colourful flowers that blossom in the vine of our imagination

onnuviṭṭ-onnilēkk-ōṭum – manam taṅgātey-eṅgatil śānti? śānti tēṭunnavar-ādyam manassinde bhrānta-sañcāram taṭukkū

The mind runs from one thing to the other- where is peace if the mind cannot remain in one place? The ones who seek peace must first put an end to this mad travel of the mind

ōṭum manassiney-ārum – balāl rōdhicciṭēṇḍ-ennu collum
'cēkkuvṛkṣattile pakṣipōl tiryeva-nnīṭumannēram piṭikkām' kīrttanam pāṭunn-avarkkum – bhakti pūrvvam śravikkunn-avarkkum āsuravṛttikaḷ māññ-aham-tēññutan ātmīya-dugdham curattum

The turbulent thoughts of the mind will disappear both for those who sing the bhajans and those who listen to them: the thought of "I" will fade away and the milk of spirituality will flow from them

tāzhmakaṇḍ-aunnatyamōrām – tāzhma uḷḷōriḷam tennal-pōle ellām-ariyām tanikkenn-ahambhāvam-uḷḷōr koṭunkāttu-pōle bāhya-cihnaṅgaḷāl-ārum – mahā yōgiyum tyāgiyum-ākā jñāna-vairāgyēṇa lōkam jayikkāykil jñānikaḷ mānikkukilla

No one can be said to be a great yogi or a great renunciate by their external appearance: the men of knowledge will only respect the ones who have conquered the world through wisdom and total detachment.

jñānikaḷ mānicciṭāññāl – ceyti-yētum kṛtārttham-ākilla dharmmattey-ādaricc-ācarikkunn-atē śarmmamāy mānikaḷ kāṇū

Our actions will never find fulfilment if the jnanis do not accept and respect them: only those actions that are true to dharma will be respected by the great ones

dhairya-śauryaṅgaḷ-uṇḍēlum – dharmma caryay-illennāl-anarttham laṅghikkān śaktan-āṇēlum svadharmmatte laṅghikkukillilla dhīran

Even if one has courage and valour, it is in vain if one does not tread the path of dharma. The man of courage will never act against his swadharma (one's own dharma) even though he is strong enough to break it nērām virāgam varāykil – nēril ōrilla nērāyat-ārum rāga-dvēṣattinn-aṭippeṭṭa jīvitam ñāṇatta villinnu tulyam

If we do not have true vairagya (discernment), we will never travel on the right path: our life will be aimless, like a bow without a string, enslaved by likes and dislikes vāratta vākk-ōtiṭāte – dharmma- mācaricc-artham kurikkū ādarśa-niṣṭharkk-orāzhitan gāmbhīryam- ōrō vacassilum tiṅgum

Instead of mouthing mere words, make life meaningful through actions in obedience to dharma: each word of those who are established in their ideals will have the power and weight of the mighty ocean

nallatē cinticciṭāvū – makkaḷ nallatē collāvū nityam uḷḷatāy-uḷḷatil uḷḷuṇarnnīṭukil nallatē nāvil viḷaṅgū

Children, every day of your life, think good thoughts and perform good deeds: if our heart awakens to the truth within us, we will speak only auspicious words

If we are able to reflect even for a little while, we will never try to take our own life. Suicide will never end your misery, know that it will only be carried forward to your next life.

āḍambarattil bhramiccu – kaṭam vīṭān gatiyatt-oṭukkam ātmahatyā-munamb-āśrayiccīṭāte hōmikka mithyābhimānam

Obsessed with luxury and drowning in debt, some land on the brink of suicide. Instead, let us learn to be content with what we have.

śraddhayonn-alpam bhramikkām – cettu kayya-baddhaṅgaḷ bhavikkām tettil ninn-eppozhum tettil-ēkkāzhāte tettum guṇa-āgōḷa-maitriyil ātmāv-aliyukil ārārōṭ-īrṣya pularttum?

If the flames of hatred arise within us, our own lives will burn down. If our heart melts in friendship for the whole world, then for whom will we feel dislike?

śaktan vivēkiyāy-illēl – śakti vidrōhamāy kalāśikkum śaktande dharmam-āṇārta- samrakṣaṇam mātsaryam śakti-vairūpyam

If the strong are not wise then their strength will become a threat. The dharma of the strong is to protect the weak and helpless. Rivalry turns strength into ugliness.

tinmakaḷ tannuv-ennālum – tiryē nanmaye nalkāvu nammaḷ
nalkunnatin bhāva-māhātmyam- anyatra nanma

viḷayikkum-ārkkum

Even if others harm us, we should give back only goodness. In giving we attain greatness and sow the seed of goodness.

tōḷōṭu-tōḷoṭṭi-ninnu – sarva lōkattinum nanmanērnnum ācarikkunnatin ārādhanā-phalam nūrum-ēnikkum-atītam

When we stand together to do good for the world, that worship will reap fruits a hundredfold.

sāntvanam tēṭunn-avarkkāy – tellu svāntam kuḷirkkum vacassāl bhāvukam nēruvōrkk-āyiram tīrthaṅgaḷ āṭiyāl-ennapōl puṇyam

If we console the grieving by our words and actions, we become as pure as if we bathed in a thousand sacred springs.

anyanall-īśvaran-ennāl – nammaḷ anvēṣikkunn-anya-dikkil anyamāy-anvēṣiccāl-ennum-apporuḷ anyamāy-ttanne ninnīṭum

God is not a stranger, but we search for Him in strange places. If we search for Him as someone different from us, we will never find Him.

bōdhikkay-ennatallāte – tēṭi nēṭēṇḍat-allātmasatyam anvēṣicc-anyam-onnillātey- ākumbozh- entu-śēṣikkum-atuṇma

The truth of the Self is to be realized and not found elsewhere. The truth is what remains when in our search we find that which is not separate from us.

satyam pirappu-koḷḷunnu – ōrō cittavum cuṭṭu tapikke satya-jijñāsayāl-antarangam sadā yajña-kuṇḍam-pōl jvalikke

Truth is born in the heart that blazes like a sacred fire pit in its search for truth.

uḷḷāl samarpaṇam-illēl – illa tellum guruprēma-vāypum

Only the notion of duality constrains the freedom of the Self. The notion of duality cannot be easily rubbed away with your hands.

dhyānam-onnatrē sahāyam – citta durvāra-vṛttikaḷ māyān sadguṇōpādhiyāl-ujjvalippikka nām nityam cidagni-kuṇḍatte

Meditation helps remove the bad impressions left in your mind. Let good thoughts light the fire in the sacred fire pit of your heart.

āzhipōl-āzha-pparappil – vēda sāhitī-tīrtham lasippū āzhi nīrāviyāy, mēghamāy māriyāy tūvumbozh-ārkkum sahāyam

The sacred Vedas are as deep and vast as the ocean. The Vedas nourish the world like the water in the ocean nourishes the earth when it becomes water vapor, forms into a cloud, and then falls down as rain.

vēda-kṣīrābdhi kaṭaññum – sāra pīyūṣa-dhāra nukarnnum tētunna pātrattil-ēkum mahātmākkaḷ nāṭinn-anugraham-ennum

The great ones who churn the milky ocean of the Vedas and drink their ambrosial essence are a blessing to humanity. They impart their knowledge to those who seek spiritual knowledge.

jñāna-dānattin caritram – vīṇḍum bhāva-lāvaṇyam coriyum bāhya-sampattil bhramikkāte jīvitam tyāga-sambūrṇam-ākkīṭām

When knowledge is gained, the beauty of our ancient sages stands revealed. Do not get trapped in the desire for wealth. Lead lives of great sacrifice.

tānē muḷaccu-pontilla – nanma tāntān vitaccu koyyēṇam dharma-jijñāsayō mōkṣa-jijñāsayō uḷḷōrkk-atātinde jñānam

We can only reap the goodness that we sow. Likewise, only those who seek knowledge and liberation will reap the benefits of their quest.

kaṇṇonnu cimmi-tturakke – kaṇḍat- ellām kināvennu tōnnām minnalppiṇar-pōle minnippol- iññiṭām unnatasaubhāgyamellām

This world will seem like a dream as it changes in the blink of an eye. Even great fortunes can disappear in a flash, like a brilliant streak of lightning.

svārtha-sampūrti-tannārti – kaṇḍāl cīrttezhum pāmbum bhramikkum svantam viṣappallu naṣṭappeṭēṇḍ-ennu cinticcu tan phaṇam tāzhttum

The extent of evil to which we will go in order to fulfil our insatiable greed will shock even a poisonous snake rearing up to strike. A snake will concede defeat and decide not to lose its poison fang.

jīvanam-ēkunnu kūpam – tellum ēkunna bhāvam-illētum kōriyāl pinneyum-ūrūnnapōle – nām ēkiyāl-ūrunnu nanma

We have the nobility to share the waters from the well of life. Goodness increases when we give to others, like water drawn from a well replenishes itself from an underground source.

nalkuvān-allāte nēṭān – onnum illātta kāruṇya-śīlar manninkal-ennum-apūrvam- āṇenkilum illātirikkilla nūnam

The compassionate ones only give; they have nothing to gain. Such noble ones do exist, even though they are very rare in this world.

snēhānubhūti-tan svādonnu- tanneyām pālveṇmapōl-aṅgabhinnam

Even though different countries have different cultures, the experience of love is the same for all, like churning milk always produces butter.

lōkam-ennāl kāṇmatallo – dṛśyam āyatellām naśvaraṅgaḷ naśvara-lōkatt-anaśvara-satyamonn- anvēṣicc-eṅgu kaṇḍettum?

The changing sights we see are what we call the 'world'. Where can we seek the imperishable truth in this perishable world?

sattābhiṣiktar-ākāte – tellum śaktaralluḷḷāl-orāḷum ātmīya-śaktiyāl-ānītam-ākumbōḷ hā! labdham-ākunnu satyam

We become strong only when we desire the truth. When we gain strength in spirituality then the truth is revealed to us.

uḷḷōṭṭu nōkkān paraññāl – manam vallāte nāṇicc-ozhiyum āvātta kāryattin-ādēśam-ēkiyāl ā vazhikk-ārum varilla

When asked to look inside, the mind is ashamed and refuses. When the advice is against our liking we reject it. We do not turn within.

vyatyasta-lōkattu mātram – kāla baddham calippatē śīlam kāmya-viṣayaṅgaḷ-illātey-ākukil illātey-ākum manassum

We use our mind to travel in the world of impermanence that is bound by time. But when desire ends, the mind ceases to be.

āstikya-buddhiy-uṇartti – makkaḷ ātma-sandhānam tuṭarū ātmāvadhānamām śraddhayāṇ- āstikya buddhiyenn-ōrkkuvin makkaḷ

My children should have intelligent faith and seek to realize the Self. Remember that attention to the Self is intelligent faith.

drōham vitaccu munnēri – svāsthyam āke-ttakarttāṭi nēṭum nēṭṭaṅgaḷ-eṇṇi madiccaṅg-irikkavē kōṭṭa takarkkum niyati

When we sow the seeds of harm we destroy the wellbeing of this world. Then when we gleefully count our ill-gotten gains, justice will demolish our fortress.

munpokke jātyābhimānam – sthūla bhāvattil-āyirunneṅkil sūkṣmamāṇ-innatin śaktiyum vyāptiyum tīrppu kalpikkān prayāsam

In the past the pride of different castes was expressed outwardly. Now it is subtler and it is more difficult to estimate its strength and breadth.

vyaktiyāṇ-annatte śatru – nērkku nēr-ninnu pōr-viḷiccīṭām unmūlanam ceytu munnērum- innatte śatruvār-ennārkk-ariyām

In olden times a known individual was the enemy and we fought face-to-face. Today, we annihilate everything in our path without even knowing whether it is the enemy.

mūlyaṅgaḷ-ellām-agaṇyam – innu lābha-kkaṇakkāṇu gaṇyam snēha-nūlattāl parasparam martyare kōrttiṇakkān-entupāyam

We cannot calculate the value of values, but we can count the value of our profits. If the thread of love is broken, how will mankind be united?

nētram nimīlitam-ākki – cuttum āndhyam-āṇenn-urakkyāte

All of today's miseries will end in tomorrow's dawn. If we develop such optimism, weariness won't overwhelm us.

innale ceyta tett-ōrttu – vṛthā khinnarāy nīrēṇḍā makkaḷ ceytat-entākilum ceytupōy, tettini ceyyātirikkān śramikkū

Children, don't feel bad and suffer thinking of yesterday's mistakes; whatever has been done has been done, try not to repeat it in the future.

ōti-paṭhippicca tattvam – makkaḷ ōrmayil sūkṣicciṭāykil

vīṇa tettil-ninnu mēlēkku pontilla tāzhum ceḷi-kkuṇḍil vīṇḍum

Children, if you do not remember the principles of spirituality taught to you, you will not come out of the pit of mistakes, and will fall again and get trapped in that mire.

anyamāy kāṇarut-onnum – ātma bhinnamāy kāṇarut-onnum brahmānubhūti kaivann-avar connat-ōrtt- anyata kāṇātirikkū

Do not see anything as apart from you, do not see anything apart from the Self. Recalling the words of those who have realized the Self, try not to see 'other- ness.'

ārṣa-vijñānam muzhuvan – amma ātti-kkurukki-uraccāl sōham-ennākum, gurōr- ājñayādaricc- ācariccāl-atāy-ttīrām

When Amma distills the entire scripture and utters its essence, it is 'So-ham' (I am that). If we heed to the guru's instructions respectfully, we can become 'that.'

śōka-śāntikkuḷḷ-upāyam – aham dēham-enn-andhatakky-antyam mōha-pāśattin kurukkazhiññāl-uṭan dēhōhabhāvattin-antyam

The means for peace from suffering is to end the blind 'I am the body' idea; as soon as we loosen the knot of delusion, the 'I am the body' sense comes to an end.

janmāvasānam-varekkum –karmam ācarikkām tyāga-pūrṇam
'tyāgam-uṇḍenkilē jñānam-uṇḍāku'ḷḷ- ā-vēda-vākyam smarikkū

Let us serve the world with a sense of selflessness until the very end of our life. Let us remember the vedic dictum that knowledge is there only where there is sacrifice.

Water and milk can always merge into one. But the butter made from churning milk can merge into neither...

avidham karmattil oṭṭum – makkaḷ oṭṭal-illāte varttikkū karma-vaimukhyatte karma-vimuktiyāy teṭṭi dharikkāt-irikkū ...

Similarly, children, like butter floating in water, remain detached from the fruits of your actions. Merely refraining from external action does not liberate from bondage.

karmam niṣēdhiccu mātram – ārkkum karma-nivṛtti varilla viśramam vēṇēl śramam vēṇam alleṅkil viśramam nidrayāy māṙum

Rejecting all action doesn't not free you from karma. You must work hard to gain equipoise. Otherwise, your reluctance to act makes you indolent.

karma-rāhityattil alla – śānti karmam akarmamāy māṭṭū karttavya-rāhityam ārkkum guṇappeṭill- arttha kāmaṅgaḷkku pōlum

Performing action without sense of doership gives peace, refraining from our duties and responsibilities does not. Even to gain wealth and fulfill our desires, we need to behave responsibly.

ñānum enikk-ennum ēvam – svārttha cintayil bandhicciṭāte nām namukk-enna vicāram vaḷarttiyāl āyāsam ākilla karmam

Let us not be ensnared by selfish thoughts of 'me' and 'mine'. Our actions become effortless when we start thinking of 'us' and 'ours'.

āsaktar-ākāte ellām – ceytu nirlipta-cētassāy tīrū ajñāna-nāśam bhavikkān at-uttamam karma-vimukti atatre vāzhvattu nilkkunnu nammaḷ – bhūta bhāvi-kālaṅgaḷil taṅgi jīvitam varttamānattil enn-ōrkkāykil bhāviyum vyartthamāy tīrum

Trapped in the past or the future we do not really live. If we forget to live in the present, the future is in vain.

ōrmmayil jīvikke nammaḷ – bhūta kālatte pulkunnu tānē āśayil jīvikke bhāviye pulkunnu cōrnnu pōkum varttamānam

Living in our memories, we embrace the past. Living in dreams of the future, the present slips through our fingers.

varttamānam cōrnnu pōkē – svayam jīvitavum cōrnnu pōkum kaivanna saubhāgyam āṇ-ennu cinticcu varttamānattil carikkū

As the present slips away, our life slips away with it. Let us always remember that the present is a gift, and live in it.

lōkam samādariccīṭum – puṇya pūruṣa śrēṣṭhare ōrttāl karmattāl mārgam teḷiccu munn-ēṙiyōr jñānattāl mōkṣam bhaviccōr

The great ones who are revered by the world cleared the path for us through their selfless actions and gained liberation through knowledge.

sarvātma-bhāvam viṭāte – sarva karmavum ācariccīṭām nirmala cittarāy tīrumbōzh-ātmāvil ātmāv-uṇarnnu śōbhikkum

We can perform all our actions while holding the thought that we are the Atman. When our mind is pure, the Atman shines radiant within. We can perform all our actions maintaining/ sustaining the attitude that everything is a manifestation of the Atman. When our mind is pure, the Atman shines radiant within.

satya-abhilāṣattil nitya-anuvarttikaḷ satya-anuvarttikaḷ mātram

Desire to know the truth destroys pride. Our actions in search of the truth come only from truth.

mithya-abhimānam veṭiyū – makkaḷ satya-abhimukhyam pularttū citta-samśuddhi kaivannāl śarīrattil satyatva-buddhi nīṅgīṭum

Children abandon pride, and cling to the truth. When your heart becomes pure you will no longer identify yourselves to the body.

vandicciṭēṇḍum janatte – hīnam nindiccāl konnatin pāpam ārāre ennatall-ārum ārum tammil ādarikkēṇḍ-avar eṅgum

Insulting and abusing those who are worthy of reverence is a sin akin to murder. Everyone, without exception, is worthy of our respect.

nindyam paraninda atre – atu ceyyuvōr himsānuvartti kaṇṇinum kātinum nalvirunnāy avarkk- anyande dūṣyam onnatre

Abusing others is a despicable act of violence. Such people enjoy finding fault in others. Their eyes widen and they listen with rapt attention as they hear malicious gossip.

vanmala maṇkūna ennum – pinne maṇkūna vanmala ennum citrī-karikkuvān sāmartthyam eppōzhum satya-virōdhikaḷkk-ellām

Those who oppose the truth make mountains out of mole-hills and mole-hills out of mountains.

ārkkum viḷi puŕatt-ettum – daivam ārenn-aŕiññu viḷiccāl ātmāvil anyamāy kāṇāte vēṇam iṅg- āhvānam ōtēṇḍat-ōrkkū

If we call out with faith, God comes to us. When we call out to God, let us remember that He is none other than our own self.

īśvara-anugraham vēṇēl – ādyam dēśika-anugraham vēṇam īśvaran dēśikan āṇ-ennu kāṇukil dēśika-anugraham mōkṣam

We need the guru's blessing to gain God's blessings. When we see the guru as God, the guru's blessing leads us to liberation.

nērine nērāy aṙiyum – nēram nēril ñān-ār enn-aṙiyum nērē gurōr-ājña ācariccīṭukil nērutān enn-ōrum ārum

When we know the truth as truth, we come to know our own truth. When we faithfully obey the commands of the guru, we realize ourselves as that truth. When we truly know the truth?

dharmatil ākaṇam śauryam – tyāga karmatil ākaṇam vīryam bhōgattil ākaṇam vairāgyam ātmaikya bōdhatil ākaṇam dārḍhyam

Let us fiercely adhere to our dharma, and manifest our courage through acts of renunciation. Having dispassion towards worldly pleasures, let us be firm in the knowledge of our oneness with the self.

mōkṣam āśikkunnu pakṣē – vēṇḍum mōkṣa-mārgaṅgaḷ ajñātam mōhitar ākāykil mōcitar āyiṭum mōhattāl bandhikkum ārum

We long for liberation, but we do not know the path to liberation. We are bound by our delusion. When we become free of delusion, we gain liberation.

jñāna-tapass-ācarikkān – ādyam vēṇam viṣaya-vairāgyam svātma-anusandhāna-cittarāy arjjikka svātmāvil ātmā-avabōdham

Without detachment from worldly objects we are not be able to perform austerities to gain knowledge. Through self-inquiry, let us gain the knowledge of the Self.

bhakti tan bhāvam utkṛṣṭam – prēma bhakti tan lōkam viśiṣṭam bhaktiyāl uḷkkaḷam śuddhamāy tīrukil bhakti-muktikkilla bhēdam

Loving devotion is exalted and wondrous. When our heart becomes pure through devotion, it is no different from liberation.

vēdaṅgaḷ nālum kaṭaññāl – kiṭṭum tūvamṛt-ākunnu prēmam prēma-svarūpamāy māṙumbōzh-ātmāvil bhēdamill-anyamall-onnum

When we churn the four Vedas, we get the nectar of pure love. When we become embodiments of love, we realize that we are the Atman and there is nothing other than us.

sattamanmār ākū makkaḷ – nityam sadguṇa-śālikaḷ ākū citta-mōdattōṭe arppikkū jīvitam sadgati ēvarkkum ēkū

Children, be true to your real essence, and perform noble actions. Offer your life with a happy heart and uplift everyone.

parvata-arōhaṇam pōlum – dhīra karmam enn-ēvarum vāzhttum ātma-avarōhaṇam dhīrata mātramall- ēṭṭam pavitram ā lakṣyam

People praise mountaineering as a courageous act. Realising the Self is not only the most courageous act but also the purest goal.

ñān ennum nī ennum nammaḷ – namme vērtiriccīṭunnu, pakṣē dēhattin allāte cētanaykk-ārilum vērtirivill-enn-uṇarū

We distinguish between 'you' and 'me'. Let us awaken to the fact that only physical bodies are many; the supreme consciousness is one.

bhaktikku yukti kāṇēṇḍa – yukti buddhikk-adhīnam-enn-ōrkkū bhakti tan tāyvēr hṛttil ākunnatu yuktikk-atītam ennōrkkū

Devotion needs no logic. Our logic is limited to the level of our intellect. The root of devotion is our heart, and it transcends logic.

buddhi-vijñāna-pradhānam – ātma hṛtt-anubhūti-pradhānam

nanmayum tinmayum buddhi nalkām hṛttu nirmala-ātmānanda-kēndram

Knowledge is for the mind, but we can know the Atman only through blissful experience. The mind can distinguish between good and bad. The heart is the center of the pure blissful Self.

buddhiyum yuktiyum pōra – bhāva śuddhiyāl satyam tiḷakkū yuktikk-atītamām bhakti koṇḍ-uḷḷattil satyam tiḷakkuvin makkaḷ

Children, you need purity of heart to realize the truth. Realize the radiant Self through pure devotion that transcends intellect and logic.

kāṇmat-ellām yukti-niṣṭham – buddhi ettāttatō yukti-atītam yuktikk-adhiṣṭhitam ākaṇam satyam enn-oṭṭum śaṭhikkēṇḍa ārum

Logic governs the phenomenal world. What we see is bound by the rules of logic. But where the mind cannot reach logic is transcended. Logic cannot prove the truth.

uḷḷam kṛpārdram ākaṭṭe – dharma bōdham karutt-ezhikkaṭṭe anpin prakāśamāy munpil naṭakkuvin pinpē gamikkaṭṭe lōkam

Let our heart be full of tender compassion, and let us remain strong in the awareness of our dharma. Let us go forth as the light of love, and let the world follow us.

agni-sphuliṅgaṅgaḷ ākum – vākku cuṭṭum prakāśam parattum cūṭum prakāśavum varṣikkum eṅkilum hṛttinu śītaḷa-sparśam

Words born from the fire of truth spread radiance everywhere. They soothe the mind, and rain down as warmth and light.

vākkukaḷ sūkṣicc-uraykkū – vākku nindyavum vandyavum ākām naññu vākk ōtiyāl ōtum janattinde neññum viṣayaccūru vāykkum

Let us be careful with our words, because words can abuse as well as adore. Poisonous is the breath of those who speak venomous words.

tīyum pukayum vamikkum – vākku dvēṣavum duḥkhavum ēṭṭum śāntiyum snēhavum tūkunna vākkukaḷ vāgdēvata tan prasādam

When we hurt others with words of fire and smoke, they bring forth anger and sorrow. Words full of peace and love are the blessings of the goddess of speech.

OMKARA DIVYA PORULE 63 (MALAYALAM)

ōṃkāra divya poruḷē varū ōmana-makkaḷē vēgam
ōmanayāy vaḷarnn-āmayaṅgaḷ nīkki ōṃkāra vastuvāy tīrū

Come quickly darling children, you who are the divine essence of Om. Remove all sorrows, grow dear and adorable and become one with the absolute.

ārtt-ullasiccu rasikkām – ennum āghōṣa jīvitam ākkām ārbhāṭam all-antarātmāvil saundaryam āsvadicc-uṇmattar ākām

We can live joyfully, celebrating each new day. Real beauty is not in external luxuries, let us exult in the radiance of the inner self.

kaṇṇ-onnu teṭṭiyāl vēgam – uṇṇi maṇṇu tinnān kuticc-ōṭum śraddha onnalpam pizhaccāl uṭan manam tenni ōṭum viṣayattil

If we look away even for a moment, the child runs off and eats clay. When our awareness lapses even for a moment, our mind runs to external objects.

ōmana makkaḷē kālam – ārkkum kāttu nilkkill-ēṙe nēram audāryam ārilum kālattin-illa tan bhāvi tān tanne sṛṣṭikkū

My darling children, time will not wait for you, it makes no special considerations for anyone. Your future is in your own hands.

kālam kuṙiccu sūkṣikkum – ōrō karmavum cintayum sūkṣmam akarma sākṣi tan kai-kaṇakkil tellu kai-pizha pōlum varilla

Time notes each subtle thought and act. Time, the witness of all actions, makes no mistakes in its record.

ōrōnnum tūkki kuṙikkum – kṛtyam ōrō phalam nirṇayikkum satphalam ākilum dusphalam ākilum teṭṭāt-aḷann-ēkum ārkkum

Our every act will be weighed and judged, and its fruits determined. We will receive the fruits of our actions whether they bring sorrow or joy.

vēṇḍatu mātram śravikkū – makkaḷ vēṇḍatu mātram ninakkū vēṇḍat-entennuḷḷ-uṇarnnu kaṇḍ-ettuvin vēṇḍatu svāmśī-karikkū

Children, hear only what is auspicious, think only worthy thoughts; awaken within, realize what you need to imbibe, and make it your own.

anya-dūṣyam cikañńīṭum – ennāl svanta-dūṣyam maṙannīṭum nanma onnum nambukilla nām anyande tinmakaḷ cikki cikayum

We search for the faults of others and forget our own faults. We do not have faith in the goodness of others, and only seek out their faults.

azhakku vidya kai-vannāl – kūṭe kūṭunn-ahantayum pakṣe tān ahaṅkāriyāy enn-aṙiyāte – tān pōkunn-anarthattilekkāy

We become arrogant when we gain even a tiny measure of knowledge. If we do not realise our own arrogance, we are doomed to misfortune.

uḷḷam curuṅgi curuṇḍāl – lōkam uḷḷam kaviyum nissīmam uḷḷam vikāsam bhaviccāl prapañcam or-eḷḷōḷamāyi curuṅgum

If our mind shrivels up, the world overwhelms us. If our mind becomes expansive, the world will not overpower us, it'll become like a tiny sesame seed within.

cuṭṭum prakāśam paratti – katti nilkkum viḷakk-uṇḍu pakṣe cōṭṭil iruṭṭ-enna pōle tan hṛttilum ātma-prakāśam ill-oṭṭum

Even as a lamp sheds light all around, there is darkness beneath it. Even though we see the entire world with the light of consciousness, we are unable to realise it within us.

antaraṅgattil uṇḍ-īśan – ennāl santṛpti ill-oṭṭu pōlum mandasmita-amṛtam tūki ninnīṭilum antaraṅgam kūriruṭṭil

God resides in our heart yet we are not content. Even though God smiles blissfully at us, our heart stays steeped in darkness.

ānanda-sindhuvil nīntān – bhayam nīntām bhavārṇavam tannil ātmāvu tān enn-uṇarān bhayam; dēham tān ennu kāṇān utsāham

We are afraid to swim in the ocean of bliss, but how willingly we swim in the ocean of life and death! We are afraid to awaken to the knowledge that 'I am the Atman', but how enthusiastic we are to identify ourselves as the body.

utpanna-vastukkaḷ ellām – alpa kālam nila ninnu māyum utpanna-dēhavum astamikkum munpē nityata sākṣāt-karikkū

All that is created exists only for a while and then ceases to be; our body that is created also comes to an end. Let us realize the truth before our death.

kaṇṇum karaḷum kavarum – kāzhca kaṇḍu kaṇḍ-āyuss-oṭuṅgum kaṇṇāyat-onn-uṇḍ-atuḷḷil āṇennu nām kaṇḍāl atin bhaṅgi vēṙe

We have to leave this world even before having our fill of the external world of sights and sounds. We do not realise the beauty of the truth that we can behold with the inner eye.

nīyatāṇ-enn-ōtiṭumbōḷ – svayam tān atāṇ-enn-aṙiññeṅkil śāstraṅgaḷ ellām aviṭ-astamicciṭum sādhyamāy sādhana ellām

When we are told 'you are that', if we realize 'I am that' we will no longer need the scriptures to guide us; all our austerities will have borne fruit.

ennile enne maṙaykkum – 'ende ende' ennuḷḷava ellām ennil ninn-endēt-akaṭṭiyāl śēṣikkum ennile 'ñān' enna bōdham

The selfish thought 'mine' obscures the real Self within 'me'. When we distance the 'mine' from the 'me', only the awareness of 'I' as pure consciousness remains.

tān enn-aham tattva-sāram – cittu mātram enn-uṇma grahikkām allāttat-ellām jaḍam; tan śarīratte citt-ennu kāṇarut-ārum

The essence of the 'I' principle is pure consciousness and everything else is unreal. Let us not be deluded with the thought that our physical body is our true essence.

vēda-vēdāntaṅgaḷ ellām – ōtum tān atāṇ-ennuḷḷa satyam satyatte mithyayāy kāṇmavar ōtiṭum tan dēham tān ennu mūḍham

All the Vedas proclaim that 'I am that'"; the ignorant ones who see the unreal as truth proclaim, 'I am the body'.

uṇḍ-ennu tōnnum itellām – ennō uṇḍāyat-āṇennu kāṇām uṇḍāyat-āṇēlat-illāte āyiṭām uṇḍāyat-all-uṇma nityam

All that we see here now was made sometime in the past, and all that was made will one day cease to be. Truth was never made, the truth has always existed.

kūriruḷ māyum prakāśam – varum sūryan svayam prōjjvalikkē santāpa māṙum sukham varum śāntiyum antarātmā ujjvalikkē

When the sun shines of itself, darkness is dispelled and light dawns. When the inner Self shines effulgent, all our sorrows cease and we become peaceful and content.

dēham janikkum dahikkum – pakṣe dēhi vēṙonnil vasikkum dēhi dēham veṭiññīṭilum tān enna dēhi ādyanta vihīnam

The body is born, dies and is cremated. But the Atman takes on another body; the Atman has no beginning or end though the body ceases to be.

kṣētrattil dēvata pōle – gātra kṣētrattil uṇḍ-ātma-dēvan kai-kūppi nammaḷ tozhumbozhum uḷḷil ā dēvane vēṇam smarikkān

Like God residing in a temple, the divine resides within us; when we fold our hands in prayer, let us pray to the God residing within.

gātra-kṣētrattil viḷaṅgum – mahā kṣētrajñan ārenn-aṙiyū āroṭum ñān ñān enn-ātmāvil cūṇḍunna ñān ārenn-ārāññ-aṙiyū

Let us come to know the deity that shines within the temple of our body. By Self-enquiry, let us know the real nature of 'I', which is pure consciousness.

ōrttāl śarikkuḷḷa kṣētram – gātra kṣētram āṇenn-ōrttiṭēṇam kṣētram pavitramāy kāṇum kaṇakkil nām gātram pavitramāy kāṇām

Let us know that the real temple is our body. We should consider our body to be as pure and sacred as the temple.

tān ār-ennār-orāḷ ōrum – ayāḷ tān aṙiv-āṇenn-aṙiyum tān aṙivāṇ-enn-aṙiññāl anātmāvil tōnnum aham-buddhi māyum

If we ask, 'who am I?' We come to know that our true nature is knowledge. When we know that knowledge is our essence, our sense of 'I' disappears.

nēravum nāḷum kuṙiccu – ātma bōdhōdayam varill-ārkkum ōrō nimiṣavum vēṇam pratīkṣa nām svīkārya-cittarāy tīrū

We do not realize the Self on a particular date and time of our choosing. We must wait expectantly, second by second, with hope and a receptive heart.

nāḷekku māṭṭi vaykkumbōḷ – nīḷe nīḷunnu nāḷekaḷ vīṇḍum nāḷe entākum ennāruṇḍ-aṙiyunnu nīḷumbozh-āyussu naṣṭam

When we put off till tomorrow we only see a long line of tomorrows. Who knows what will happen tomorrow? As we procrastinate and the days go by and our life is in vain.

innil viśvāsam illeṅkil – āru nāḷeye viśvasiccīṭum?
inn-eppozh-eṅkilum ennalla; nēṭēṇḍat- inn-ippozh-enn-uṙaccīṭām

If we have no faith in today, how will we believe in tomorrow? Let's not expect to gain at some future time; let us realize the truth here and now.

anya-lōkattalla daivam – ennāl tan arikattum all-ōrkkū tan uḷḷin uḷḷil tanicc-irikkunn-avar tanne aṙiññāl aṙiññu

God is not in another world, nor is God nearby. Those who are established in the oneness of the Self realise their divine essence.

svantam suhṛttukkaḷ pōlum – ōrttāl tannil ninn-anyamāy nilpū svanta-mātāvum pitāvum puṙatt-eṅkil antaraṅgatt-āṇu daivam

If we reflect, we realize that even our closest friends are separate from us; even our father and mother are outside us, only God resides within.

apparamārtham grahiccāl – pinne ippāril ent-aṙiyēṇḍū?
ippozhē tān atāṇenna vēdōktikaḷ eppozhum cinticc-uṙaykkū

If we know this great truth, then what else is there to know? Let us reflect on the Vedic teaching 'you are that' and be established in knowledge.

anya-matam svīkariccāl – svargam annu tan enn-ōrttu kaṣṭam cintā-vihīnarāy pāññu cellum cilarkk- annatte annam labhikkām

What a pity that people believe they can reach heaven on the same day that they convert to another religion. Some people rush to convert without giving any thought to it. They only want food for the day.

onnilum tellum viśvāsam – avarkk- illennu tanne uṙaykkām tannil viśvāsam illātt-avarkk-eṅgane anya-viśvāsam uṙaykkum?

They say they have no belief in anything. How will they have a firm belief in another faith, when they have no belief in themselves?

tṛṣṇā parityāgam atre – ātma niṣṭhaykk-upayukta mārgam tṛṣṇaye venn-avarkk-ātma-sākṣātkāram puṣpitamāy enn-uṙaykkām

Renunciation of desire is the path to realization of the Atman. When you have conquered desire, realization of the Atman is as natural as the blossoming of a flower.

bāhya-sukha lōlupanmār – tyāga bāliśam ennē ninaykkū tyāga-dhananmār ī nāṭin veḷiccavum bhōga-dhananmār iruṭṭum

Those who indulge in external pleasures say sacrifice is for the weak-minded; those who have renounced desire are the light of this land, those who are immersed in fulfilling their selfish desires are its darkness.

āke iruṇḍor ī lōkam – vīṇḍum kūriruḷ ākkunnu martyan dēhēndriyaṅgaḷkk-aṭimayāy tīrukil ātmāv-aṭaññu mūṭīṭum

Selfishness makes an already dark world even darker. If we are enslaved by our body and sense organs, the Atman remains veiled.

vastuvil vismayam pūṇḍāl – vastu sattayil śraddha taṅgilla sattayil taṅgātta śraddha orēṭattum svasthamāy taṅgilla tanne

When we are carried away by objects of the world, our mind doesn't focus on their essence; a mind that does not focus on the all-pervading divine essence never attains tranquility.

adbhutam kuṙunna kaṇṇil – kāzhca hrasvam enn-ōrkkuvin makkaḷ lōkam ennadbhuta sṛṣṭi ōrttāl vastu kāzhca ellām aprasaktam

Children, remember that all the wonders that you see are short lived. When you see the divine essence of this most wondrous creation, external sights become irrelevent.

vismayiccīṭēṇḍa ārum – sṛṣṭi saundaryam anyūnam atre ellām vilakṣaṇam ākkum manassinde vibhrāntam ākum ākrāntam

We can only be wonderstruck at the beauty of creation; it is greed that deludes us into seeing ugliness everywhere.

martya-janmam kai-variccu – pakṣē martya-dharmam vismariccu vāṭi kozhiyum ila pōle jīvitam nēṭiyiṭṭ-entāṇu puṇyam?

If we have gained a human birth but have forgotten human dharma, what is the use of living? Finally, we will drop fall away like a dry leaf without having gained any merit.

illāttat-uḷḷatāy tōnnum – uḷḷil uḷḷat-illāttatāy tōnnum uḷḷ-uṇarnn-ōrukil uḷḷat-illāttat-enn- uḷḷa tōnnal tēññu māyum

We think what is not there actually exists, while what actually exists is not there. When our inner self awakens, only the thought of oneness remains. Unreal real?

āzhiyil kāl tenni vīzhum – sūryan āzhnnatil līnam ākāte nīnti kar-ēṙunnu pūrvādri-sānuvil vīṇḍum navōnmēṣamōṭe

The sun that falls into the ocean does not sink and merge into its waters. It swims across to the other shore and rises with renewed enthusiasm.

mṛtyu-samudrattil vīzhum – jīvan āzhnnatil līnam ākāte pontunnu maṭṭoru dēhattil pinneyum antyam uṭalinnu mātram

The jivan that falls into the ocean of death does not sink and merge into its waters; it surfaces in another body, only the body comes to an end.

ceyyunnu tān enna bhāvam – viṭṭu ceyyumbōzhē ceytat-ākū ceyyunnu tān ennu cinticcu ceyyukil neyyunnu bandhanam tānē

Actions performed without the 'I'-notion lead to freedom; actions performed with the doership notion further entangle us.

cintakaḷ kṛtticcu nōkku – atil minnunnat-ētennu kāṇū tan gatikk-āśrayam ākunnat-ārjikka anyam ellām

Initially we believe the sense organs are our friends. But later on they turn out to be our enemies and destroy all the good within us.

meyyum manassum orupōl – daiva kāryārtham-āy calikkumbōḷ payyavē tan mey maṙannu mahēśvara tanmaya-bhāvam bhavikkum

When our body and mind act together for the good, slowly we forget that we are the body; we realize we are one with God.

bhaktikk-orūnam varāte – jñāna vijñānam ārjicciṭēṇam bhakti ennāl satya-niṣṭhaykku nalkunna śraddha ennartham grahikkām

Spiritual knowledge does not lessen our devotion; devotion is perfect awareness of the truth.

ānandam ātma-svabhāvam – eṅgum ākulam dēha-svabhāvam mōha-nirmuktiyum bhōga-nivṛttiyum śōka-nivṛttikk-upāyam

The nature of the Atman is bliss; anxiety is the nature of the mind. The only way to put an end to sorrow is to break free from desire and delusion.

indriyam ōrōnnāy melle – nammaḷkk-uḷḷ-aṭakkān kazhiyumbōḷ
kāzhcayum kēzhviyum sparśam maṇam ghrāṇam okke atātil layikkum

When we slowly subdue the indriyas, one by one the senses of sight, sound, touch, smell and taste return to their source.

śēṣikkum indriyam mātram – eṅkil indriya-nāśam bhavikkum indriya-abhāvattil kūriruḷ vartikkill-ātma-sūryan

Then only the sense organs remain, and desire for sense objects is totally destroyed; the sun of self-knowledge shines forth and dispels all darkness.

mārdavam hṛttinnu vēṇam – sadā mādhuryam vākinnu vēṇam mārga-nirdēśaṅgaḷ kāt-ōrkkaṇam, manam mōha nirmuktam ākēṇam

Let our heart remain tender and our words sweet; let us listen attentively to the directions on how to move forward on the path, let our mind become free of all delusion.

nallatē cinticciṭāvū – makkaḷ nallatē anyarkk-ēkāvū uḷḷile cintayum bāhya-karmaṅgaḷum nallat-āyāl uḷḷ-uṇarum

Children, you must think only good thoughts, and offer only good to others. When your thoughts and actions are pure, the Self awakens.

vāsanta rāmaṇikatvam – cittam bāhyamāy cañcalippikkum
tyāgam tapam dīrgha-vairāgya sadguṇam cētass-acañcalam ākkum

The lovely spring may entice our mind; renunciation, austerities, dispassion and goodness bring a firm resolve in our mind.

uḷḷil vivēkam udiccāl – ṛtu bhēdattāl uḷḷ-ulayilla ellām bhagavat-prasādamāy kāṇkilum uḷḷam ulaññ-āṭukilla

When discernment dawns within, the seasons can no longer shake our resolve; we perceive everything as the gift of God.

ceytāl namukk-entu kiṭṭum – enna cinta āṇentilum munnil ceyyunnatil śraddha taṅgilla;
kiṭṭunna dravyattil āṇinnu kaṇṇu!

As we perform each action, our foremost thought is about the benefit we will receive from it. Our mind is inattentive to the action and focused on the gains.

uṇṇān uṭukkān illāte –
cuṭu kannīru vīzhunna maṇṇil tiṇṇam taṭukkuvān ākātta śāpatte tinmakaḷkk-āyussill-uḷkkaḷam ullasicc- uṇma darśicc-uṇma ākum

When we use this life to perform good deeds, all negativities fall away. We will be joyous and become one with the truth.

nanmayil nañcu kalartti – eṅgum tinma viṭaykkāt-irikkū eḷḷil uḷḷeṇṇa pōl uḷḷil uḷḷuṇma nām taḷḷāte koḷḷān śramikkū

Let us not sow the seeds of evil in the guise of goodness. Truth is within us, like oil within the sesame seed. Let us not reject this truth but endeavour to experience it.

uḷḷāl uṇarnnavar āyāl – svayam ellā vipattum ozhiyum uḷḷam duṣippicc-amarttum arādiye vellāteill-ātma-lābham

When we awaken to our own true Self, danger ceases to be. We cannot realize the Self without conquering the enemy that subjugates and pollutes our mind!

nannē manassilāy ennu – manam connāl manassil āyilla onnum manassil ākill-eṅkilum sadā tenni maṭṭonnilēykk-ōṭum

If our mind says, 'I have understood the truth clearly,' it has not understood it at all. The mind slips away and runs after worldly objects and experiences.

uṇḍō manass-enna cōdyam – vannāl illenn-oruttaram kiṭṭum uṇḍenna cintayāl ārāyukil manam tellum vazhaṅgilla ārkkum

If we do self-inquiry into the nature of the mind, it becomes clear that the mind does not exist. If we acknowledge the existence of the mind, we will never be able to subdue it.

illāttat-uṇḍennu tōnnān – manam vallāte prēraṇa ēkum taṅgillor-ēṭattu kāṭṭattu pañña pōl aṅg-iṅgu pāri paṙakkum

Flying around like a wisp of cotton in the wind, our mind tries to make us believe that the transient is the eternal reality.

śikṣaṇam kiṭṭiyāl pakṣē – diśa teṭṭāte pōy enn-irikkām śikṣaṇattinn-onn-irunneṅkilāy ceṭṭ- irunnāl atin pēru buddhi

A disciplined mind may travel without losing its direction. When the mind allows itself to be disciplined even for a little while, it becomes the intellect.

kaṇṇima cimmiyāl ōṭān – taram kāttirunnīṭum manassu kākkunnat-āre āṇāreyum innōḷam kēvalam vañcicca śīlam

The mind waits to escape at the blink of an eye. It always betrays the one who stands guard over it.

dēśāṭana-pakṣikaḷkkum – kṛtya śīla-guṇaṅgaḷuṇḍākām dēśam maṙakkāte āvartticc-ettunna śīlam avarkk-uṇḍu kṛtyam

Even migrant birds have set behavior patterns. They return to the same location year after year, never forgetting their migratory routes pōyāl tirike vannīṭān – pakṣe mōham manassin illētum santata-sañcāri ennāl diśā-bōdham entennu toṭṭu tīṇḍilla

Our mind does not desire to return home. The mind is our constant companion but it has no sense of direction and no aptitude for the goal.

ōṭunnu vēgattil ārum – nērē ōrkkārill-eṅgōṭṭ-enn-ārum pōkēṇḍa lakṣyam maṙannavar eṅkilum vēgata pōr-enna tōnnal

We run without knowing where to go. We have forgotten our destination, still we feel we do not run fast enough.

munnōṭṭu pōnnennu tōnnum – dūram pinnōṭṭu tāṇḍunnu vīṇḍum ann-annu nām ceyyum nanmayāl allāte munnōṭṭu nīṅgill-orāḷum

We feel we are moving forward but in fact we are moving further backwards. Performing good deeds is the only way to move forward.

nanmakaḷ kai-varikkānum – pinne tinmakaḷ kai-ozhiyānum tanmanam mēnmēl vivēkam ārjikkaṇam nanmayē kāṇū nām eṅgum

To free our heart of negativities and attain goodness, our mind should be discerning. We will see only goodness everywhere.

kāmatte prēmamāy kaṇḍāl – prēmam kāmamāy kāṇum nirartham kāmavum prēmavum tammil dhruva-antaram kāṇmōrkku prēmam pavitram

If desire is mistaken for love, true love becomes meaningless. Love becomes pure when we realise that love and desire are poles apart.

ātmīya-bōdha-prakāśam – lōkam svātmī-karippatin-āyi ātmāv-uzhiññavar ākuvin makkaḷē ātma-avabōdhattilūṭe

Children, gain insight into the nature of your own Self. Give your life for the world, that the effulgent light of the Self may shine within everyone.

duḥkhaṅgaḷentum sahikkān – balam hṛttin upalabdham ākum saprēmam ātmārpaṇam ceytu sadgurōr- ājñakk-adhīnam carikkū

When we offer ourselves with love to the sadguru and walk the path he instructs, we become strong enough to bear any sorrow.

nēṭum birudaṅgaḷ ētum – namme nām ākki māṭṭilla nūnam ñān enne cūṣaṇōpādhi ākkīṭunnu ñān enna bhāvattilūṭe

All the certificates that we earn do not make us true to ourselves. We use them to strengthen our ego and to deceive ourselves.

yātonnu kāṇunnu nammaḷ – kāṇmat- ētonnum ennil ninn-anyam kāṇmat-ētonnum tān alleṅkil pinne ī kāṇmatin entāṇ-orartham?

If all that we see is separate from us, what is the meaning of our life? Unless we see everything as our own Self, we have not fulfilled this human birth.

dēhavum dṛśyam ākunnu – dṛśyam ētum anityam ākunnu draṣṭāvām enne śarīram enn- ōrkkumbōḷ kaṣṭam! ñān dṛśyam ākunnu

The body is an object of perception and all perceptions are impermanent. What a pity when the see-er mistakes himself to be the seen, the mere physical body.

onnillēl onnum illallo – ellām onninōṭ-ottu varttikkum onninōṭ-ottu ninnīṭunna pūjyaṅgaḷkk- onnin-onnēṙunnu mūlyam

Zeros have value only when preceded by the number '1'. The value increases in proportion to the zeros that stand beside the '1'. Without a one, a zero has no value.

entum tapass-ākki māṭṭām – ōrō cintayum indhanam ākkām agni-sphuṭam ceyta hṛttil nirantaram satya-anubhūti sphurikkum

Let each action become an act of austerity to attain realization. Let each thought kindle the purifying fire within. A heart thus purified constantly experiences the blissful truth.

BHAGVĀN SUYĪ KAR (KASHMIRI)

bhagvān suyī kar dayā
se ros chu kus sōn yety

O Lord, please show us mercy. Other than You, who is here to look after us?

zagtas khāran vōl suyī
zagatas vālan vōl suyī

You are the creator and the destroyer of the world.

syazar karan vōl suyī
se ros chū kus sōn yety

Problems are solved by You alone . Other than You, who is here for us?

maēj ty suyī mōl ty suyī

We don't know anything. Without our love for You, gasav hait gassav kot

se ros chū kus sōn yety

What would become of us? Other than You, who is here for us?

bhagvān suyī kar dayā

O Lord, please show us mercy.

JOGOTO NĀTHO PROBHŪ (ODIA)

jogoto nātho probhū jogonnātho hē jogoto nātho probhū jogonnātho

O, Lord of the universe Lord Jagannath

potito pābono hori e bhoboro debe tāri opoloko coko ākhi ḍāku thānti bāho ṭeki

O Saviour of the downtrodden! Please save us from this samsara. Your unblinking round eyes and raised arms are calling Your devotees othorē olopo hoso doyā joro joro mukho sobū soṅkoṭū phiṭāibē bāṭo he

Your compassionate face with that beautiful smile will redeem us from all difficulties

deuḷe no lāge mono chāḍi rotno siṃhāsono

You are not happy sitting on Your gorgeous jewelled throne inside the temple

rucenā chopono bhōgo dhūpo dīpo bhōgo rāgo

Nor are You eager to partake of delicious prasad or accept other pooja rituals bhokotoro snehā dhāre ḍāko subhē bāre bāre āso sāī koribā misi jāto he

You are moved by the love of Your devotees who call out " come O Lord, let us together celebrate Your festival" (the famous 'Rath Yatra' - chariot festival of Orissa in celebration of Lord Vishnu Jagannath)

boḍo deulū bāhāri bhokoto bhiḍā re gherī dese dese nogorore bulibe āji ṭhākure

Beautifully decorated chariots are ready and waiting with crowds of devotees. Today the Lord will step out and come to us nijo rocilā saṃsāre ṭoṇā hebe māyā ḍore sojo bājo helāṇi tini rotho re

As we pull Your chariot with the ropes of maya that You have created Yourself, do visit the lands of Your creation and bless us

OM DEVI MA (FRENCH)

chant du silence

om devi ma en ta divine présence
o toi amma j'entends le chant du silence Om Devi Ma, in Your divine presence oh Amma I hear the sound of silence la création résonne de ton chant sacré et qu'en chaque son, je puisse t'adorer

You sacred chant pervade the whole creation and may in every sound I adore You devi ma, om devi ma

om devi ma tu m'as donné naissance
o toi amma qu'en tout je perçoive l'essence Om Devi Ma, You gave birth to me Oh Amma may I feel Your presence in everything et que l'accord de vie de mon instrument réponde et vibre à l'appel de ton Chant and may the music of my life vibrate and answer Your call om devi ma mystère de l'existence

o toi amma emplis ma vie de ton sens Om Devi Ma, great mystery make my life meaningfull en mes veines coule le flot de ta mélodie que je me fonde en ton harmonie

Your melody flows in my veins may I merge in Your harmony

‘MAṙA’ NĀLUM VĀZHTTUM (MALAYALAM)

‘maṙa’ nālum

The four Vedas

‘maṙa’ nālum vāzhttum
mahēśvariyē manatārāl-arcana ceytiṭunnu

With all my heart, I worship Mahēśvari - the Great Goddess, whom the four Vedas praise.

māyāmayi ākum māriyammē manujanmār madamālil muṅgiyammē

O Māriyamma, weaver of the Great Illusion, humanity drowns in the depths of pride.

kālamāyō... ivaruṭe... mālakaṭṭān

Is it not yet time to remove their afflictions?

śrī mahālakṣmiyāy śaktiyāyum

O Consciousness behind the Cosmos, shower Your inspiration upon me.

pālayamām... śakti... pālayamām!

Protect me, O Śakti, please protect me!

tvalpāda paṅkajam cēruvānāy alpa buddhikaḷe yār nayikkum

That they may reach Your lotus feet, who else can guide those of feeble mind?

tell-aliv-ammayezhāykil – mannil allal muzhuttu tulayum ellām

Without a drop of Your compassion, Mother, all on earth will perish in overwhelming grief.

śaraṇam-ēkū... śakti... śaraṇamēkū!

Refuge, O Śakti, grant refuge!

vāṇi girija ramayivarāl- āviriñcādikaḷe nayippū

As Vāṇī, Girijā, and Ramā, You guide Brahmā and all the gods.

vārāhi vaiṣṇaviyum śivayum vīradaityāriye nin svarūpam

Vārāhī, Vaiṣṇavī, and Śivā are all Your own forms, O valiant foe of all demons!

You clear the tangled jungle of rebirth, and grant liberation, O Bhuvanēśvari, ocean of compassion.

kālamāyō... ivaruṭe... mālakaṭṭān

Is it not yet time to remove their afflictions?

padayugaḷam... kāṭṭi prabha coriyū

Reveal Your sacred feet and shower Your divine radiance upon me.

¡HAYA PAZ! (AYA HE SARA) (SPANISH)

¡haya paz! ¡haya amor para dar!
¡hemos nacido para amar!

este mantra vive en los corazones.
vamos todos juntos a cantar.

om lokāḥ samastāḥ sukhino bhavantu

¡hemos nacido para amar!

dame fe para sentirte madre, guíame al cruzar el mar

nada te turbe hijo, ¡dios siempre está contigo!
vamos todos juntos a cantar...

om lokāḥ samastāḥ sukhino bhavantu

a pesar de que la vida es dura y ya no puedes más

siente el dolor del otro, abre tu corazón;
tiende tu mano para amar...

om lokāḥ samastāḥ sukhino bhavantu

haciendo seva aprenderás amor da luz a los demás.

trata de dar felicidad,
a toda la humanidad;
tiende tu mano para amar.

om lokāḥ samastāḥ sukhino bhavantu

OH MI SEÑOR VEN A MI (SPANISH)

(anantamām ī lōkattil)

ananta mami

I bow to the Infinite One.

oh mi señor ven a mi,
para consolarme, ven a mí.
tan solo soy un átomo,
en toda tu creación.

O my Lord, come to me; to console my heart, come to me. I am but a tiny atom in all Your creation.

ven a mí hoy señor,
ven a mi dios del amor.
tu, rey del universo,
ven a mi, cura mi dolor.

Come to me this day, O Lord; come to me, O God of Love. You, King of the universe, come and heal my pain.

muéstrame el camino divino, déjame estar cerca de ti.
no me permitas ser arrogante, creador de este mundo.

Show me the divine path; let me remain ever close to You. O Creator of this world, permit me never to be arrogant.

oh tu quien vives en mi corazón, enséñame a sentir tu amor.
déjame cantar con devoción, revélate ante mi, señor.

O You who dwell within my heart, teach me how to feel Your love. Let me sing with true devotion; reveal Yourself to me, O Lord.

MADRE DIVINA (MA JAGADAMBE) (SPANISH)

ma jagadambe
Spanish

madre divina dame tu darshan alegra mi corazón
si tu gracia está conmigo yo llegaré a tu lado Mother bless me with a vision of Your divine form. Bring happiness to my heart. Only by Your grace I'll reach You.

madre dame tu amor
dame tu devoción
protégeme con tu luz
llena mi corazón
Mother bless me with devotion, bless me with pure love. Protect me with Your light, fill my heart.

una pequeña visión de ti sería todo para mí
sin ti madre no puedo vivir sin ti me voy a morir
Without Your sweet form beside me life would have no meaning. What my heart is longing for is to merge in You.

madre sin tu divina presencia la vida es solo ausencia lo que quiero de corazón es fundirme en ti
Without Your sweet form beside me, life would have no meaning. What my heart is longing for is to merge in You.

madre tú eres mi refugio tu amor es todo para mí contigo anhelo estar
vivir siempre en ti.
You are the essence of my life, You are my true love. Always let me love and serve, is all I ask of You.

CANTAMOS TU GLORIA (HAIL TO YOUR GLORY) (SPANISH)

hail to your glory

Spanish

cantamos tu gloria mi rey, mi señor tu vida es la historia, nos llena de amor

Hail to Your glory my Lord and my king ,Your life is a story for all hearts to sing tu nombre me cuida,

nada me dañará

Your name will protect me I'll come to no harm

canta ram jay jay ram
jay jay ram sita ram

Your name will protect me I'll come to no harm

te he estado buscando toda mi vida.
tu nombre es refugio, tu nombre es la paz

As I look for shelter, it's never too far Your Name is my refuge Your Name gives me calm me he sentido solo ahora encuentro amor tu nombre es plegaria, tu nombre es amar

I have felt so lonely but now I have found love You name is my prayer, Your name is love ¿cuál es el camino que debo tomar?

tu nombre es mi guía, tu nombre es mi luz

As I chose my way at the crossroads at night Your name gives direction Your name is my light

BROTA LA FUENTE (KHUSHIYON KI BAHAR) (SPANISH)

khusiyōm kī bahār

Spanish

sarve bhavantu sukhinah sarve santu niramayah
sarve bhadrani pasyantu
ma kaschid dukha bhavet

May all beings be happy and without sorrows. May all see only the good that is in everything.

brota la fuente de alegría todo el mundo se llena de paz mi dios líbranos de los deseos y podremos avanzar hacia ti.

May the source of joy manifest. May the whole world be filled with peace. May God free us of desire, so we can come closer to You.

que todo el mundo sea feliz que veamos en todo a lo divino brilla en el alma la luz del amor que todos vivan en armonía

Let everyone be happy. Let divine light be seen in all. Let love shine in all our hearts may we all live in harmony repitamos el mantra

para que sea
feliz todo el mundo

Let's all chant this prayer for the happiness of all beings in the world.

lōkaḥ samastāḥ sukhinō bhavantu ōṃ lōkaḥ samastāḥ sukhinō bhavantu

May all the beings in all the the worlds be happy and prosperous

O AMOR PURO (NIRMALA SNEHAME) (SPANISH)

oh amor puro,
qué vale esta vida,
sin conocerte jamás,

fuente de gozo,
qué vale esta vida,
sin conocerte jamás?
oh amma sin conocerte jamás?

amor supremo, qué vale esta vida,
sin conocerte jamás,

si no contemplo,
tu cuerpo divino
dime qué debo hacer...
oh amma dime qué debo hacer

oh amor puro,
qué vale esta vida,
sin conocerte jamás,

fuente de gozo,
qué vale esta vida,
sin conocerte jamás?
oh amma sin conocerte jamás?

oh ser supremo,
libera esta mente,
todo tú eres en mí

eres el centro
de los corazones ¿cuándo tendré tu visión?
oh amma ¿cuándo tendré tu visión?

oh amor puro,
qué vale esta vida,

sin conocerte jamás,

fuente de gozo,
qué vale esta vida,
sin conocerte jamás?
oh amma sin conocerte jamás?

TODO EL MUNDO (EVERYONE IN THE WORLD) (SPANISH)

everyone in the world

Spanish

todo el mundo debería
dormir sin temor.
al menos una vez,
dormir sin temor.

Everyone in the world should sleep without fear, at least for one night ,sleep without fear.

todo el mundo debería
saciar su hambre
al menos un día,
saciar su hambre

Everyone in the world should eat to their fill, at least for one day, eat to their fill.

debería haber un día sin violencia, sin nadie herido, sin nadie dañado.

There should be one day when there is no violence, no one is injured, no one is harmed.

todo el mundo debería
servir a los pobres
al menos un día,
servir con amor.

All people young and old should serve the poor and needy, at least for one day serve selflessly.

es mi rezo es mi sueño
el amor es el camino,
todo es amor.

This is my dream...This is my prayer. Love is the answer, love is the way. Love is the answer, love is the way.

MI MENTE ES (NIN ŌRMAKAḶ) (SPANISH)

nin ormakal matram-
Spanish

mi mente es siempre parte de ti oh madre, te busco dentro de mí ¿madre, por qué te olvidas de mí, soy prisionero...perdido sin ti?

buscaba en el cielo, buscaba en la tierra en mares profundos, y nunca te vi nacer y morir, volver a vivir cuerpo tras cuerpo llorando por ti

¿por qué no me miras con tus ojos bellos llenos de gracia y de compasión?
¿por qué tu sonrisa encantadora, ya no brilla nunca, como estrella?

ESTA VIDA DURA SOLO UN DÍA (SPANISH)

(Nalenchu Nalaikyu)

nālañcu nāleykku
Later, and tomorrow...

esta vida dura solo un día, ¿pobre hombre hacia donde irás?
This life endures for but a day; O poor soul, where will you go?

en este mundo todo se irá, tarde o temprano se marchará
In this world, all things will pass; sooner or later, they shall depart.

comienza un deseo, otro vendrá la mente es el viento
de aquí para allá
One desire arises, and another follows. The mind is a restless wind, blowing to and fro.

todos tus seres queridos irán un día la muerte se los llevará
All your beloved ones shall depart; one day death will carry them away.

aquí nos espera... divina mamá duérmete niño, no sufras más.
Here the Divine Mother awaits us... Sleep, little child, suffer no more.

en su regazo te va a cantar,
duérmete niño, no sufras más.
In Her sacred lap, She will sing to you; sleep, little child, suffer no more.

DÓNDE PUEDO IR (WHERE CAN I GO) (SPANISH)

where can i go?
Spanish

si aquí no se comprenden mis lágrimas, dónde puedo ir, dónde puedo ir a llorar?
If this is not a place where tears are understood, where can I go, where can I go to cry?

si aquí mi espíritu no puede volar, dónde puedo ir, dónde puedo ir a volar?
If this is not a place where my spirit can take wing, where can I go, where can I go to fly?

si aquí no puedo preguntar, dónde puedo ir, dónde puedo ir a buscar?
If this is not a place where my questions can be asked where can I go, where can I go to seek?

si aquí no se escuchan mis sentimientos, dónde puedo ir, dónde puedo ir a hablar?
If this is not a place where my feelings can be heard where can I go, where can I go to speak?

si aquí no me aceptas tal como soy,
dónde puedo ir, dónde puedo ir para ser yo?
If this is not a place you'll accept me as I am where can I go, where can I go to be?

dónde puedo crecer y aprender?
dónde puedo ser solo yo?
Where can I learn and grow? Where can I just be me? Amma, where can I just be me?

O DIOSA PRECIOSA - ĪŚVARĪ JAGADĪŚVARĪ (SPANISH)

ishwari jagadishwari

O Supreme Goddess, Ruler of the Universe.

o diosa preciosa
que nos das tu gracia
haznos libres de sufrir
quítanos el sufrimiento

O precious Goddess, who bestows upon us Your grace, set us free from all anguish; take away our suffering.

los placeres de la vida luego traen el dolor ¿debo sufrir como las aves atraídas por la luz?

The pleasures of this life soon turn to pain. Must I suffer like the moth, drawn blindly to the flame?

no dejes que me desvíe
del camino hacia ti
madre tú lo resuelves todo
quítanos el sufrimiento

Do not let me stray from the path that leads to You. O Mother, You who resolve all things, take away our suffering.

lo que hoy se puede ver mañana no estará allí estamos ciegos a lo real solo queda la verdad

What is visible today, by tomorrow fades away. We are blind to what is Real; only Truth itself will stay.

yo te pido con humildad que me enseñes la verdad
o diosa preciosa
yo me inclino ante ti.

With all humility, I ask of You to teach me what is True. O precious Goddess, in devotion, I bow before You.

AL PENSAR, AL HABLAR (SPANISH)

(Manasā Vācā Karmaṇā)

manasā vāchā karmaṇā nirantaram ninne smarikkunnu con la mente, las palabras y las acciones te recuerdo sin cesar.

madre, dame un poco de paz
o me volveré loco.

vayya yenn ammē sahiyātāyi vēnda yīvidha jīvitam
estoy cansado madre, es insoportable.
no quiero una vida así.

nin parīkṣaṇam tāngān a̲t̲iyanu āvatillammē āvatilla no puedo soportar tus pruebas.
madre, ¡no puedo soportarlo!

pāvam ñān oru tuṇayattōn ammayallāt- enikkyārumilla soy un mísero indigente.
sólo te tengo a ti, madre.

parīkṣaṇam nirtti yennammē - por favor, deja de probarme, extiende tu mano y elévame.

ERES LA CREACIÓN (SṚṢṬIYUM) (SPANISH)

sṛṣṭiyum nīye
Spanish

eres la creación
eres la creadora
eres la fuente de vida
eres la verdad
You are creation, You are creator, You are the breath of life in all nature.

tú has creado este universo eres el principio eres el fin Devi, this universe begins and ends in You. Yours is the power supreme, the highest truth.

eres la esencia
de lo que se ve
eres el alma
lo eres todo
You are within my heart, You are in all names and forms. You are the rhythm of life, the ocean of bliss.

devi... devi... madre divina Devi, Devi, Mother divine...

ĪŚWAR TUMHĪ - DANOS TU COMPASIÓN (SPANISH)

ishwar tumhi-

Spanish

danos tu compasión señor,
no tengo más que tu amor.

O Lord, please show us mercy. I don't have anything but Your love todo el mundo sale de ti, todo el mundo vuelve a ti.

vida sin ti es solo dolor,
no tengo más que tu amor.

The universe comes from You, the universe returns to You. Living without You is living in pain, I don't have anything but Your love.

madre, padre eres tu,
amigo, familia eres tú.
eres mi único refugio,
no tengo más que tu amor.

You are our Mother, Father, benefactor and friend. You are our only refuge. I don't have anything but Your love.

oh señor, nada puedo saber, sin tu gracia, no puedo vivir.
nunca me dejes solo señor,
no tengo más que tu amor.

We don't know anything. Without Your grace I can't live. Never leave me alone. I don't have anything but Your love.

EVERYONE IN THE WORLD (PORTUGUESE)

todos no mundo (everyone in the world)

todo mundo deveria
dormir sem temor
ao menos um dia,
dormir sem temor.

todo mundo deveria
saciar sua fome
ao menos um dia,
saciar sua fome.

deveria ao menos ter
um dia sem violência
sem ninguém ferido,
sem ninguém sofrendo.

todo mundo deveria
servir todos os pobres
ao menos um dia,
servir com amor.

essa é minha prece,
esse é meu sonho.
o amor é o caminho,
tudo é amor.

HAIL TO YOUR GLORY (PORTUGUESE)

cantamos tua glória, senhor e meu rei tua vida é uma história que aqui cantarei teu nome me guia, não vou sofrer mais canto ram, jay jay ram, jay, jay ram, sita ram procuro abrigo e vou encontrar teu nome é o refúgio que vem me acalmar lembro ram, jay jay ram, jay, jay ram, sita ram se tenho alegria e dor nessa vida teu nome alivia, meu ser tão sofrido digo ram, jay jay ram, jay, jay ram, sita ram na noite escura, não sei onde ir teu nome me guia, eu não vou cair ouço ram, jay jay ram, jay, jay ram, sita ram

PARIŚUDDHA SNĒHATTIN PARYĀYAM (MALAYALAM)

pariśuddha snēhattin paryāyam

The very name for purest love.

pariśuddha snēhattin paryāyam āṇu nī parmārtha-tattvattin poruḷ āṇu nī

You are the synonym of Pure Love; You are the essence of the Ultimate Truth.

paritapta hṛdayattinṯ- aṇayattēykk-ozhukunna paripūrṇa śānti nirjhari āṇu nī ammē!

O Mother! You are the river of perfect peace, flowing to the shores of every suffering heart.

āśakaḷkk-anvaham āśāphalam nalki āśvasippikkyum udāraśīlē

O benevolent One, You grant the fulfillment of each wish, and bring us solace.

āśrita-cētassil jñānāmṛtam tūki ātmāv-uṇarttunna snēha- dhāmam – nī en ātmāvil ānanda-śānti-dhāmam

You are the haven of love, awakening the Self by pouring wisdom's nectar on surrendered hearts; in my soul, You are the abode of bliss and peace.

sāhōdaryatvam parattunnu nī mannil svātantrya-gītam muzhakkunnu nī

You spread true kinship, on this earth, You make the song of freedom resound.

sāyujya-lōkam gamikkuvān ñaṅgalkku - snēha sad-dīpam teḷiykkunnu nī - divya sārōpadēśam pozhiykkunnu nī

To guide us to the realm of final union, You light the holy lamp of love and shower us with divine wisdom.

ēkunnitā nin padāmbhōruhattil en ēkānta svānta-sarōruhatte

Here I offer, at Your lotus feet, the solitary lotus of my heart.

ēkānta bhaktiyum jñānavum yōgavum ēkībhavicc-ātma-lābham varān

May intense devotion, wisdom, and yoga unite, culminating in the realisation of the Self....

eṅgum ēkātma- saundarya-śakti cūzhān ...

...make me see the beauty and power of the one Self everywhere.

TĒNINUM INIDĀY (TAMIL)

tēninum initāy inittiḍum nāmam kaniyinum initāy suvaittiḍum nāmam

The mantra 'Namah Shivaya' is sweeter than honey. The mantra 'Namah Shivaya' is tastier than fruit.

pārinil paritavippōrkkoru nāmam sērntiḍa sunaiyāy surantiḍum nāmam

The mantra gives refuge to those suffering in worldliness. It bestows prosperity to those who chant it constantly.

śivāya... śivāya... śivāya... namaḥ śivāya

Prostrations to Lord Shiva!

paṙṙinām paṙṙiḍum paṙṙaṙ nāmam kaṙṙiḍa kaṙṙiḍa kasaḍaṙu nāmam

Attachment to this mantra leads to detachment from worldliness. It removes impurities from the hearts of those who learn to chant it with devotion.

kāyam karaindiḍa karai sēr nāmam māyam maṙaindiṭa manam sēr nāmam

It removes the misconception that 'I am the body' and leads us to self realization. The mind should hold on to the mantra 'Namah Shivaya' to get rid of maya and know truth.

tāyena tavippōrkku kaikoḍu nāmam sēyemai sīrmagizh sērttiḍum nāmam

The mantra protects the suffering like a mother protects her child; it brings happiness to us, the children of God.

ūrelām uṙavāga kāṭṭiḍum nāmam uṙavukaḷ kaṇḍilōr uṙaittiḍum nāmam

The mantra gives us the ability to see the whole world as our family. It is the mantra chanted by sages who have renounced everything.

aintezhuttē maṙai nīkkiḍum nāmam aintezhuttāl vazhikāṭṭiḍum nāmam

The five syllable mantra 'Namah Shivaya' removes our ignorance. It shows us the way to gain knowledge of the scriptures.

aintezhuttil ēṙi chintaiyil kōrttāl aintezhuttē enṙum chintaiyāy māṙum

When it is chanted incessantly, it helps to eliminate our thoughts and gain one-pointedness.

NAMAḤ ŚIVĀYA ENḌRURAIKKA (TAMIL)

namaḥ śivāya enḍruṙaikku nāvil naḍanam sērumē namaḥ śivāya enḍruṙaikku nānmaṙaiyum kūḍumē

Lord Shiva resides on the tongue of those who chant the name 'Namah Shivaya'. Such a person gains the knowledge of the Fourvedas.

nalluṙaikaḷ nigazhumē nalluṇarvum ōṅkumē

Their speech is sweet, their mind is full of good thoughts.

iḍarkaḷ nīṅgi ōḍumē
inbam chintai kūḍumē

Obstacles are removed and happiness fills their hearts.

ōṃ namaḥ śivāya (x4)

Prostrations to Lord Shiva!

kaḍinam yāvum māṙumē ñānappozhutum pularumē

In such a mind, the light of knowledge dawns, removing the darkness of ignorance.

maṙaiyin poruḷum teḷiyumē iraiyin aruḷum pozhiyumē

The true meaning of the Vedas are revealed and the grace of God flows.

vinaiyin mutalum namaḥ śivāya vinaiyin poruḷum namaḥ śivāya

Let us chant the name of the Lord who is the doer of action, the one who makes us act!

vinaiyin payanum namaḥ śivāya vinaiykku viḍaiyum namaḥ śivāya

The cause of action as well as the fruit of the action!

AḌANGIḌUM MANAM UNUL (TAMIL)

īśan aḍi pōṭri entai aḍi pōṭri dēśan aḍi pōṭri śivan sēvaḍi pōṭri pōṭri

Let us worship the feet of our Father, Lord Shiva, who is the Lord of the universe.

aḍaṅgiḍum manam unuḷ oḍuṅgiḍum nilai varin kaḍuntavam kai vantiḍum uḍukkaiyum olittiḍa

When worldly thoughts subside and only the thought of the Lord remains, the sound of His drums is heard and the fruits of austerities are attained akaṇḍriḍum alai nilai akam puṙam iyal muṙai viḷaṅgiḍum pugal mozhi viraintanaittu ōtiḍa

When we chant the name without wasting even a moment, the wavering mind becomes steady and duality ceases to exist

kalaṅgiḍum manakkaḷam malam kalai nilai varum pulan iḍum valai nilai akaṭrum un iyal isai

The music of chanting Lord Shivā's name rids the mind of its disturbances and brings peace. It saves us from the binding net of samsara.

otuṅgiḍa nizhal varum oḍuṅgiḍa poruḷ varum

When we try to escape karma, it follows us like a shadow. But when we take refuge at the feet of Lord Shiva, who drank poison.

viḍattai koṇda neñcinan taḍam iḍattaiccērntiḍa

The mind calms down and our karma is removed, leading us to the state of self realization

śambhō śiva śambhō (x4)

Hail to Lord Śiva!

AMMA GEL BANA (TURKISH)

amma gel bana

Turkish 2022

amma gel bana al götür sana
- yetiştir beni āb hayata

Amma come to me and take me to you, help me to attain amrita

amma gel bana al götür sana
- erişt̄ir beni aşk membaya

Amma come to me and take me to You, help me to reach the source of love uykuya dalarken annemiz varır

- söyler ninni sallar yanımda kalır

While going to sleep our Mother comes, she cradles, sings lullabies and stays with me

lakśmī, sarasvatī, kṛṣṇa'ya uyanır
- doğa anaya eğilmekten hoşlanır

I wake up to Lakśmī, Sarasvatī and Kṛṣṇa, and like to bow down to Mother Earth.

teklik idrakıyla yapsam eylemi
- saf bir kalple sevsem bütün alemi

If I could do actions with the sense of oneness, if I could love the whole universe with a pure heart

hasretten döner mi aşkın menzili
- mis koynunda yatsam gül annemin

Would my longing turn to loves' journey? Could I lay in my Mother of roses fragrant lap?

BHĀGYADA LAKṢMI BĀRAMMA (KANNADA)

bhāgyada lakṣmi bāramma nammamma nī

Come O auspicious Mother Lakshmi, come dear Mother of ours !

sau-bhāgyada lakṣmi bāramma nammamma nī

Come O auspicious Mother Lakshmi, come dear Mother of ours !

hejjeya mēle hejjeyan-ikkuta gejje kālgaḷa dhvaniyā tōruta

Keeping one auspicious step after another, with the melodious sound of Your tinkling anklets, sajjana sādhū pūjeya vēḷege majjige yoḷagina beṇṇeyante

Come at the auspicious time of worship by the pious and the sages. As the churning of buttermilk brings forth butter- please arise within me saṅkhye illadā bhāgyava koṭṭu kaṅkaṇa kaiyyā tiruvuta bāre

Bestowing abundant prosperity, come with Your beautiful hands adorned with shining bangles kuṅkumāṅkita paṅkaja-lōcane veṅkaṭa ramaṇana biṅkada rāṇi

Decorated with auspicious red vermillion on Your forehead, come O lotus-eyed one, lovely queen of Vishnu sakkare tuppada kāluve harisi śukra vārada pūjeyē vēḷegē

Be gracious to let flow from Your beautiful feet, rivers of sweet sugar and sacred ghee, at the auspicious worship on Fridays

akkareyuḷḷa aḷagiri raṅgana cokka purandara viṭhalana rāṇi

O beloved of Vishnu, come! O queen of Purandhara Vitthala, come!

GŌPIYĒ CINTINCCU (MALAYALAM)

Mother, tasting a little of Your great divine mood, I want to merge with Krishna.

rādhē rādhē rādhē rādhē

O Radha Devi!

ā rāsa-līlakaḷ ōrttōrttu ñān
ahō kāḷindi tann-alayottu

Recalling the 'Rasa-leelas' (divine dance of Krishna and the Gopis), I become like a wave of the Yamuna river.

ā muraḷīravam ōrttōrttu ñān ahō vṛndāvaniyāy taḷirttu ammē

Mother, remembering these songs of the flute, I become the blooming garden of Vrindavan.

rādhē rādhē rādhē rādhē

O Radha Devi!

O Lord with the complexion of dark clouds, O handsome one! I am the flame of Your love nin vanamālayil kaṇṇīr tuḷasiyāy enneyum cērttu korukkū... kaṇṇā

Please weave me also to Your flower garland as a Tulsi leaf of tears.

HANUMĀN CĀLĪSĀ (HINDI)

hanumān cālīsā

Forty verses dedicated to Lord Hanuman, the epitome of devotion, who serves as the ultimate inspiration for a spiritual aspirant.

śrī guru caraṇa sarōja raja nijamana mukura sudhāri |

Cleansing the mirror of my mind with the dust from the lotus-feet of divine guru, varaṇau raghuvara bimala jaśu jō dāyaka phalacāri ||

I describe the unblemished glory of Lord Rama, which bestows four fruits of righteousness (dharma), wealth (artha), pleasure (kama), and liberation (moksha).

buddhihīna tanujānikai sumirau pavana kumāra |

Humbled realizing that this body lacks wisdom, I pray to Lord Hanuman ...

bala buddhi vidyā dēhu mōhi harahu kalēśa bikāra ||

...to bless me with strength, intelligence and knowledge and cure me of my tendencies and internal conflicts.

jaya hanumāna jñāna guṇa sāgara |
jaya kapīśa tihuṃ lōka ujāgara ||1||

Victory to Hanuman, who is the ocean of wisdom and virtues. Victory to the king of monkeys, who illuminates the three worlds.

rāmadūta atulita baladhāmā |
añjani putra pavanasuta nāmā ||2||

You are the messenger of Rama (to Sita). You are the abode of incomparable power. You are also known by the names of 'Anjani Putrā (son of Anjana) and 'Pavana Sutā (son of wind god).

mahāvīra vikrama bajaraṃgī |
kumati nivāra sumati kē saṃgī ||3||

O Mighty and Valorous One, whose body is as strong as vajra (the precious stone/diamond). Please remove the negativities of my mind, for You are the companion of those with pure heart.

kāṃcana varaṇa virāja suvēśā |
kānana kuṇḍala kuńcita kēśā ||4||

One with golden effulgence, resplendent in Your grand attire. Adoring beautiful earrings and with curly hair.

hātha vajra au dhvajā virājai |
kāṃdhē mūńja janēvū sājai ||5||

Vajrayudha (a special mace made out of the powerful vajra) and flag are shining in Your hand. The sacred thread made of munja grass adorns Your shoulder.

śaṃkara suvana kēsarī nandana |
tēja pratāpa mahā jaga vandana ||6||

O partial incarnation of Lord Shiva, giver of joy to King Kesari. Your great majesty is revered by the whole world.

vidyāvāna guṇī ati cātura |
rāma kāja karivē kō ātura ||7||

All knowledgeable one, the one full of virtues, sharp minded one, You are always eager be of service to Lord Shri Rama.

prabhu caritra sunivē kō rasiyā |
rāma lakhana sītā mana basiyā ||8||

You enjoy listening to Lord Ramās stories and divine plays; Lord Rama, Lakshman and Sita verily reside in your heart.

siyārām siyārām siyārām siyārām jai hanumān !

Call out Sita-Ram, victory to Hanuman

sūkṣma rūpadhari siyahi dikhāvā |
vikaṭa rūpadhari laṃkā jalāvā ||9||

You assumed the smallest of the forms as You visited Mother Sita. Then, assuming a gigantic form, You burnt down the kingdom of Lanka.

bhīma rūpadhari asura saṃhārē |
rāmacandra kē kāja saṁvārē ||10||

Assuming the all-powerful form You slayed the demons. Your efforts facilitated and helped achieve Lord Rama's task.

lāya sañjīvana lakhana jiyāyē |
śrī raghuvīra haraṣi ura lāyē ||11||

You brought the whole Sanjeevini (special herbs to bring life) mountain to save Lakshmanās life. Lord Rama embraced you in joy.

raghupati kīnhī bahuta baḍāyī |
tuma mama priya bharata sama bhāyī ||12||

Lord Rama had high praises for You. He exclaimed, "You are dear to me like my brother Bharata."

sahasra vadana tumharō yaśagāvai |
asa kahi śrīpati kaṇṭha lagāvai ||13||

Lord Rama embraced You saying "may the thousand headed serpent Adishesha sing of Your glory."

sanakādika brahmādi munīśā |
nārada śārada sahita ahīśā ||14||

Sanaka and other sages, Lord Brahma and other gods, Narada, Devi Saraswati and Seshnag...

jama kubēra digapāla jahāṁ tē |
kavi kōvida kahi sakē kahāṁ tē ||15||

...Yama, Kubera, dig-paalakas (protectors of each of the directions), poets and singers; they all fall short of praising you to the fullest of your greatness.

tuma upakāra sugrīvahi kīnhā |
rāma milāya rājapada dīnhā ||16||

You helped Sugreeva (the king of the monkey kingdom – Kishkinda). You made him friends with Rama which gave him his kingship back.

siyārām siyārām siyārām siyārām jai hanumān !

Call out Sita-Ram, victory to Hanuman

tumharō mantra vibhīṣaṇa mānā |
laṃkēśvara bhayē saba jaga jānā ||17||

Vibheeshana humbly heeded to Your advice. The whole world knows of the fact that he became the king of Lanka because of Your advice.

yuga sahasra yōjana para bhānū |
līlyō tāhi madhura phala jānū ||18||

You flew towards the sun, which is thousands of years of yojanas away, mistaking it for a sweet fruit.

prabhu mudrikā mēli mukha māhīṃ |
jaladhi lāṃghi gayē acaraja nāhīṃ ||19||

Carrying in Your mouth the ring that Lord Rama gave You for Mother Seeta, You jumped and flew over the ocean to Lanka. It is of no surprise that You could achieve this feat.

durgama kāja jagata kē jētē |
sugama anugraha tumharē tētē ||20||

Even the impossible tasks in the world become possible because of Your grace.

rāma duārē tuma rakhavārē |
hōta na ājñā binu paisārē ||21||

You are the doorkeeper of Lord Rama's royal court. No one can enter it without Your permission

saba sukha lahai tumhārī śaraṇā |
tuma rakṣaka kāhū kō ḍara nā ||22||

One who takes refuge in You will always have happiness beside them. When You are there to protect us, why fear?

āpana tēja saṃhārō āpai |
tīnōṃ lōka hāṁka tē kāṃpai ||23||

Only You can match Your own might. All the three worlds would tremble in front of Your power and force.

bhūta piśāca nikaṭa nahīṃ āvai |
mahāvīra jaba nāma sunāvai ||24||

Evil forces can't even come to the vicinity when and where the chanting of Your name can be heard, O supremely courageous one!!

siyārām siyārām siyārām siyārām jai hanumān !

Call out Sita-Ram, victory to Hanuman

nāsai rōga harai saba pīrā |
japata nirantara hanumata vīrā ||25||

Diseases will be cured, pain and suffering will be healed, when a devotee constantly repeats the supremely brave Hanuman's name.

saṃkaṭa sē hanumāna chuḍāvai |
mana krama vacana dhyāna jō lāvai ||26||

Hanuman will rescue those who meditate upon him through their thoughts, actions, and words from troubles and tribulations.

saba para rāma tapasvī rājā |
tina kē kāja sakala tuma sājā ||27||

Ruling over all is Rama the tapasvi - the greatest of the ascetics. Through Your devotion to Him You assist in all the tasks taken up by such a great being.

aura manōratha jō kōyi lāvai |
sōyi amita jīvana phala pāvai ||28||

Whoever brings their many desires and wishes to You, they are showered with boundless life as fruit (of their action)

cārōṃ yuga pratāpa tumhārā |
hai prasiddha jagata ujiyārā ||29||

Your splendor proliferates all the four periods of time (yugas); Your fame and greatness illumines the whole world.

sādhu santa kē tuma rakhavārē |
asura nikandana rāma dulārē ||30||

You are the guardian of saints and good-hearted ones. You annihilate the demonic forces. You are most dear to Lord Rama.

aṣṭa siddhi nava nidhi kē dātā |
asa vara dīnha jānakī mātā ||31||

You are the bestower of the 8 siddhis (supernatural powers) and 9 nidhis (divine treasures). Mother Seeta granted You the boon to do so.

rāma rasāyana tumhārē pāsā |
sadā rahō raghupati kē dāsā ||32||

You have the special potion with ingredients for perfect devotion for Lord Rama. May You ever be greatly devoted to Lord Rama.

siyārām siyārām siyārām siyārām jai hanumān !

Call out Sita-Ram, victory to Hanuman

tumharē bhajana rāma kō pāvai |
janma janma kē dukha bisarāvai ||33||

Singing Your glory, ridding ourselves of the pain and suffering of many lives, we can reach Lord Rama himself.

anta kāla raghuvara pura jāyī |
jahāṁ janma hari bhakta kahāyī ||34||

He who sings Your glory at the end of the life attains Lord Ramās abode. For all births he/she will be devoted to Lord Rama.

aura dēvatā citta na dharayī |
hanumata sēyi sarva sukha karayī ||35||

There is not a need to focus the mind on any other form; one will attain all the happiness by just serving Lord Hanuman.

saṃkaṭa haṭai miṭai saba pīrā |
jō sumirai hanumata bala vīrā ||36||

Sorrow and difficulties will be gone and all sufferings will be removed for one who always remembers Lord Hanuman, the mighty and brave One.

jai jai jai hanumāna gōsāyīṃ |
kṛpā karahu gurudēva kī nāyīṃ ||37||

Victory to You, O master of the senses. Show mercy on us like how a satguru (spiritual master) does.

jō śata vāra pāṭha kara kōyī |
chūṭahi bandi mahā sukha hōyī ||38||

One who recites this text hundred (numerous) times, will be freed of all bondages and will find supreme bliss.

jō yaha paḍhai hanumāna cālīsā |
hōya siddhi sākhī gaurīśā ||39||

One who reads and imbibes these verses on Hanuman, will attain spiritual perfection and success. None other than Lord Shiva is the witness to this statement.

tulasīdāsa sadā hari cērā |

kījai nātha hṛdaya maha ḍērā ||40||

Tulasidas (the composer of these verses) will forever be a disciple of Hari (the Divine – Lord Vishnu). O Lord!! Please make my heart Your abode.

pavana tanaya saṃkaṭa haraṇa maṃgala mūrati rūpa |

O son of the wind God, the remover of difficulties, the embodiment of auspiciousness,

rāma lakhana sītā sahita hṛdaya basahu surabhūp ||

Greatest among the gods, please reside in our heart along with Lord Rama, Lakshman and Mother Sita.

siyāvara rāma candra kī jai |

Victory to Lord Rama-Chandra!

pavana suta hanumāna kī jai |

Victory to Hanuman (son of the wind god)!

ō mātā sītā kī jai |

Victory to Mother Sita!

ō bhrātā lakṣmaṇ kī jai |

Victory to brother Lakshmana!

bharat aur śatrughna kī jai |

Victory to Bharata and Shatrughna!

siyāvara rāma candra kī jai |
pavana suta hanumāna kī jai |

I sing to worship Your feet, O Parvati, the supreme Goddess!

kōṭi kōṭi tunbam ōḍi
marayu men unnaruḷ pārvayilē

Your glance will drive away my many sorrows

kaḍaykaṇ pārāyō karuṇai pozhivāyō

Won't You cast a side glance? Won't You shower Your grace?

pāḍal-īśa priya nāyakiyē aḍaykalam aḍaintēn kāttaruḷ

O Goddess, beloved of the Lord, I take refuge in You, protect me!

janani janani janani jagatkāraṇi pūraṇi nāraṇiyē janani janani janani janani janani janani

O Mother You are the Goddess, the creator and sustainer !

BHAJA GŌVINDAṂ BHAJA GŌVINDAṂ (SANSKRIT)

1. bhaja gōvindaṃ bhaja gōvindaṃ gōvindaṃ bhaja mūḍhamatē samprāptē sannihitē kālē nahi nahi rakṣati ḍukṛṅkaraṇē

Call out to the Supreme! Chant the name of the Supreme O foolish one! When you beget the destined time (death), the complicated grammatical study is in now way going to protect you.

2. mūḍha jahīhi dhanāgama-tṛṣṇāṃ kuru sadbuddhiṃ manasi vitṛṣṇām yallabhasē nija-karmōpāttaṃ vittaṃ tēna vinōdaya chittam

O foolish one! Let go of the thirst of amassing materialistic wealth. Exercise wisdom, devoid of passion or obsession, in the mind. Be content with that which is obtained through honest and rightful actions of yours; train your mind to be satisfied with that.

3. nārī stana-bhara nābhī-dēśaṃ dṛṣṭvā mā gā mōhāvēśam ētan māṃsa-vasādi vikāraṃ manasi vichintaya vāraṃ vāram

Do not fall prey to delusion, by getting enticed by the physical appearance of a woman (a person of the opposite gender), seeing the bosom or the navel. These are but only modification of flesh and fat. Keep reminding yourself of this fact time and again.

4. nalinī dala gata jalam atitaralaṃ tadvaj-jīvitam atiśaya chapalam viddhi vyādh-yabhimāna grastaṃ lōkaṃ śōkahataṃ cha samastam

The water on a lotus petal surface has an uncertain existence. Life is similarly unpredictable too. Understand that being caught in the disease of pride and ego, world seems full of sorrow and sufferings.

5. yāvad vittō-pārjana saktaḥ tāvan-nija parivārō raktaḥ paśchāj-jīvati jarjara dēhē vārtāṃ kō-pi na pṛchchhati gēhē

As long as one has the ability to accumulate wealth, the kith and kin would be affectionate towards him/her. Thereafter once the person lives with a weak and burdened body, there will be none to inquire.

6. yāvat pavanō nivasati dēhē tāvat pṛchchhati kuśalaṃ gēhē gatavati vāyau dēhā-pāyē bhāryā bibhyati tasmin kāyē

As long as the air (breath) remains in the body, people will inquire about our welfare. But once it leaves the body at the time of death, even the spouse would fear that lifeless body.

7. bālas-tāvat krīḍā saktaḥ taruṇa-stāvat taruṇī saktaḥ vṛddha-stāvach-chintā saktaḥ paramē brahmaṇi kō-pi na saktaḥ

As a child one is occupied with toys and play; during youth one is obsessed with a partner and passion; old age is spent in worrying about security and life; no one gets the opportunity to fixate on the supreme ever.

8. kā tē kāntā kastē putraḥ saṃsārō-yam atīva vichitraḥ kasya tvaṃ kaḥ kuta āyātaḥ tattvaṃ chintaya tad iha bhrātaḥ

Who is your spouse? Who is your child? "Samsara", our life, the unending cycle of birth and death is indeed strange. Whom do you belong to? Who are you? Where have you come from? You need to contemplate on that supreme reality, O brother!

9. satsaṅgatvē nis-saṅgatvaṃ nis-saṅgatvē nir-mōhatvam nir-mōhatvē niśchala tattvaṃ niśchala tattvē jīvan muktiḥ

Through the right and good company one can develop detachment. From detachment one can overcome delusion. Getting rid of delusion, one can realize the unwavering truth. Realizing that one can attain liberation.

10. vayasi gatē kaḥ kāmavikāraḥ śuṣkē nīrē kaḥ kāsāraḥ kṣīṇē vittē kaḥ parivāraḥ jñātē tattvē kaḥ saṃsāraḥ

Once youthfulness passes what significance is of lust, desire and their variants? Once the water has evaporated or dried up, what (where) is the lake? Once your wealth depreciates, who (where) is the so-called family? Once the supreme truth is realized, what is samsara (the unending cycle of duality)?

11. mā kuru dhana-jana-yauvana-garvaṃ harati nimēṣātkālaḥ sarvam māyāmayamidamakhilaṃ hitvā brahmapadaṃ tvaṃ praviśa viditvā

Do not take pride in your wealth; following and support from people you have; and in your youthfulness and abilities. All these can perish in a fraction of a second. Understanding and disregarding all these that is maya (delusion), realize and reach the ultimate state of the supreme.

12. dina-yāminyau sāyam-prātaḥ śiśira-vasantau punarāyātaḥ kālaḥ krīḍati gachchhat-yāyuḥ tadapi na muñchati āśāvāyuḥ

The pairs of day-night, dusk-dawn, winter-spring keep coming time and again. This is the play/function of time. Life (time) just passes in the process. Even then the gust of desires just don't go away.

13. kā tē kāntā dhana-gata-chintā vātula kiṃ tava nāsti niyantā tri-jagati sajjana saṅgati-rēkā bhavati bhavārṇava taraṇē naukā

Who is your spouse? What is the obsession with wealth about? Doesn't your distracted mind have a guiding force? In all the three worlds "good company (sat-sanga)" alone is the boat that you take you across the ocean of ego and transmigration (samsara).

14. jaṭilō muṇḍī luñchita-kēśaḥ kāṣāyāmbara bahu-kṛta-vēṣaḥ paśyannapi cha na paśyati mūḍhaḥ udara-nimittaṃ bahu-kṛta-vēṣaḥ

With the ascetic hair locks, shaven head with hair pulled out one by one; adorning the ochre robes (of a sanyasi) and showing it off; the foolish one has eyes and still fails to see; all the external show off is just to for the sake of the stomach (to fulfill desires).

15. aṅgaṃ galitaṃ palitaṃ muṇḍaṃ daśana-vihīnaṃ jātaṃ tuṇḍam vṛddhō yāti gṛhītvā daṇḍaṃ tadapi na muñchati āśā-piṇḍam

The body deteriorates, the head turns grey, the mouth is rendered toothless; having grown old, one moves around with the help of a walking stick; but still entangled in the string of desires and not letting go of it.

16. agrē vahniḥ pṛṣṭhē bhānuḥ rātrau chubuka-samarpita-jānuḥ karatala-bhikṣas-tarutala-vāsaḥ tadapi na muñchati āśāpāśaḥ

Fire in the front, sun in the back (setting sun); at night one curls up with the chin touching the knees; with the palms joined to seek alms, residing under a tree; but still entangled in the string of desires and not letting go of it.

17. kurutē gaṅgā sāgara gamanaṃ vrata-paripālanam athavā dānam jñāna vihīnaḥ sarvamatēna bhajati na muktim janma śatēna

One could take up austerities like pilgrimage, taking a dip in Ganga (rivers) and the sea/ocean, may religiously observe customary vows, donations. As per all the traditions and schools of thoughts, when these are performed with lack of understanding and wisdom, it would not lead us to liberation even after numerous births

18. sura-mandira-taru-mūla-nivāsaḥ śayyā bhūtalam ajinam vāsaḥ sarva-parigraha-bhōgatyāgaḥ kasya sukhaṃ na karōti virāgaḥ

One resides in temples (places of austere living); living under a tree with the ground as bed and mere animal skin as clothes; thus, renouncing all the possessions and undertakings. For whom does "dispassion" not give happiness and comfort?

19. yōga-ratō vā bhōga-ratō vā saṅga-ratō vā saṅgavihīnaḥ

yasya brahmaṇi ramatē chittam nandati nandati nandat-yēva

Whether you in high spiritual state or in materialism, whether in company or in solitude; one whose mind revels in "Brahman" (the supreme), ever rejoices, rejoices and rejoices alone.

20. bhagavad gītā kiñchid-adhītā gaṅgā-jala-lava-kaṇikā pītā sakṛdapi yēna murāri samarchā kriyatē tasya yamēna na charchā

One who imbibes the teachings of Bhagavad Gita even a little bit, consumes even a small drop of water from the holy Ganga (Ganges), one who devotes to the divine (Murari) at least once, will have no negotiations to make with the Lord of death - Yama

21. punarapi jananam punarapi maraṇam punarapi jananī jaṭharē śayanam iha saṃsārē bahu-dustārē kṛpayā'pārē pāhi murārē

Yet another birth and yet again death; yet again laying in the mother's womb. This samsara (vicious cycle of birth and death) is difficult to tread. O Lord! Please save me oh Divine! (Murari) – the infinite One.

22. rathyā charpaṭa virachita kanthaḥ puṇyā-puṇya vivarjita panthaḥ yōgī yōga-niyōjita chittaḥ ramatē bālōn-mattavad-ēva

Wearing clothes stitched together from old pieces of cloth (rags), a yogi treads the path that is beyond merits (punya) and demerits (papa). A yogi's mind ever revels in yoga (ultimate union with the supreme), carrying oneself like a child or a madman.

23. kastvaṃ kō'haṃ kutaḥ āyātaḥ kā mē jananī kō mē tātaḥ iti paribhāvaya sarvam asāraṃ viśvaṃ tyaktvā svapna vichāram

Who are you? Who am I? Who is my mother and who is my father? Reflect on the parmenant, casting aside the essenceless world which is like a dream materialized out of our imaginations

24. tvayi mayi chānyatraikō viṣṇuḥ vyarthaṃ kupyasi mayya-sahiṣṇuḥ bhava sama-chittaḥ sarvatra tvaṃ vāñchhasya chirād-yadi viṣṇu-tvam

In You, me and everything, there is only one pervading reality. In vain do you get angered out of impatience. Remain equipoised ever and everywhere if you desire to attain the ultimate state soon.

25. śatrau mitrē putrē bandhau mā kuru yatnaṃ vigraha-sandhau sarvasminn-api paśy-ātmānaṃ sarvatrōt-sṛja bhēd-ājñānam

Waste not your efforts in binding or in dissension with friends, foes, children or relatives. Try to see the Self in all and everything. Uproot the ignorance that creates divide.

26. kāmam krōdham lōbham mōham tyaktvā-tmānam paśyati sō'ham ātma-jñāna-vihīnā mūḍhāḥ tē pachyantē naraka nigūḍhāḥ

Relinquishing lust, anger, greed and delusion (desire) one sees in the self – I am him/her/that. Lacking self-knowledge, the foolish ones, torment entangled in incomprehensive hell.

27. gēyaṃ gītā-nāmasahasraṃ dhyēyaṃ śrīpati-rūpamajasram nēyaṃ sajjana-saṅgē chittaṃ dēyaṃ dīnajanāya cha vittam

Chant (and imbibe) the Gita and the thousand names; ever meditate on the form of the divine; direct the mind towards good company; whole-heartedly give wealth (of all forms) to those in need. Bhagavad Gita

28. sukhataḥ kriyatē kāmā-bhōgaḥ (or rāmā-bhōgaḥ) paśchād-anta śarīrē rōgaḥ yadyapi lōkē maraṇaṃ śaraṇaṃ tadapi na muñchati pāpā-charaṇam

Rāmā – referring to beloved/spouse. Again pertaining to satisfying the senses. One indulges in the pleasure for the senses to get happiness and eventually finding the body degrade and inflicted by diseases. Living in the world, death is the final and ultimate destination; still we are indulged in actions that incur consequences.

29. artham-anarthaṃ bhāvaya nityaṃ nāsti tataḥ sukha lēśaḥ satyam putrādapi dhanabhājāṃ bhītiḥ sarvatraiṣā vihitā rītiḥ

Ever remind yourself that the so-called wealth is meaningless and that there isn't a bit of (true) happiness in this. It takes us to the state wherein even a father would fear the son (even close relationships get effected). This is a sorry state that is universal .

30. prāṇāyāmaṃ pratyāhāraṃ nityānitya vivēkavichāram jāpya-samēta samādhi-vidhānaṃ kurv-avadhānaṃ mahad-avadhānam

Control of the pranas (the vital forces in the body), withdrawal of the senses and the mind; enquiring and reflecting on what is permanent and transient; along with constant chanting and contemplation, effort getting to a state of equipoise; do it with care, great care.

31. guru charaṇ-āmbuja nirbhara bhaktaḥ saṃsārād achirād bhava muktaḥ sēndriya mānasa niyamād-ēvaṃ drakṣyasi nija hṛdayasthaṃ dēvam

The devoted one who takes refuge in the lotus feet of the guru, would soon be liberated from samsara (the vicious cycle of birth-death). Through the discipline of the senses and the mind one would see and experience the divine within.

ĪŚWAR TUMHĪ (FINNISH)

Jumalani, oi Luojani, armon ja toivon tuojani.

Maailman Luoja, parantaja surun ja tuskan tuhoaja.

Ilon ja rauhan antaja,
Jumalani, mun kaikkeni.

Sä olet isä ja äitini, ystäväni ja perheeni.

Olethan ainut suojani, Jumalani mun kaikkeni.

Jumala olet elämäni, unelmani ja kaipuuni.

Suljethan meidät syliisi, Jumalani, mun kaikkeni.

Ī MANŌJNA BHŪMIYIL (FINNISH)

Jumalatar taivainen, autuainen, armainen, tulit uiden taivaan virran tänne meidän maailmaan.

Tuot rauhaa mun mieleeni
ja rakkautta sydämeeni,
ja rakkautta sydämeeni.

Äänet meren aaltojen toistaa Omkar-mantraa, sointu joka jumalaisen autuuden antaa.

Aallot ovat kylpeneet katseessasi tanssien, katseessasi tanssien.

Oi Amma tiedollasi suojaat tätä maailmaa.
Oi Amma rakkaudellas rauhoitat ja hoivaat.

Minun sydämeni valo palaa sinun armostas, palaa sinun armostas.

Amma, sinun armollasi rauhoitat sydäntäni.
Sulaudun loputtomaan rakkautesi sateeseen.

Sydämeni tulvillaan on jumalaista rakkauttas,
on jumalaista rakkauttas.

EVERYONE IN THE WORLD (FINNISH)

RAKKAUS ON TIE

Jos jokainen muille soisi
edes yhden yön,
jolloin ilman pelkoa saisi nukkua.

Jos jokainen muille soisi
edes yhden päivän,
jolloin kyllikseen he saisi syödäkseen

Jos jokainen muille soisi
edes yhden päivän,
ilman väkivaltaa ja loukkauksia.

Jos jokainen muita voisi palvella ja auttaa,
edes yhden yhden päivän, pyyteettömästi.

Täyttyisi toiveeni, minun rukoukseni, rakkaus on vastaus, rakkaus on tie.

ĪŚVARA LĪLA ITELLA (FINNISH)

Luojamme leikkiä on tää, kaikki Jumalan leikkiä on.

Loputon, jatkuva, ilman alkua, ikuinen arvoitus on.

Miljoonat muodot vain Jumalaa on,
hän itsestään luonut on kaiken.

Hymystään Amma, Hän kaikkeuden loi maailman puutarhan.

Alussa kaiken unessa näit, missä kaikki me laineita ollaan.

Laineina unessa sinusta me kuinka kertoa voisimme lainkaan?

Mitään ei tuomita, vertailla voi, sillä kaikki on leikkiä sinun.

Kuinka sinusta kertoa voin, luonuthan olet myös minut?

ĪŚWARĪ JAGADĪŚWARI (FINNISH)

Äiti Maailman, Jumalatar, itse myötätunto ja rakkaus,

onnen, autuuden antaja,
pyydän poista murheeni harteiltani.

Ilot maalliset olen nähnyt ja surrut surut niitä seuranneet.

Älä anna mun kuolla niin kuin
ahne perhonen tulen liekkiin.

Kahlein kuoleman, kahlein himojeni tämän maailman vanki oon.

Äiti armahda, laupeudessasi, anna rauha mun elämääni.

Ohjaa tielle sen totuuden, jossa koen rauhaa ikuista.

Kärsimykseni tuhoa, oi Äiti, poista murheeni mun harteiltani.

Mihin kiinnymme tänään tässä, se kaikki huomenna poissa on.

Tämä leikki on pelkkää unta, joka estää meitä heräämästä.

Jotta saapuisin määränpäähän tämän kallisarvoisen elämän,

nöyrin mielin ja rukouksin lasken pääni lootusjalkojesi juureen.

OH MOTHER EARTH (ENGLISH)

CHORUS: OH MOTHER EARTH, YOU ARE SO SWEET,
YOU ARE SO PATIENT AND LOVING.

OH MOTHER EARTH, YOU GIVE SO MUCH,
WHAT CAN WE GIVE TO YOU?

OH MOTHER EARTH, YOU ARE SO SWEET,
YOU ARE SO PATIENT AND LOVING.

OH MOTHER EARTH
WHAT CAN WE GIVE TO YOU?

GIVE A LITTLE LOVE. LOVE
GIVE A LITTLE CARE. CARE.

GIVE A LITTLE SMILE. SMILE.
GIVE A LITTLE FLAVOUR TO IT.

GIVE A LITTLE HEART. HEART
GIVE A LITTLE SOUL. SOUL.

GIVE A LITTLE HAND. HAND.
CAN WE HELP OUR NEIGHBOUR?

1. SHE'S ALWAYS GIVING MORE AND MORE, QUENCHING OUR HUNGER AND THIRST.

IF WE WERE SELFLESS AND KIND
THEN WE COULD BE MORE LIKE MOTHER EARTH.

16 BAR INSTRUMENTAL SOLO THEN;
CHORUS: OH MOTHER EARTH .....

2. SHE'S SO BEAUTIFUL, VIBRANT WITH LIFE SO DIVERSE.

SO LOVING AND HUMBLE,
ONLY IF WE COULD BE MORE LIKE MOTHER

EARTH.

16 BAR INSTRUMENTAL SOLO THEN;
CHORUS: OH MOTHER EARTH .....

RAP; SWEETER THAN HONEY, RICHER THAN MONEY, WARMER THAN A DAY WHEN IT'S

FULL OUT SUNNY. THE RIVERS AND SEAS.
THE MOUNTAINS AND TREES, SHE GAVE ALL OF

THIS TO YOU AND ME.
THE RED GOLD AND GREEN THE BLACK AND WHITE, BRING US

TOGETHER AND MAKE US UNITE.
NO MATTER WHAT COLOUR NO MATTER FAITH,

EVERY NATION, AND EVERY PLACE. (X2)

8 BAR INSTRUMENTAL SOLO; RAP 2
IN A STADIUM, BUT THIS A NO BALL GAME.
HERE'S A LITTLE SONG WITH A BIG

CODE NAME. NOW THAT WE DA' RAP
WE CAN TELL YOU PLAIN THAT AMMA AND MOTHER

EARTH IS ONE AND THE SAME. (X2)

3.SHE'S SO WONDERFUL, A TREASURE OF PRICELESS WORTH, WITH SHARING COMPASSION LET US TRY TO BE MORE LIKE MOTHER EARTH.

OH MOTHER EARTH
WHAT CAN WE GIVE TO YOU? (x4)

YOU ARE THE LIGHT (ENGLISH)

Hearts on fire, dreams so bright
Young and wild, ready to rise
Feel the heat, watch us glow
Here we are, steal the show

Every dream begins to spark Lighting up what once was dark
Time to rise, time to shine
This moment's yours, this moment's mine

You are the light, sparking hope tonight
You are the change, everything's alright
When the world gets dark, you shine so bright
You are the light, you are the light

You are the light, sparking hope tonight
You are the change, everything's alright
When the world gets dark, you shine so bright
You are the light, you are the light

Light it up, up, up, up, up!
Light it up, up, up, up, up!
You are the light!

Courage rising in our veins
Dancing free through joys and pains
This is how we light the way
Stronger, brighter every day

Feel the power in the air
Youth united everywhere
Hope is burning in our eyes
Watch us light up all the skies

You are the light, sparking hope tonight
You are the change, everything's alright
When the world gets dark, you shine so bright
You are the light, you are the light

We are the light, sparking hope tonight
We are the change, everything's alright
When the world gets dark, we shine so bright
We are the light, we are the light

Light it up, up, up, up, up!
Light it up, up, up, up, up!
You are the light!

Asatō mā sad gamaya
Lead us from untruth to truth

Tamasō mā jyotir gamaya
Lead us from darkness to the light

Mṛtyōr mā amritam gamaya Lead us from death to immortality

tīrāta viḷaiyāṭṭuppiḷḷai

2026 Tamil

tīrāta viḷaiyāṭṭuppiḷḷai - kaṇṇan tīrāta viḷaiyāṭṭuppiḷḷai

An endless mischievous boy is Krishna, an endless mischievous boy.

kaṇṇan teruvilē peṇkaḷukkōyāta tollai - tīrāta viḷaiyāṭṭuppiḷḷai

In the streets, Krishna is a constant nuisance to the girls; he is an endless mischievous boy.

tinnappazham koṇḍu taruvān pāti tinkiṙa pōtilē taṭṭippaṙippān

He will bring fruit to eat, but while we are halfway through eating it, He will snatch it away.

ennappaninay enṙāl atanai kaṭittu koṭuppān

If we call him "my dear father" or "my lord" to please him, he will bite the fruit, defile it with his spit, and then give it back.

azhaguḷḷa malarkoṇṭu vantēn ennai aḷakaḷa ceyta pin kaṇmūṭikkoḷ kuḷalilē cūṭṭuvēn enpān

I brought beautiful flowers; after teasing me about my beauty, He tells me to close my eyes so He can tuck them into my hair

ennai kuruṭākki malarinai tōḷikku vaippān tīrāta viḷaiyāṭṭuppiḷḷai

Keeping me "blind" with my eyes shut, He gives the flower to my friend instead; He is an endless mischievous boy

pinnalai pinninṙiḻuppān talai pinnē tirumpumunnē cenṙu maraivā

He pulls my braided hair from behind, and before I can even turn my head, He disappears vaṇṇapputuccēlai tanilē puzhuti vāriccorintē varutti kuzhaippān

On my colorful new saree, he throws handfuls of dust, distressing me and ruining my clothes

pullāṅ kuzhal koṇṭu varuvān amutu poṅki tatumpunaṙ gītam paṭippān

He comes with His flute and plays a song so sweet that it overflows like divine nectar.

kaḷḷāl mayaṅkuvat pōlē atai kaṇmūṭivāy tiṙantē kēṭṭiruppōm

As if intoxicated by wine, we stand there with eyes closed and mouths agape, lost in His music.

tīrāta viḷaiyāṭṭuppiḷḷai - viḷaiyāṭṭuppiḷḷai viḷaiyāṭṭuppiḷḷai

An endless mischievous boy is Krishna, an endless mischievous boy.

Meera is a restless woman pining in separation; she has forgotten all sense and awareness of herself... My sleep has been lost.

sakhī... mōrī nindana sānī hō

O friend... My sleep has been lost.

KARUṆĀ KAḌALĒ (AMMA SOLO) (MALAYALAM)

karuṇa-kaḍalē karuṇāmayī kaniyū kaniyū karuṇāmayī

O ocean of compassion, compassionate Mother, have mercy, have mercy, O compassionate one.

kadanattin rōdanam kēḷkkunnillē karuṇāmayī enne kāṇunnillē

Do You not hear the cries of my suffering? Compassionate Mother, do You not see me?

kadanattin nizhal vīśiḍāte nityam karuṇāmayī enne kāttiḍēṇē

Do not let the shadow of sorrow fall upon me — O compassionate one, always protect me.

kastūri-gandhatte ārnnavaḷē kamala-lōcanē ninne kai-tozhunnēn

You who are fragrant with musk, lotus-eyed one, I bow to You with folded hands.

karuṇāmayī ninne kāṇuvānum kaṇḍu kaṇḍuḷḷam teḷiyuvānum

Grant that I may behold You, O compassionate Mother, that by seeing You again and again, my heart may grow clear, kaṇṇinu kautukam tōnnuvānum uḷkaṇṇinu kāzhcakaḷ tanniḍaṇē

That my eyes may rejoice in wonder, and that my inner eye may be given true vision.

KAR NA PHAKĪRĪ (MĪRĀ) (BRAJ BHASHA)

kar na phakīrī phir kyā dilkīrī sadā magan mēṃ rēhnā jī

O mind, having embraced renunciation, why then feel sorrow? One should remain ever content and absorbed.

kōī dinā gōḍī nā kōī dinā baṅgalā kōī dinā jaṅgal basnā jī

Some days there is comfort, some days there is a mansion; at other times, one must live in the forest.

kōī dinā hāthī nā kōī dinā ghōḍā kōī dinā paidal calnā jī

Some days there are elephants, and some days there are horses; at other times, one must walk on foot.

kōī dinā khājan kōī din lāḍū kōī dinā phākāmu phākā jī

Some days there is rich food and sweets, and other days there is complete fasting, with nothing at all.

kōī dinā ḍōliya kōī dina talē hī kōī dinā bhūyi par lōṭnā jī

Some days one rides in a palanquin, and other days one walks below it; at times, one may even have to lie down on the bare ground.

mīrā kahē prabhu giridhar nāgar

Meera says: O Lord Giridhar, whatever comes to pass must be endured.

KARAM KĪ GATĪ (MĪRĀ) (BRAJ BHASHA)

karam kī gati nyārī santō

The ways of karma are strange and mysterious.

baḍē baḍē nayan diyē
miragan kō ban ban phirat udhārī

The deer has been given large, beautiful eyes, yet it wanders helplessly through the forests.

ujval varan dīnhī bagalan kō kōyal kar dīnhī kāri

The crane has been given a bright white color, while the sweet-voiced cuckoo has been made black.

auran dīpan jal nirmal
kinhī samundar kar dīnhī khārī

A river has sweet pure water, but the ocean has been made salty.

mūrkh kō tum rāj dīyat hō paṇḍit phirat bhikhāri

You give a fool a kingdom to rule, while the wise wander as beggars.

mīrā kē prabhu giridhar

O Meera's Lord Giridhar, my Master without attributes— who can truly understand Your ways, O King?

HOJĪ HARI KIT GAYĪ (MĪRĀ) (HINDI)

ōjī hari kit gayī.
2026 Hindi

hojī hari kit gayī...
nehā lagāy...
O! Where has Hari gone — Having kindled love within me, where has he gone?

nēhā lagāy man har līyō, ras bharī ṭēr sunāy
With love he stole my heart away, Calling out to me in his nectar-laden voice.

mērē man mēṃ aisī āvai, marūṃ jahar bis khāy.
Such anguish rises within my heart — I feel I could drink poison and die.

chāḍi gaye bisvāsaghāt kari gayī, nēh kerī nāv caḍhāy
He has gone and betrayed my trust — He set me aboard the boat of love, then left me adrift.

mīrā kē prabhu kaba rē milōgē, rahe madhupurī chāy
Meera cries: O Lord, when will you meet me? You abide in Madhupurī, your presence spread there — While I am left behind.

RADHYA PYARI DE DARO NA (BRAJ BHASHA)

rādhā pyārī dē ḍārō nā baṃsī mōrī yē baṃsī mēṃ mērō prāṇ basat hai ō baṃsī hō gaī cōrī gaī cōrī

O beloved Radha, please do not take away my flute. In this flute, my very life resides. That flute has been stolen—yes, it has been taken away.

kaisē gāūṁ kaisē bajāūṁ kaisē lāvūṁ gaiyā ghērī gaiyā ghērī

Without it, how will I sing? How will I play? How will I gather and tend the cows?

hā hā karat tērē paiyā parat taras khāvō pyārī pyārī mōrī rādhā pyārī

Crying out in distress, I fall at Your feet. Please have compassion, O my dear, beloved Radha.

mīrā kē prabhu giridhar nāgar

cākar rahasūṁ bāg lagāsūṁ nit uṭh darśan pāsūṁ
vṛndāvan kī kuñj galin mēṃ tērī līlā gāsūṁ

O Shyam, please keep me as Your servant. As Your servant, I will tend Your gardens, and every day I will rise to receive Your darshan. In the groves and winding lanes of Vrindavan, I will sing of Your divine pastimes.

cākarī mēṃ darśan pāsūṁ sumiran pāsūṁ kharcī bhāv-bhagatī jāgī rī pāsūṁ tīnōṃ bātāṁ sarsī

Through this service, I will receive Your darshan. I will gain constant remembrance of You as my sustenance, and loving devotion will awaken within me. These three—darshan, remembrance, and devotion—will be the richest rewards of all.

mōr mukuṭ pītāmbar sōhē gal baijanatī mālā vṛndāvan mēṃ dhēnu carāvē mōhan muraḷī vālā

You are adorned with a peacock-feather crown, dressed in yellow garments, and wearing a garland of wild flowers around Your neck. In Vrindavan, You herd the cows —You are the enchanting flute-player.

mīrā kē prabhu gahar gambhīrā... sadā basō jī dhārā ādhī rāt prabhu darśan dīnhē prēm nadī kē tīrā

O Meera's Lord, deep and unfathomable, please always dwell firmly in my heart. In the middle of the night, You granted me Your darshan on the bank of the river of love.

BĀLĀ MAIṂ BAIRĀGAN HŪNGI (MĪRĀ) (HINDI)

bālā maiṃ bairāgan
2026 (Hindi)

bālā maiṃ bairāgan hūṁgī jin bhēṣā mērō sāhab rījhē
I will become a mendicant. I will adopt whatever form pleases my beloved Lord;

sōhī bhēṣ dharūṁgī
Whatever appearance delights Him, that alone I will take.

bālā maiṃ bairāgan hūṁgī
I will become a mendicant.

kahō tō kusumal sāḍī raṅgāvāṁ kahō tō bhagvā bhēṣ
If he wishes, I will dye my sari in the colour of flowers. If he prefers, I will wear the saffron robes of renunciation.

kahō tō mōtiyan māṁg bharāvāṁ kahō chiḍkāvā kēś
If He desires, I will adorn the parting of my hair with pearls, or loosen and scatter my hair.

prāṇ hamārā vah basat hai yahāṁ tō khālī khōṭ
My life dwells in Him alone; in this world there is nothing but emptiness and falseness.

māt pitā parivār sahan hai kahiē din kā tōḍa
My parents and family will have to bear it—one day these bonds will be broken.

TĒ TŌ PALAK (MĪRĀ) (BRAJ BHASHA)

tē tō palak ughāḍō dīnānāth maiṃ hājir-nājir khad kī khaḍī

O Lord of the helpless, please open Your eyes and look at me. I am standing here before You, fully present and waiting.

sājaniyā dusa mana hōy baiṭhā sab nē lāgūṃ kaḍī
tum bin sājan kōyi nahīṃ hai
ḍīgī nāv mērī samand aḍī

Even my close companions now feel like strangers to me; I feel set apart from everyone. Apart from you, I have no one. My boat is unsteady and seems stuck in the middle of the ocean.

din nahīṃ chainā raiṇ nahīṃ nindiyā sūkhūṃ... khaḍī khaḍī
bāṇ birah kā lāgyā hiyē mēṃ

I have no peace during the day, and no sleep at night. As I stand waiting for You, I am withering away. The arrow of separation has struck my heart. I cannot forget You even for a single moment.

SAKHI RE (BRAJ BHASHA)

sakhī rī lāj bairan bhaī
śrī lāl gōpāl kē saṅg kāhē nāhīṃ gaī

O friend! This modesty has become my enemy. When Gopal was going, why did I not go along with him?

calan cāhat gōkul hītē
rath sajāyō nahīṃ

I wished to go to Gokul for His sake—but no chariot was prepared.

rath caḍāē gōpāl lai gayō hāth miñcat rahī

Gopal mounted the chariot and departed, while I was left behind, wringing my hands in helpless anguish.

sakhī rī lāj bairan bhaī

This modesty has become my enemy.

kaṭhin chātī śyām bichuḍat birah meṃ tan taī

This heart is so hard—when Shyam departed, why did it not break apart in the fire of separation?

dās mīrā lāl giridhar
bikhar kyūṁ na gaī

Says Meera, servant of Giridhar Lal—why did this body not simply shatter and fall apart?

sakhī rī lāj bairan bhaī
śrī lāl gōpāl kē saṅg kāhē nāhīṃ gaī

O friend! This modesty has become my enemy. When Gopal was going, why did I not go along with him?

sakhī rī lāj bairan bhaī

O friend! This modesty has become my enemy.

Dwell within my eyes, O Nandalal — Your dark face, your enchanting form, Your eyes so wide and luminous.

mōr mukuṭ makarākṛt kuṇḍal aruṇ tilak diyō bhāl

A peacock-feather crown, makara-shaped earrings — A vermilion tilak graces Your brow.

adhar sudhāras muralī rājatī ura baijantī mālā

Upon Your lips the flute rests, sweet as nectar; about Your chest the Vaijayantī garland gleams.

basō mōrē nayanan meṃ nandalāl

Dwell within my eyes, O Nandalal.

kṣudra-ghaṇṭikā kaṭi taṭ śōbhit

Meera's Lord, who brings joy to the saints — Gopāl, tender and loving to his devotees.

basō mōrē nayanan meṃ nandalāl
sāṃvalī sūrat mōhanī mūrat nayanā banē viśāl

Dwell within my eyes, O Nandalal — Your dark face, your enchanting form, Your eyes so wide and luminous.

HARI BIN KAUN GATI MĒRI (BRAJ BHASHA)

hari bin kaun gati mēri Without Hari, what refuge have I?

tum mērē pratipāl kahiyē maiṁ dāsi prabhu tērī
You alone are called my protector and sustainer, And I am Your eternal maidservant, O Lord.

ye saṃsār vikār kā sāgar bīc meṁ maiṁ ghērī
This material world is an ocean filled with vices and illusions, And I am trapped right in the middle of its turbulent waves.

bāri bāri pukāri maiṁ
prabhu hē ārati tērī
Over and over, I cry out to You with deep yearning— O Lord, my heart is aching in distress for Your sight.

nāv phūṭē prabhu pār lagāvau ḍūbat dāsi tērī
My life's boat has cracked open, O Lord—please steer me safely to the shore! Your maidservant is drowning in this vast sea.

dāsi mīrā nām raṭat haiṁ maiṁ śaraṇ hūṁ tērī
Your servant Meera constantly repeats Your name; I take refuge in you alone.

MAIṀ TŌ GIRIDHAR KĒ GHAR (BRAJ BHASHA)

maiṁ tō giridhar kē ghar jāvūṁ giridhar mārō sācō prītam dēkhat rūp lubhāvūṁ

I shall go to the house of Giridhar — Giridhar alone is my true Beloved; Beholding his captivating form, I am enchanted.

raiṇ paḍai tab hī uṭh jāvūṁ bhōr bhayē uṭh āvūṁ

When night descends, I rise and go to him; When dawn breaks, I come away.

raiṇ-dinā vākē saṃg khēlūṁ jyūṁ tyūṁ tāhī rijhāvūṁ

Night and day I dwell in his company, Seeking by every means to please him.

jō pahirāvai sōyī pahirūṁ jō dē sōyī khāvūṁ

Whatever he clothes me in, that alone I wear; Whatever he gives me, that alone I eat.

mērī uṇ kī prīt purāṇī
uṇ bin pal na rahāvūṁ

My love for him is ancient beyond reckoning — Without him, I cannot abide even for a moment.

jahāṁ baiṭhāvai tit hī baiṭhūṁ bēcai tō bik jāvūṁ

Wherever he seats me, there I remain; If he were to sell me — willingly I would be sold.

mīrā kē prabhu giridhar nāgar
bār-bār bali... jāvūṁ

Meera's Lord is Giridhar Nagar — Again and again I offer myself, a sacrifice at his feet.

NIRBHAYA NIRGUṆA GUṆA RE (BRAJ BHASHA)

nirbhaya nirguṇa guṇa re gāūṁgā, gāūṁgā...

Fearless, I shall sing the glory of the Formless.

mūl kamal dṛḍh āsan bāṁdhūṁ jī, ulṭī pavan caḍhāvūṁgā, caḍhāvūṁgā....

I shall fix my seat firmly in the Root Chakra, And I shall make the breath flow upward man mamatā... kō, thir kar lāvūṁ jī, pāṁco....tattva milāvūṁgā, milāvūṁgā....

I shall bring the wandering mind and its attachments to a standstill, And I shall merge the five elements within me.

iṅgalā piṅgalā sukhaman nāḍī jī, trivēṇī par hō nahāvūṁgā nahāvūṁgā....

The Ida, Pingala, and Sushumna are the nadis, At their "Triple Confluence" (Triveni), I shall take my bath.

pāṁj paccīsoṃ pakaḍ maṃgāvūṁ jī, ēk hī ḍōr lagāvūṁgā, lagāvūṁgā....

I shall capture the five senses and the twenty-five worldly tendencies, And bind them all together with a single thread (of devotion).

śūnya śikhar par anahad bājē jī, rāg chhattīs sunāvūṁgā, sunāvūṁgā....

Upon the peak of the Void, the Unstruck Sound resounds, There, I shall play the thirty-six melodies of the soul.

kahat kabīr sunō bhāi sādhō jī, jīt niśān ghurāvūṁgā, ghurāvūṁgā....

Says Kabir, listen oh seeker, my brother, I shall unfurl the banner of victory (over the self).

PĀNĪ MEṂ MĪNU PYĀSĪ (MARWARI)

pānī meṃ mīnu pyāsī
mōhē suni suni āvē hāṁsī...

The fish thirsts in the water — hearing this, I cannot help but laugh.

jalthal sāgar pūr rahā hai bhaṭakata hṛdaya udāsī rē

Water fills earth, sky, and sea — yet the heart wanders, heavy with longing.

ātma-jñān binā nar bhaṭkē
kōyī mathurā kōyī kāśī rē

Without knowledge of the Self, man wanders pointlessly — some to Mathurā, some to Kāśī.

kahata kabīra sunō bhāī sādhō guru bina mari mana jāsī rē

Kabīr says: hear me, O brother seekers — without the Guru, the mind withers and dies.

BHAJ MAN RĀM CARAṆ SUKHADĀYĪ (MARWARI)

bhaj man rām caraṇ sukhadāyī

O mind, worship the feet of Rāma, the bestowers of peace and happiness.

jihi caraṇan sē nikasī surasari śaṅkar jaṭā... samāyī

From those very feet the sacred Gaṅgā arose, and found her place within the matted locks of Śaṅkara.

jaṭāsaṅkarī nām paryō hai tribhuvan tāran āyī

Those feet came to redeem all beings, moving and unmoving alike, and to carry the three worlds across the ocean of worldly existence.

jin caraṇan kī caraṇa- pādukā bharat rahyō liv lāyī

To those very sandals, Bharata gave his whole heart in worship.

sōyi caraṇ kēvaṭ dhōyi līnē tab hari nāv calāyī

Those same feet the boatman Kevata washed before setting his boat in motion for Hari.

śiv sanakādik aru brahmādik śēṣ sahas mukh gāyī

Śiva, Sanaka and the sages, Brahmā and the gods, Śeṣa with his thousand mouths — all sing their praise.

tulasīdās mārut-sut kī prabhu
nij mukh karat baḍāyī

Tulsīdās says: the Lord Himself glorifies Hanumān, son of the Wind, with His own lips.

CALNĀ HAI DŪR MUSĀPHIR (BRAJ BHASHA)

calnā hai dūr musāphir
kāhē sōvē rē

You have far to travel, O traveler — why do you sleep?

cēt acēt nar sōc bāvarē bahut nīnd mat sōvē rē

Awaken, conscious being, and reflect, you foolish one! Do not lose yourself in deep slumber.

kām krōdh mad lōbh meṃ phaṁskar umariyā kāhē khōvē rē

Snared in desire, anger, pride, and greed — why do you squander your days?

sir par māyā mōh kī gaṭhrī saṅg dūt tērē hōvē rē

On your head rests the heavy bundle of illusion and attachment, and death's messengers walk beside you.

sō gaṭhrī tērī bīc meṃ chhin gayī mūḍh pakaḍ kahāṁ rōvē rē

That bundle will be seized from you in an instant — then where will you sit and weep, you foolish one?

rāstā tō dūr kaṭhin hai cal ab akēlā hōvē rē

The path ahead is long and arduous; prepare yourself, for you must walk it entirely alone.

saṅg sāth tērē kōyī nā calēgā kāṭ ḍagariyā hōvē rē

No companion or friend will walk this final road with you; You alone must traverse this rugged path.

nadiyā gaharī nāva purānī
kēhi vidhi pār tū hōvē rē

The river of worldly existence is deep, and your boat (the physical body) is old and fragile; by what means do you expect to cross safely to the other shore?

kahē kabīr sunō bhāyī sādhō byāj dhōkhē mūl mat khōvē rē

Kabīr says: hear me, O seekers — do not forfeit the principal amount (truth), while chasing higher interest/profits (false worldly gains).

DĪNANĀTH AB BĀRI TUMHĀRI (HINDI)

dīnanāth ab bāri tumhāri patita udhāraṇ dīn jāni kē bigaḍī dēhu saṃvāri

O Lord of the meek (Dinanath), now it is Your turn. O Redeemer of the fallen, recognizing my helplessness, please mend that which I have broken and ruined.

bālāpana khēlat hī khōyā yauvan viṣ ras mōhi

My childhood was entirely wasted in frivolous play, My youth was intoxicated by the poisonous pleasures of attachment.

vṛddha bhayō sudhi pragaṭi mōkō duḥkhit pukārat tōhi

Now that old age has arrived, awareness has finally dawned upon me, In deep distress, I cry out to You.

nāri tajō sut tajō bhāī tajō tan kī tvacā bhayī nyāri

My wife has detached from me, my children and brothers have turned away, the very skin of my body has grown loose and separate from me.

śravaṇ na sunata caraṇa
gati hāri nain bhayē jaladhāri

My ears can no longer hear, my feet have lost the strength to walk, my eyes have become continuous streams of tears.

ab yē vyathā dūr karnē
kō aur na samarath kōī

To remove this suffering now, no one else has the power.

sūrdās prabhu karuṇā sāgar tumsē hōī sō hōī

O Lord of Sūrdās, Ocean of Compassion — now, whatever needs to be done, has to be done by You alone.

Ē RĪ MAIṀ TŌ PRĒM DĪVĀNĪ (BRAJ BHASHA)

ē rī maiṁ tō ō... prēm dīvānī,
mērā dard na jāṇai kōya...

O friend — I am utterly mad with love; No one knows the agony I bear.

ghāyal kī gati ghāyal jāṇai jō kōyī ghāyal hōya

The plight of the wounded is known only to the wounded — Only one who has been struck can know the pain.

jauharī kī gati jauharī jāṇai ki jan jauhar hōya...

Only the jeweler can truly perceive the worth of a gemstone — but how many amongst us are such pure gems, capable of surrendering fully?

ē rī maiṁ tō ō... prēm dīvānī,
mērā dard na jāṇai kōya...

O friend — I am utterly mad with love; No one knows the agony I bear.

sūlī ūpar sēj hamārī
sōvan kis vidh hō?

My bed is spread upon a scaffold of thorns — How can I ever find sleep upon it?

gagan maṇḍal par sēj piyā kī kis vidh milaṇā hō...

My Beloved's couch is laid in the vault of heaven — How am I to reach him there?

ē rī maiṁ tō ō... prēm dīvānī,
mērā dard na jāṇai kō...

O friend — I am utterly mad with love; No one knows the agony I bear.

dard kī mārī ban-ban ḍōlūṁ vaid milā nahīṃ kō...

Pierced through with pain, I wander from forest to forest — Yet I have found no healer.

mīrā kē prabhu pīr miṭēgī – jab vaid sāṁvariyā hō...

Meera's Lord — her anguish shall cease only when the dark beloved himself becomes the healer.

ē rī maiṁ tō ō... prēm dīvānī,
mērā dard na jāṇai kō...

O friend — I am utterly mad with love; No one knows the agony I bear.

MAN RĒ PARASI HARI (BRAJ BHASHA)

man rē parasi hari kē caraṇ subhag sītal kaval kōmal trividha jvālā haraṇa

O mind, touch the feet of Lord Hari — They are auspicious, cool, and soft like a lotus, They eliminate the three types of worldly sufferings

jiṇ caraṇ dhruv aṭal kīnhē rākh apnī saraṇ

Those feet that made the child devotee Dhruva immortal and unshakable, sheltering him in their eternal protection.

jiṇ caraṇ brahmāṇḍ bhēṭyō nakhaśikhāṃ sīr dharaṇ

Those feet measured the entire universe (referring to the Vamana avatar), and from whose toe nails flowed the holy Ganges, which Shiva holds on his head.

jiṇ caraṇ prabhu parasi līnhē tārī gautam gharaṇ

Those feet, the holy touch of which, Liberated Ahalya (the wife of Sage Gautama, who had been turned to stone).

jiṇ caraṇ kālīnāg nāthyō
gōp līlā-karaṇ

The feet that subdued the venomous serpent Kaliya, while performing divine lilas among the cowherds.

jiṇ caraṇ gōbardhan dhāryō garv maghavā haraṇ

The feet that bore the weight of Mount Govardhan, crushing the pride of Indra.

dāsī mīrā lāl giridhar
agam tāraṇ taraṇ mīrā

The servant Mira says: O beloved Lord Giridhar Your feet are a boat to cross the otherwise impassable ocean of worldly existence.

BARSE BADARIYA (BRAJ BHASHA)

barsē badariya sāvan kī sāvan kī man bhāvan kī barsē badariya sāvan kī

The rain clouds of the monsoon are pouring. These are the rains of the month of Savan, which are pleasing to the heart. The monsoon clouds are pouring.

sāvanu meṃ umagyō mērō manvā bhanak sunī hari āvan kī

In this monsoon season, my mind has become filled with hope. I have heard the news that Hari is coming.

umaḍ-ghumaḍ cāhūm̐ dēs sē āyō dāminī dhamkē jar lāvan kī

Clouds, swelling and gathering, have arrived from all directions, and the lightning flashes with a force that brings a sense of awe and trembling.

nanhē nanhē būm̐dan mēghā barsē śītal pavanu suhāvan kī

The clouds rain down tiny droplets. A cool and pleasant breeze is blowing.

mīrā kē prabhu giridhar nāgar ānand maṅgal gāvan kī

Meera's Lord, Giridhar Nagar —this is a time for singing songs of joy and auspicious celebration.

OH AMMA (ENGLISH)

Touch me with your heart and I will come running to that place where I have to go Where my body feels weak and my spirit strong
You are the sun, I am your tree, and I grow

To feel your love is all I ask as I travel on this road Through the darkness I search for the light of your light
Oh Mother please bring this child home

Oh Amma... the warmth
of your touch
Oh Amma... who knew I could feel so much
Please take my hand each day
Oh Amma... and let your love guide the way

Today I am a changed man,
one who yearns to move on
But before I go I have so much to do, so Mother please, please give me that long You give to so many so selfless and pure, that's why you are touched with the gift of divine cure
As souls pass through you everywhere, the vibration do you share

COME CHILDREN (ENGLISH)

Think not of all that has happened
For the past is forever behind you Every child must fall while learning to walk
Have the courage to keep on going

Life will have moments so precious
Be aware how the days are passing
Time stops for no one and death will not hesitate
Don't become lost in illusion

Children, your heart is a garden
Let it bloom in the sunshine of friendship
Offer the flowers of love to your brother
And know that his soul is your own

Mother will feed you her wisdom
Only if you are hungry for truth
Don't let the poison of ego deceive you
By closing your mind to her words

If you expect love to find you
Then your life may be empty and sad
Let your heart be a river of kindness to all
It will lead to the ocean of joy

Children, there's no need to worry
For the peace you are seeking is real
Have faith in the Mother of endless compassion
She'll never abandon a child

YOU ARE MY LIGHT (ENGLISH)

Mother of All, do you hear my heart calling,
Mother of all, you are the light that sets soul free.

You are my light, Illuminating me
Always be near me, Show me the way
You are my goal, My destination
When will I reach you, You are my home

You are my joy, Lifting my soul
Fill me with laughter, Make me feel whole
You are my joy, Lifting my soul
Fill me with laughter, Make me feel whole

You are my love, My life's fulfillment
You are my destiny, I am your child
You are my breath, The air that I breathe
You are the source of life, All that I need

You are my grace, Nothing before
Blazing with golden light, You are my sun
You are my grace, Nothing before
Blazing with golden light, You are my sun

SOFTLY SINGING IN MY HEART (ENGLISH)

I will never forget you
I will never forsake you
I can hear to the whisper of my soul
Children, never forget you
I will never forsake you

Take me, take me, take me,
my Lord and my love
Amma, take me, take me, take me,
my Lord and my love

Jai Ma, Jai Ma, Jai Ma, Jai Ma
Jai Ma, Jai Ma, Jai Ma, Jai Ma

Amritamayi, Anandamayi
Amritamayi, Anandamayi

ONLY THROUGH GOD (ENGLISH)

Oh mother please help me see
The path to turn the truth inside of me
So blind each and every day
I pray you'll shine your light and show the way

It pains me so much to not feel
The trust of your love, I know it's real Only you can unlock the door to my heart
Mother please, let that moment start

There are days my signs, they appear Showing me that I'm one step near
To be humble and free of myself
Mother can't you see I need your help

To keep me focused and my mind still
Only to catch another short moment
The path to eternal truth comes alive with each step

Amma, Amma... Amma, Amma...

Oh mother, what can I do?
I live my life at times like such a fool
Knowing that all I see is not real
My senses convince me with their appeal

So free to choose from the start
What I dream and what I see, so far apart
I fear I won't awaken in time
Mother please, give me a sign

With eyes closed, all those thoughts disappear
Visions of you make the truth oh so clear
To live my life on the path to your heart
Mother tell me I'm ready to start

To keep me focused and my mind still
Only to catch another short moment

The path to eternal truth comes alive with each step

IN THE SILENCE (ENGLISH)

Can you hear the fear in my heartbeat, as I pray you to not forsake me

Mother no one but you knows how deep is my pain, my soul is burning to see you again,

this world is a flower with no fragrance,
I cannot bear to be without you

Mother!, don't make we stay here without you

If this life is a dream that is not even real, why must I suffer with all that I feel

I am hopeless without your compassion, have I not paid the price for mercy

Mother!, please make me worthy of your mercy

Everynight, every star hears me sing the same songs, with the aching that has been in my heart for so long

I yearn for the taste of devotion, nothing else can feed my hunger

Mother!, feed me
the nectar of devotion

JHĪNĪ RĒ JHĪNĪ KĒ (HINDI)

jhīnī rē jhīnī
(Avadhi) 2026 Hindi

jhīnī rē jhīnī
kē rām nām ras bhīnī cadariyā
Finely woven, oh so finely woven, is this shawl, soaked in the nectar of the name of Ram

aṣṭ kamal kā carakhā banāyā pāṁc tatv kī pūnī
The spinning wheel was made of the eight lotuses (the energy centers/chakras), and the yarn was made of the five elements

nau das mās bunan kō lāgē mūrakh mailī kīnī cadariyā
Nine to ten months were spent in the weaving — yet the fool has made this shawl soiled and dirty.

jhīnī rē jhīnī
kē rām nām ras bhīnī cadariyā
Finely woven, Oh so finely woven, Is this shawl, soaked in the nectar of the name of Ram jab mōrī cādar ban ghar āyī raṅgarēj kō dīnī cadariyā, raṅgarēj kō dīnī

When my shawl was finally woven and brought home, I gave it to the Dyer (the Guru/Divine Master) to color.

aisā raṅg raṅgā... raṅgarēj nē lālō lāl kar dīnī cadariyā
Such a color did the master-dyer dye it — He rendered the whole shawl red, vibrant, brilliant red. (The color of love and spiritual awakening)

cādar ōḍh śaṅkā mat kariyō dō dinu tum kō dīnī cadariyā, dō dinu tum kō dīnī Wear this shawl, but do not harbor doubts or attachments, this shawl has been given to you for just a couple of days (a short lifetime).

mūrakh lōg bhēd nahīṃ jānē...
dinu-dinu mailī kīnī cadariyā

Foolish people do not understand this secret, they make the shawl dirtier with each passing day.

dhruv-prahlād-sudāmā nē ōḍhī śuk-dēv nirmal kīnī, cadariyā śuk-dēv nirmal kīnī

Devotees like Dhruva, Prahlad, and Sudama wore this shawl, And Sage Shukdev kept it absolutely pure and stainless.

dās kabīr nē aisī ōḍhī
jyōṁ kī tyōṁ dhar dīnī cadariyā

Servant Kabir wore it with such mindfulness and awareness, That he laid it back down exactly as it was given to him (pure and unstained).

KARUṆĀ SUṆŌ ŚYĀM MĒRĪ (BRAJ BHASHA)

karuṇā suṇō śyām mērī
maiṃ tō hō... rahī cērī tērī

Hear my plea for mercy, my dark-complexioned Lord Krishna (Shyam)! I have wholly become your maidservant.

darśana kāraṇa bhayī bāvarī birah-bithā tana ghērī

Yearning for a single glimpse of you, I have lost my mind. The agonizing pain of separation has entirely gripped my body.

tērē kāraṇa jōgaṇa hūṁgī dūṁgī nagar bīc phērī

For your sake, I shall become a wandering ascetic. I will wander through the streets of the city....

kuñj bana hērī-hērī

...searching for You in every bower and forest grove..

karuṇā suṇō śyām mērī
maiṃ tō hō... rahī cērī tērī

Hear my plea for mercy, my dark-complexioned Lord Krishna (Shyam)! I have wholly become your maidservant.

aṅg bhabhūt galē mṛgachālā yō tap bhasam karūṁ rī

Ashes on my limbs, a deerskin about my neck — in such austerity shall I burn myself to ash.

ajhūṁ na mil yā śyāmavināśī ban-ban bīc phirūṁ rī

If even now I do not meet that imperishable Shyam, I shall wander through forest after forest,...

rōūṁ nit ḍērī-ḍērī

....weeping and calling out to him each day.

karuṇā suṇō śyām mērī
maiṃ tō hō... rahī cērī tērī

Hear my plea for mercy, my dark-complexioned Lord Krishna (Shyam)! I have wholly become your maidservant.

jan mīrā kūṁ giridhar miliyā dukh mēṭaṇa sukh bhērī

When Meera finally met Giridhar (Krishna), all my sorrows vanished and I was filled with joy.

rōm-rōm sātā bhayī ur mē miṭ gayī phērā-phērī

Peace has entered every pore of my heart; the rounds of wandering and rebirth have ceased.

rahūṁ caraṇ nani tar cērī, kānhā rahūṁ caraṇ nani tar cērī

Now, let me forever remain a humble servant at Your lotus feet, oh Kanha! Let me forever remain a humble servant at Your lotus feet.

KANASINA LOKADHI KALEDU HOGI (KANNADA)

(Kinaccillayil)

kanasina lokadi kaḷedu hogi kaṇḍakaṇḍa ddellā bhogisuttā

I was immersed in the dreams of youth— enjoying the sights, madavetti tāruṇyava cellāṭṭadi kaḷede mellamellagē kāla sāgittu mundē.

Lost in worldly play, full of pride and arrogance, mistaking it all for life, while time slipped silently away.

ammā...ammā... ammā...ammā...

Oh Mother

pūrvada udisuva sūryanantē śaratkāla paurṇami rātriyantē

Like the sun that rises each day in the east, like the silvery moonbeams of an autumn night, snehasāgari bandu ennamēle taṃpinibbani kṛpē hanisidaḷu.

With a love deeper than the boundless ocean, Mother entered my life like fresh, dewy snow.

ammā...ammā... ammā...ammā...

Oh Mother

pādakkeragi nā ā prema savidē maguvāgi mātē maḍilanēri kuḷitē.

I fell at her feet and drank deeply of her love. Climbing into her lap like a blissful child, cidākāśadalli līnavāga bayasi nirmalatvakkāgi kāditu hṛdaya.

I felt my heart grow pure, longing to leap into the inner sky of radiant consciousness.

ammā...ammā... ammā...ammā...

Oh Mother

māye yeḷēyito māyā paradē! maretu nā tāya kai beraḷa biṭṭē.

But golden illusions veiled my eyes once more, and I let go of Mother's secure fingertip.

bhavasāgaradi bidda ī maguvanu kai hiḍidetti tāyi kāpāḍidaḷu.

As I swam and sank, weary and lost in the vast ocean of samsara, Mother gently took my hand and lifted me up.

ammā...ammā... ammā...ammā...

Oh Mother

tabbi hiḍidenna nannamma nuḍidaḷu. kanda, nī nanna muddu maguviruvē.

She held me close and softly whispered in my ear: "Do not forget, my pearl—you are my darling, malagu ī maḍila endendigū bhavapāru māḍalu amma iruvaḷu.

And you may always rest in my lap. Mother shall row the boat that carries you across the ocean of samsara."

ammā...ammā... ammā...ammā...

Oh Mother

Ā Ō SAHELĀRALI (BRAJ BHASHA)

ā... ō sahelārali karāṃ hē, par ghar gavaṇu nivāri

Come, my friends, let us make merry together, and stop wandering to the houses of strangers.

ā... ō sahelā rali karāṃ
ā... ō sahelā rali karāṃ

Come, my friends, let us make merry together.... Come, my friends, let us make merry together jhūṭhā māṇik mōtiyārī jhūṭhī jag mag jyōti

False are the rubies and the pearls, false is all their glittering brilliance.

jhūṭhā ābhūṣaṇ rī
sācī piyājī rī prīti

False are all these material ornaments; true is only the love of my Beloved.

jhūṭhā pāṭ paṭambarā rē jhūṭhā dikh ḍaṇī cīr

False are the fine silks and satins, false are the clothes worn just for show.

sācī piyājī rī gōdhḍī
jāmē nirmal rahē śarīr

True is the simple, patched blanket given by my Beloved, in which the body remains pure.

chappan bhōg buhāy dē hē iṇu bhōgan mēṃ dāg

Cast away the fifty-six royal delicacies, For there is a hidden taint in those pleasures.

lūṇ alūṇō hī bhalō hē apnē piyājī rō sāg

Whether salted or unsalted, far better is the simple fare of my own Beloved.

ā... ō sahelārali karāṃ hē, par ghar gavaṇu nivāri

Come, my friends, let us make merry together, and stop wandering to the houses of strangers.

dēkhi birāṇē nivāṇ kūṃ
hē kyūṃ upjāvē khīj

Looking at another's lush, well-irrigated field, why let envy and frustration breed in your heart?

kālar apṇō hī bhalō hē
jāmē nipjai cīj

Our own dry land is better, As it yields a harvest that is rightfully ours.

ā... ō sahelārali karāṃ he, par ghar gavaṇu nivāri

Come, my friends, let us make merry together, And stop wandering to the houses of strangers.

abināśī sūṃ bālabā
hē jin sūṃ sāci prīt

My beloved is the Imperishable One, with whom my love is everlasting and true.

mīrā kūṃ prabhujī milyā haiṃ ē hī bhagati kī rīt

Meera has found her Lord; this is the true way of devotion.

ā... ō sahelārali karāṃ he, par ghar gavaṇu nivāri

Come, my friends, let us make merry together, And stop wandering to the houses of strangers.

NILAMBHUJA NAYANE (TULU)

Nīlāmbuja nayanē am'mā īreg teriṇḍe
ī bēneda cittada dukhōlu

O Mother with blue lotus eyes, will You not listen to the sobbing of this sorrowful heart?

Vov-ā janmaḍ maltina karmōḍ ēkāṅgi-yād yān āleyond- ulle

Perhaps due to the deeds of some past birth I am wandering alone.

Nīlāmbuja nayanē am'mā īreg teriṇḍe
ī bēneda cittada dukhōlu

O Mother with blue lotus eyes, will You not listen to the sobbing of this sorrowful heart?

Yuga yuga yuga di ciñ puṭṭu-du yān ī yuga sandhiyi-ḍ tik-d būr-dē

I have passed through ages and ages before taking birth now.

Appu-vare muddu malpu-vare irena jakkel-ḍ kullā-vare am'ma

Will You not hold me to You with a motherly hug and put me on Your lap?

Nīlāmbuja nayanē am'mā īreg teriṇḍe
ī bēneda cittada dukhōlu

O Mother with blue lotus eyes, will You not listen to the sobbing of this sorrowful heart?

Yōgya-yān at-tend appe bālen tyāga malpu-vare yōga-dhātri

We may not be deserving but, O Mother, will You forsake us children for that reason?

Bar-pare īr kaital Leppu-vare īr irenā kṛpā onte koru-pare īr am'ma

Won't You come and, holding me close, give me a merciful glance?

Nīlāmbuja nayanē am'mā īreg teriṇḍe
ī bēneda cittada dukhōlu

O Mother with blue lotus eyes, will You not listen to the sobbing of this sorrowful heart?

AMME..SHINING WITHIN ME (ENGLISH)

Amme... Amme... Amme... Amme...
Amme... Amme... Amme... Amme...

Shining within me, awakening within you Everywhere you look, she is there

Spreading the message of love and devotion Showering the children with sweet divine kisses

Amma has come as our own dearest mother
Full to the brim with the love we are craving

Even though you are far away, a fountain of mercy
You are aware of my sorrows

With your tender compassion, you remove all my pain

Holding my hand, you walk right beside me
Guiding me towards the light

With your beautiful smile,
you light up my life

COME TO ME - REMOVE ALL FEAR (ENGLISH)

Remove all fear
Come from where you are to here
Let your eyes meet mine

For a moment let your heart be mine
Come to me

I will take away your sorrow, come to me
I will open your tomorrow, come to me

I will open up your heart, come to me
We will never be apart

May love mesmerize your soul
May the devas make you whole

Can you align yourself in constant devotion?
Find your liberation

The tears of kindness come
When you love everyone

Your precious soul is finally found Love, infinite love brings you round
Come to me

I will take away your sorrow, come to me
I will open your tomorrow, come to me

I will open up your heart, come to me
We will never be apart

Come to me...
Come, children...
Find the inner one, come children...

Anandamayi Ma...Premamayi Ma
Anandamayi Ma...Premamayi Ma...

FLOWER OF MY HEART (HṚDAYA PUṢPAMĒ) (ENGLISH)

Tell me my child of these tears I see How they gently reveal
The secrets of your soul

Are they the pain of love
Are they from gratefulness
Or are they joy breaking free

Tell me why these tears I see
Tell me why these tears I see

Can you taste ambrosia
In the tears of sacred memories
How bittersweet the pain devotion brings

Even tears can cry
When darkest fears won't die

But truth lies behind sorrow's door
Truth lies behind sorrow's door

Flower of my heart
Why these misty eyes

Oh how clearly reflecting
The beauty in your soul

DARAS BIN DŪKHAN (BRAJ BHASHA)

daras bin dūkhan lāgē nain

Without catching a glimpse of You, my eyes have begun to ache with grief.

jab tēṃ tum bichurē prabhu jī kabahūṃ na pāyō cain

Ever since You parted from me, O Lord, I have not found a single moment of peace.

śabad sunat mērī chatiyāṁ tharkēṃ mīṭhē lāgēṃ bain

Just hearing Your name or sound makes my heart tremble with anticipation; Your words taste so sweet to my soul.

ūṁcī caḍhi caḍhi panth nihārū bhayī chamāsī rain

Again and again I climb to the highest rooftop to search the horizon for Your path, And a single night stretches out like six long months.

bhayī chamāsī rain....bhayī chamāsī rain

A single night stretches out like six long months.

birah bithā kāsoṃ kahūṁ sajanī bah gayī karvaṭ rain

To whom can I tell this agony of separation, O dear friend? I spend the entire night tossing and turning in pain.

mīrā kē prabhu kab rē milōgē
duḥkh mēṭan sukh dain

O Lord of Mira, when will You finally meet me— To wipe away my sorrow and grant me ultimate bliss?

duḥkh mēṭan sukh dain...duḥkh mēṭan sukh dain

To wipe away my sorrow and grant me ultimate bliss

HARI DARASANU KĪ PYĀSĪ (BRAJ BHASHA)

hari darasana kī pyāsī akhiyāṃ hari darasana kī pyāsī
My eyes thirst for a glimpse of the Lord.

dēkhyō cāhat kamal nainana kō nisadin rahat udāsī akhiyāṃ hari darasan kī pyāsī
Day and night they remain sorrowful, longing only to see the one with lotus eyes.

kēsar tilak mōtin kī mālā vṛndāvan kē vāsī
He wears a saffron mark on His forehead and a necklace of pearls, He who dwells in Vrindavan.

nēh lagāyē tyāg gayē tṛna sam ḍāl gayē gal phāṁsī
After binding me in love, He abandoned me as if I were a mere blade of grass, leaving a noose of longing around my neck.

akhiyāṃ hari darasan kī pyāsī
My eyes thirst for a glimpse of the Lord.

kāhu kē man kī kō jānat lōgan kē man hāṁsī Who truly understands the heart of another? People only mock and judge.

sūrdās prabhu tumharē daras bin lēhō karavaṭ kāśī Surdas says, O Lord, without Your sight, I am ready to turn my back on life itself and perish in Kashi.

akhiyāṃ hari darasan kī pyāsī
My eyes thirst for a glimpse of the Lord.

KUÑJAN BAN CHĀḌI (BRAJ BHASHA)

kuñjan ban chāḍi hai mādhō kahāṁ jāūṁ un chāṁv?

The lush green groves of Vrindavan have been left behind, O Madhava; where else shall I go to find such shade?

jō maiṁ hōtī jal kī
machaliyā prabhu kar dehō śyāma

If only I were a fish in the water—O Lord, make me so, my Shyam

caraṇ chunetī he mādhō
kahāṁ jāūṁ un chāṁv? !

I would gently touch and kiss Your feet, O Madhava. Where else shall I go to find such shade?

jō maiṁ hōtī ban kī kōyaliyā gaiyā carāvan ātē

If only I were a cuckoo bird in the forest; when You came to graze the cows, gōhiyā suntī hē mādhō

kahāṁ jāūṁ un chāṁv?

You would listen to my sweet cooing, O Madhava. Where else shall I go to find such shade?

jō maiṁ hōtī sīp kī
mōtī galā bich jōtī jāyā

If only I were a pearl from an oyster shell, woven into a necklace for Your neck.

hiyā pe caḍh rahatī re mādhō
kahāṁ jāūṁ un chāṁv?

I would rest right upon Your heart, O Madhava. Where else shall I go to find such shade?

jō tum cāhō milan hamārō... (mīrā kē ghanaśyām) daraś binā yāku na cain... (mīrā kē ghanaśyām)

If You desire our union... O Ghanshyam of Meera! Without a glimpse of You, this heart finds no peace...

mādhō kahāṁ jāūṁ un chāṁv... (mīrā kē ghanaśyām) mīrā kē ghanaśyām mādhō mīrā kē ghanaśyām

O Madhava, where else shall I go to find such shade? O Madhava, the Ghanshyam of Meera!

MAIṀ HARI CARANANU KĪ DĀSĪ (BRAJ BHASHA)

maiṁ hari carananu kī dāsī malin viṣay ras tyāgē jag kē

I am a servant at the feet of Hari. Having abandoned the defiling pleasures of the world, rām nām ras pyāsī

janam janam kī dāsī

I thirst only for the nectar of Ram's name—his servant through lifetime after lifetime.

duḥkh apamān kaṣṭ sab sahiyā kūṭil jagat kī hāṁsī

I have endured all sorrow, insult, and hardship, as well as the mockery of this cruel world.

mīrā kahē prabhu giridhar nāgar
mōṭō jagat kī phāṃsī

Mira says, O Lord Giridhar Nagar, the noose of this worldly existence is heavy.

āvō prītam sundar nirupam antar hōt udāsī

Come, my beautiful, incomparable Beloved, for my heart grows desolate without You.

mānat nahīṃ manu dhīraj mōhanu taḍpat nis din dāsī

My mind refuses to be patient, O Mohan; Your servant suffers day and night.

sāṃvariyā mōhaniyā nāgariyā mērō priyā prabhu āvō āvō jī prabhu āvō āvō jī

O dark-complexioned One, O enchanter, O skillful One, my Beloved—Lord come, please come; Lord come, please come.

PYĀRĒ DARASANU DĪJŌ ĀYĒ (BRAJ BHASHA)

pyārē darasanu dījō āyē tum bina rahyō na jāyē

O Beloved, grant me Your vision, come to me, I can no longer live without you.

jal bina kamal
candra bina rajanī
vaise tum dēkhyāṃ bina sajanī

As a lotus cannot exist without water, or the night without the moon, So I, O my Beloved, cannot survive without seeing You.

ākul vyākul phirūṃ rain din virah kalējō khāyē

Restless and deeply distressed, I wander night and day. The pain of separation consumes my heart.

divasanu bhūkh nīnd nahīṃ rainā mukh sūkat tan āvē bainā

By day I feel no hunger, by night I find no sleep; my mouth goes dry, and my body falters.

kahā kahūṃ kachu kahat na āvē mil kar tapan bujhāyō

What can I say? No words can express what I feel. Please meet me, and quench this burning torment.

kyūṅ tarasāvō antaryāmī āya milō kṛpā kar svāmī

Why do you make me yearn so, O Indweller of hearts? Have mercy and come meet me, grant your grace, O Lord.

mīrā dāsī janam janam kī paḍī tihārō pās mīrā

Mira is your servant birth after birth, Lying prostrate by Your Holy Feet forever.

BHAGAVAD GĪTĀ (SANSKRIT)

dharmakṣētrē kurukṣētrē samavētā yuyutsavaḥ māmakāḥ pāṇḍavāścaiva kimakurvata sañjaya (1.1)

Dhritarashtra said: O Sanjaya, assembled at Kurukshetra, the field of dharma, and eager to fight, what did my sons and the sons of Pandu do?

dṛṣṭvēmaṃ sva-janaṃ kṛṣṇa yuyutsuṃ samupasthitam sīdanti mama gātrāṇi mukhaṃ ca pariśuṣyati

Arjuna said: seeing my own kinsmen here standing with a desire to fight, O Krishna, my limbs are failing and my mouth is drying up. (1.27)

na jāyatē mriyatē vā kadācin nāyaṃ bhūtvā bhavitā vā na bhūyaḥ ajō nityaḥ śāśvatō 'yaṃ purāṇō na hanyatē hanyamānē śarīrē (2-20)

The soul is never born, nor does it ever die; it has not come into being, does not come into being, and will not come into being. It is unborn, eternal, everlasting, and ancient. It is not slain when the body is slain.

sukha-duḥkhē samē kṛtvā lābhālābhau jayājayau tatō yuddhāya yujyasva naivaṃ pāpam avāpsyasi (2-38)

Treat pleasure and pain, gain and loss, victory and defeat as the same. Then engage in battle, and you will not incur sin.

karmaṇy ēvādhikāras tē mā phalēṣu kadācana mā karma-phala-hētur bhūr mā tē saṅgō 'stv akarmaṇi (2-47)

You have the right to perform your prescribed duties, but never to the fruits of your actions. Don't let the fruits be your motive, nor let your attachment be to inaction.

dhyāyatō viṣayān puṃsaḥ saṅgas tēṣūpajāyatē saṅgāt sañjāyatē kāmaḥ kāmāt krōdhō 'bhijāyatē (2-62)

While contemplating the objects of the senses, a person develops attachment. From attachment arises desire, and from desire comes anger.

krōdhād bhavati sammōhaḥ sammōhāt smṛti-vibhramaḥ smṛti-bhraṃśād buddhi-nāśō buddhi-nāśāt praṇaśyati (2-63)

From anger arises confusion; from confusion, loss of memory; from loss of memory, the destruction of intelligence; and when intelligence is lost, one is ruined.

rāga-dvēṣa-vimuktais tu viṣayān indriyaiś caran ātmavaśyair vidhēyātmā prasādam adhigacchati (2-64)

But one who moves among the objects of the senses, free from attachment and aversion, with the senses under control, attains peace.

prasādē sarva-duḥkhānāṃ hānir asyōpajāyatē prasanna-cētasō hy āśu buddhiḥ paryavatiṣṭhatē (2-65)

In that peace, all sorrows are destroyed. The intellect of the person with a peaceful mind soon becomes steady.

yajñārthātkarmaṇō'nyatra lōkō'yaṃ karmabandhanaḥ tadarthaṃ karma kauntēya muktasaṅgaḥ samācara (3-9)

Work done as a sacrifice for the sake of the divine sustains the world; therefore, perform your duty without attachment, O son of Kunti.

karmaṇō hyapi bōddhavyaṃ bōddhavyaṃ ca vikarmaṇaḥ akarmaṇaśca bōddhavyaṃ gahanā karmaṇō gatiḥ (4-17)

You must understand what is right action, wrong action, and inaction. The nature of action is indeed mysterious and deep.

brahmaṇyādhāya karmāṇi saṅgaṃ tyaktvā karōti yaḥ lipyatē na sa pāpēna padmapatramivāmbhasā (5-10)

One who performs actions as an offering to Brahman, abandoning attachment, is not stained by sin, just as a lotus leaf is untouched by water.

bandhur ātmātmanas tasya yēnātmaivātmanā jitaḥ anātmanaḥ tu śatrutvē vartētātmaiva śatruvat (6-6)

For the one who has conquered the mind, the Self is a friend. But for one who has not, the Self acts as an enemy.

mattaḥ parataraṃ nānyat kiñcid asti dhanañjaya mayi sarvam idaṃ prōtaṃ sūtrē maṇi-gaṇā iva (7-7)

There is nothing higher than me, O Dhanañjaya. All this is strung on me like pearls on a thread.

antakālē ca mām ēva smaran muktvā kalēvaram yaḥ prayāti sa mad bhāvaṃ yāti nāsty atra saṃśayaḥ (8-5)

At the time of death, one who remembers me, leaving the body, surely attains my being; there is no doubt about this.

ananyāś cintayantō māṃ yē janāḥ paryupāsatē tēṣāṃ nityābhiyuktānāṃ yoga- kṣēmaṃ vahāmy aham (9-22)

But those who always think of me with exclusive devotion and serve me with love, I personally take care of their welfare and protection.

api cēt sudurācārō bhajatē mām ananya-bhāk sādhur ēva sa mantavyaḥ samyag vyavasitō hi saḥ (9-30)

Even if the worst sinner worships me with exclusive devotion, he is considered righteous because he is rightly resolved.

kṣipraṃ bhavati dharmātmā śaśvacchāntiṃ nigacchati kauntēya pratijānīhi na mē bhaktaḥ praṇaśyati (9-31)

Those who are devoted to me quickly become righteous and attain lasting peace. O son of Kunti, declare this firmly: my devotee never perishes.

aham ātmā guḍākēśa sarva-bhūtāśaya-sthitaḥ aham ādiś ca madhyaṃ ca bhūtānām anta ēva ca (10-20)

O Guḍākeśa, I am the Self seated in the hearts of all beings. I am the beginning, the middle, and the end of all beings.

divi sūryasahasrasya bhavēd yugapad utthitā yadi bhāḥ sadṛśī sā syād bhāsas tasya mahātmanaḥ (11-12)

If a thousand suns were to rise simultaneously in the sky, their radiance might resemble the splendor of that great being.

yasmānnōdvijatē lōkō lōkānnōdvijatē ca yaḥ harṣāmarṣabhayōdvēgairmuktō yaḥ sa ca mē priyaḥ (12-15)

He by whom the world is not agitated and who is not agitated by the world, free from joy, envy, fear and anxiety - such a person is dear to me.

idaṃ śarīraṃ kauntēya kṣētram ity abhidhīyatē ētad yō vetti taṃ prāhuḥ kṣētrajña iti tadvidaḥ (13-2)

O son of Kunti, this body is called the field (Kṣetra), and one who knows it is called the knower of the field (Kṣetrajña) by those who understand these matters.

sattvaṃ rajas tama iti guṇāḥ prakṛtisambhavāḥ nibadhnanti mahābāhō dēhē dēhinam avyayam (14-5)

Goodness, passion, and darkness— these are the qualities born of nature, O Mighty-Armed One. They bind the immutable embodied soul to the body.

mamaivāṃśō jīva-lōkē jīva-bhūtaḥ sanātanaḥ manaḥ-ṣaṣṭhānīndriyāṇi prakṛtisthāni karṣati (15-7)

An eternal portion of myself, having become the living soul in the world of life, draws to itself the mind and the five senses resting in nature.

tējaḥ kṣamā dhṛtiḥ śaucam adrōhō nātimānitā bhavanti sampadaṃ daivīm abhijātasya bhārata (16-3)

Energy, forbearance, determination, purity, freedom from malice, and humility—these are the qualities of the divine wealth, O Bhārata, in one who is born with divine qualities.

sattvānurūpā sarvasya śraddhā bhavati bhārata śraddhāmayō'yaṃ puruṣō yō yacchraddhaḥ sa ēva saḥ (17-3)

According to the nature of each person, their faith is of a particular type. O Bharata, the person is made up of their faith, and their faith shapes them.

sarvadharmānparityajya māmēkaṃ śaraṇaṃ vraja ahaṃ tvā sarvapāpēbhyō mōkṣayiṣyāmi mā śuchaḥ (18-66)

Renounce all duties and take refuge in me alone. I will deliver you from all sins; do not grieve.

BHALĀ HUVĀ MŌRĪ MAṬKĪ (HINDI)

bhalā huvā mōrī maṭkī phuṭī maiṃ tō paniyā bharan sē chūṭī rē

Good that my water-pot broke — I am freed from the labor of fetching water.

mōrē sar sē ṭalī balā, ō balā... mōre sar sē ṭalī balā

A great burden has been lifted from my head, oh a great burden is gone!

har marē tō... ham marē
aur hamrī marē balā... ō

If the Lord dies, then I die; Until then, let whatever else dies be gone! (transient sorrows)

sāṁcē gur kā bālakā
marē na mārā jāyē kabīrā marē na mārā jāyē

The child of a true spiritual master (Guru) can neither die, nor can they ever be destroyed, says Kabīr.

bhalā huvā mōrē sar sē, mōrē sar sē ṭalī balā

A great burden has been lifted from my head, oh a great burden is gone!

ādhī raini khaṇḍ bhayō
aur sōyē khalak jahāṁ... ō

Midnight has arrived, splitting the night in two, the entire world is fast asleep in ignorance.

cākō cin kā pī hoki
bāṃkō nīṃd ka hāyē kabīrā bāṃkō nīṃd ka hāyē

But for the one whose heart is awake to their beloved, how can sleep ever overtake them?, asks Kabir

bhalā huvā mōrē sar sē, mōrē sar sē ṭalī balā

A great burden has been lifted from my head, oh a great burden is gone!

had had kartē... sab gayē aur bēhad gayō na kōyī... ō

Everyone travels up to the marked boundary, But no one crosses over into the boundless.

anahad kē maidān mēṃ
rahā kabīrā sōyē kabīrā rahā kabīrā sōyē

In the vast, open meadow of the unstruck cosmic sound (Anahad), Kabir has laid down to rest.

bhalā huvā mōrē sar sē, mōrē sar sē ṭalī balā

A great burden has been lifted from my head, oh a great burden is gone!

had had japē sō auliyā
aur bēhad japē sō pīr ō

Those who chant within the boundaries of name and form are called saints, and those who contemplate the boundless are called masters.

had anahad dōnōṃ japē
bāṃkō nām phakīr kabīrā bāṃkō nām phakīr

But the one who transcends both the bounded and the boundless, Kabīr calls that one a true Fakir.

bhalā huvā mōrē sar sē, mōrē sar sē ṭalī balā

A great burden has been lifted from my head, oh a great burden is gone!

kabīrā kuāṁ ēk hai
sō pānī bharē anēk ō

The well is one, says Kabīr, yet many are those who draw from it.

bhāṇḍē hī mēṃ bhēd hai
pānī sab mēṃ ēk kabīrā
pānī sab mēṃ ēk

The difference belongs to the vessels alone; in all of them the water is one.

bhalā huvā mōrē sar sē, mōrē sar sē ṭalī balā

A great burden has been lifted from my head, oh a great burden is gone!

RĀM MILAṆ KĒ KĀJ (BRAJ BHASHA)

rām milaṇ kē kāj sakhī mērē ārati ur mēṃ jāgī rī

O friend, a deep longing to meet my Lord has awakened in my heart.

taḍpat taḍpat kal na parat hai birah-bāṇ ur lāgī rī

I am consumed by longing and cannot find a moment's peace. The arrow of separation has pierced my heart.

nisdin panth nihārūṃ pīv kō palak na pal bhar lāgī rī

Day and night I watch the path for my Beloved, and my eyes do not close even for an instant.

pīv pīv maiṃ raṭūṃ rāt-din dūjī sudh-budh bhāgī rī

Night and day I repeat, "beloved, beloved," and all other thoughts have vanished.

birah bhujaṅg mērō ḍasyō kalejō lahar halāhal jāgī rī

The serpent of separation has bitten my heart, and waves of deadly poison surge through me.

mērī ārati meṭi gōsāīṁ
āy milau mōhi sāgī rī

O Lord, remove this pain of longing. Come and reveal Yourself to me.

mīrā vyākul ati ukalāṇī
piyā kī umaṅg ati lāgī rī

Meera is utterly restless and overwhelmed, her whole being filled with an intense yearning for her Beloved.

KŌ BIRAHINĪ KŌ DUḤKH (BRAJ BHASHA)

kō birahinī kō duḥkh jānē hō mīrā kē pati āp ramaiyāṃ dūjō nāhīṃ kōyī chānē hō

Who can truly understand the sorrow of one who longs for the beloved? O Lord, You alone are Mirās beloved; she knows no one else in whom to seek refuge.

rōgī antar vaid basat haiṃ vaid hī auṣadh jānē hō

Within the suffering soul dwells the divine physician, and only that physician knows the right remedy.

sab jag pūrō kaṇṭak duniyā dard na kōyī pichāṇ hō

This whole world is full of hardship and thorns, and scarcely anyone can truly understand another's pain.

jā ghaṭ birahā sōyī na kīnē kai kōyī harijan mēṃ nahīṃ hō

Only one who has experienced the pain of separation can recognise it in another devotee.

birah dard urī antari māhīṃ hari bin sab sukh pānī hō

This aching longing lives deep within the heart, and without Hari, all the pleasures of the world are as fleeting and insubstantial as water.

PRABHU MERE AVAGUN (HINDI)

prabhu mērē avaguṇ cit na dharō kānhā avaguṇ cit na dharō

O Lord, do not dwell on my faults, do not keep my shortcomings in Your mind.

samadarśī prabhu nām tihārō cāhō tō pār karō

Your very nature is to see all with equal vision; if You so wish, You can carry me across the ocean of worldly existence.

ēk lōhā pūjā mēṃ rākhat ēk ghar badhik parō

One piece of iron is placed in a temple for worship, while another lies in the house of a butcher.

sō duvidhā pāras nahīṃ dēkhat kañcan karat kharō

Yet the philosopher's stone makes no such distinction—it turns both alike into pure gold.

ēk nadiyā ēk nāl kahāvat mailō nīr bharō

One is called a river and another a small stream, though both may carry muddy water.

jab mil kē dōvū ēk baraṇ bhayē surasari nām parō

But when they flow together, they become one, and all know them by the name of the sacred Ganga.

ēk māyā ēk brahm kahāvat sūr śyām jhagarō

One speaks of Māyā and another of Brahman; thus people argue over such distinctions.

abkī bēru mōhi pār utārō nahīṃ praṇ jāt ṭarō

O Dark One, this time please carry me across. Do not let Your sacred promise fail.

kānhā kānhā kānhā kānhā kānhā kānhā

O Krishna...

HARI ĀVAN KĪ (HINDI)

hari āvan kī hari āvan kī hari āvan kī āvāz

Of Hari's arrival....Hari's arrival...Hari's arrival

āj sunī maiṃ hari
āvan kī āvāz

Today I heard the sound of Hari's arrival!

mahalan chaḍhī jō mōrī
sajnī kab āvē mahārāj

I climbed to the palace terraces and asked my friend, "When will my Lord come?"

dādur mōr papīhā bōlē
kōyal madhur sāz

The frogs call, the peacocks call, the chatak birds cry, and the koel sings its sweet melody.

kōyaliyā kōyaliyā
kōyal madhur sāz

And the koel sings its sweet melody

barsē būm̐diyāṃ mēghā bōlē dāmīnī chōḍi lāj

Raindrops begin to fall, the clouds rumble, and the lightning flashes boldly.

dharati rūp navām̐ badariyā piya milan kē āj

The earth has taken on a fresh new beauty beneath the rain clouds, for today is the day of meeting the beloved.

mīrā kā cit virah na mānē jald milō mahārāj

Mirās heart can no longer bear the pain of separation. Come quickly, my Lord, come quickly...

MHĀRĀ ŌLAGIYĀ GHAR (MARWARI)

mhārā ōlagiyā ghar āyā jī āyā jī

My Beloved has come home.

tan kī tāp miṭī sukh pāyā

The burning pain of my body has disappeared, and I have found peace and joy.

hilmil maṅgal gāyā jī gāyā jī

Together, everyone sang songs of auspicious celebration.

ghan kī dhuni suni mōr magan bhayā yūṁ mērē ānand chāyā jī chāyā jī

Hearing the sound of the rain clouds, the peacock became filled with delight. In the same way, joy spread through me.

magan bhayī mil prabhu apṇā sūṁ bhaukā dard miṭāyā jī miṭāyā jī

I was overcome with bliss on meeting my Lord, and my deep pain was removed.

caṃd kūṁ nirakhi kamodaṇi phūlaiṃ harṣi bhayā mērē kāyā jī

As the water lilies bloom on seeing the moon, so my whole being blossomed with happiness.

rag rag śītal bhayī mērī sajanī hari mērē mahal sidhāyā jī sidhāyā jī

Every part of me became cool and peaceful, dear friend, for Hari has come into my home.

sab bhagatan kā kāraj kīnhā
sōyī prabhu maiṁ pāyā jī

The same Lord who has fulfilled the needs of all devotees is the one whom I have found.

mīrā birahaṇi sītal hōyī dukh dvand dūr nasāyā jī nasāyā jī

Who long suffered the pain of separation, has now become peaceful. All sorrow and suffering have been driven far away.

ĀLĪ RĪ MĒRĒ NAIṆĀṂ (MARWARI)

ālī rī mhānē

ālī rī mērē naiṇāṃ bāṇ paḍī naiṇāṃ bāṇ paḍī... naiṇāṃ bāṇ paḍī

O friend, my eyes have been struck by love's arrow.

cit caḍhī mērē mādhurī mūrat ur vic ān aḍī

The sweet form of my beloved has filled my mind and has become firmly established within my heart.

kab kī ṭhāḍhī paṃth nihārūṁ apnē bhavan khaḍī

For so long I have stood at the doorway of my home, watching the path and waiting for him to come.

kaisē prāṇ piyā bin rākhūṁ jīvan mūr jaḍī

How can I keep my life within me without my beloved? Without him, my life has become still and lifeless.

mīrā giridhar mīrā
hāth bikānī lōg kahēṁ bigaḍī

Mira has sold herself into the hands of Giridhar, though people say she has lost her senses.

ĀLĪ RĪ MHĀNĒ LĀGĒ (MARWARI)

ālī rī mhānē lāgē ālī rī mhānē lāgē ālī rī mhānē lāgē vṛndāvan nīkō

O my friend, the sight of Vrindavan has become so dear to me.

ghar-ghar tulasī ṭhākur pūjā darśan gōvinda jī kō

Every household worships the Lord with sacred Tulsi; everywhere one beholds Lord Govinda.

nirmal nīr bahat yamunā mēṃ bhōjan dūdh-dahī kō

The Yamuna flows with pure waters; milk and curd are the food of the land.

ratan siṃhāsan āp birājē mukuṭ dharyō tulasī kō

The Lord Himself sits upon a jewelled throne, adorned with a crown of Tulsi leaves.

kuñjan-kuñjan phirat rādhikā sabad sunat muralī kō

Radha wanders through every grove, listening for the sound of Krishnās flute.

mīrā kē prabhu giridhar nāgar
bhajan binā nar phīkō

Mirās Lord is the charming Giridhar; without devotion, human life is tasteless and empty.

RĒ MANA MŪRAKH (BRAJ BHASHA)

rē mana mūrakh

2026 (Braj Bhāṣā)

rē mana mūrakh janam gavāyau kari abhimāna viṣaya-ras gīdhyau śyāma śaraṇa nahi āyau

O foolish mind, you squandered this precious birth away; swallowed by pride and sensory pleasures, you never sought the refuge of Shyam.

yah saṃsāra suvā sēmar jyauṁ sundara dēkhi lubhāyau

This world to you, is like the Semara tree (red silk-cotton tree) and the parrot. Seeing the beautiful fruit, the parrot is tempted and tries to eat it, cākhan lāgyau ruyi gayi uḍi hātha kachū nahīṁ āyau

...but the fruit yields only cotton fluff – blown away by the wind. The bird gains nothing.

kahā hōta ab kē pachitāyē pahilai pāp kamāyau

What is the use of regretting now, after spending your life in wrongdoing?

kahata sūr bhagavanta bhajan binu sira dhuni-dhuni pachitāyau

Says Surdas: without devotion to the Lord, you can only beat your head in woe and remorse.

śyām bōlō śyām bōlō
śyām śyām śyām

Chant the name of Shyam, the dark-hued one!

SĀHAB HAM MĒṂ (HINDI)

sāhab ham mēṃ sāhab tum mēṃ jaise prāṇā bīj mēṃ
sāhab ham mēṃ sāhab tum mēṃ

The Lord is in me, the Lord is in You, as life resides in every seed. The Lord is in me, the Lord is in You, in You...

mat kar bandā ghumān dil mēṃ khōj dēkh lē tan mēṃ

Do not hold vanity in your heart, O man, seek the divine within yourself;

kōṭi sūr jahāṁ kartē jhilmil nīl siṃdh sōhē gagan

Where ten million suns shimmer and shine, and an azure ocean adorns the sky...

sab tāp miṭ jāyē dēhī kē nirmal hōy baiṭhī jag mēṃ

Where all the afflictions of the embodied soul are washed away, and one remains pure while living in the world;

anahad ghaṇṭā bajē mṛdaṅgā tan sukh lēhī pyār mēṃ

Where the unstruck cosmic bell and drum resound, where the self experiences bliss in the love of God;

bin pānī lāgī jahāṁ barakhā mōtī dēkhī nadin mēṃ

Where the rain falls without water... where pearls are seen in the inner stream.

ēk prēm brahmāṇḍ chāy rahyō samajhē haiṃ biralē pūrā

There is indeed one love that pervades and envelops the whole universe; rare are those who fully comprehend it.

aṃdh bhēdī kahāṁ samajhēṃge jñāna kē ghar tē dūrā

How can those blinded by outward distinctions understand?

The abode of true knowledge remains far from them.

baḍē bhāg alamast raṃg mēṃ kabīrā bōlē ghaṭ mēṃ

By great good fortune, immersed in ecstatic bliss, Kabir speaks from within the heart

haṃs ubāran dukh nivāraṇ āvāgaman miṭē chan mēṃ

To redeem the soul and remove all sorrow; the cycle of birth and death is erased in a single moment.

bhagavān... bhagavān... bhagavān...

O Lord...

CALŌ AGAM KĒ DĒŚ (HINDI)

calō agam kē dēś
kāl dēkhat ḍarē
prēm kā hōj vahāṁ bhariyā

Let us depart to the unreachable realm, where death and time tremble in fear. There, the reservoir of love is brimming,

haṃs kēli karē
haṃs kēli karē

...and enlightened souls sport in joyful bliss.

sādhu saṃt kī saṅgati vahāṁ jñān kī bāt karē
dharam karam kā nāhīṃ jhagḍā

In the company of saintly souls, discourses of divine wisdom unfold. Free from the conflicts of religious dogma and rituals, amṛt ras jharē

amṛt ras jharē

...the nectar of immortality flows continuously.

śyām nām ras pījiyē
man nirmal karē
śīl saṃtōṣ kē ghuṃgarū bāṁdh

Drink the divine essence of the holy name, purifying the mind completely. Adorned with the anklets of virtue and contentment, prēm magan phirē

prēm magan phirē

... wander freely, immersed in pure love.

sōlah śṛṅgār sahaj hī sōhē tan man ujarē
mīrā kē prabhu giridhar nāgar

Adorned effortlessly with the sixteen embellishments of physical beauty, body and mind shine with luminous purity. O Lord of Mira, the divine holder of the mountain, prēm binā na tarē

prēm binā na tarē

... none can cross the ocean of existence without love.

RĀM MILAṆ RŌ GHAṆŌ (BRAJ BHASHA)

rām milaṇ rō ghaṇō umāvō
nit uṭh jōūṃ bāṭaḍiyāṃ...
nit uṭh jōūṃ bāṭaḍiyāṃ

Great is my longing to meet Lord Rama, Every single day, I wake up and watch the path for him.

daras binā mōhi kachu na suhāvai jak na paḍat hai āṁkhaḍiyāṃ

Without His divine sight, nothing pleases me, and my eyes find no rest or peace.

taḍpat taḍpat bahu din bītē paḍī birah kī phāṁsaḍiyāṃ

Days have passed in agonizing torment, trapped in the severe tight noose of separation.

ab tō bēg dayā kar pyārā maiṃ chūṃ thārī dāsaḍiyāṃ

O my beloved, show mercy to me without delay, for I am Your humble maidservant.

naiṇ dukhī darasaṇ kū tarsaiṃ nābhi na baiṭhēṃ sāṁsaḍiyāṃ

My distressed eyes ache for a sight of You, My breath remains restless, unanchored in my core.

rāt-divas hiya ārat mērō kab hari rākhai pāsaḍiyāṃ

Day and night, my heart aches with yearning—when will Hari keep me close to Him?

lagī lagan chūṭaṇa kī nāhīṃ
ab kyūn kījai āṁṭaḍiyāṃ

This devotion and love that has taken root can never be undone or let go; why do You hesitate or test me now?

mīrā kē prabhu kab rē milōgē

pūrō man kī āsaḍiyāṃ

O Lord of Meera, when will You finally meet me and fulfill the deepest desires of my heart?

rām harē kṛṣṇa harē

PAG GHUṄGHARŪ BĀṀDH (MARWARI)

pag ghuṅgharū bāṁdh mīrā nācī rē mīrā nācī rē... mīrā nācī rē...

Tying anklets to her feet, Meera danced! Meera danced... Meera danced...

maiṃ tō apnē nārāyaṇ kī āp hī hō gayī dāsī rē

I have, of my own accord, become a handmaiden to my Lord Narayan.

lōg kahē mīrā bhayī bāvarī nyāti kahē kul-nāsī rē

The world proclaims, "Meera has gone mad," while her kin decry her as the destroyer of family honor.

nāci nāci piya rasik rijhāūṁ prēmī jan kō jācūṁgī rē

As I dance and dance, I shall charm my blissful Beloved, and test who among them are true lovers of the Divine.

prēm prīt kē bāṁdh ghuṅgharū surat kī kachanī kāchūṁgī rē

I tie on anklets made of love and affection,I shall drape on me, the garment of divine recollection.

lōk lāj kul kī mariyādā
yā mēṃ ēk na rākhūṁgī rē

Public shame and family prestige— I shall preserve not a single trace of them.

piyā kē caraṇōṃ mēṃ baiṭhūṁgī mēṃ mīrā hari raṅg rācūṁgī rē

I shall seat myself at the feet of my beloved; Meera will steep herself fully in the hue of Hari.

viṣ kā pyālā rāṇā bhējyā pīvat mīrā hāṁsī rē

The Rana sent a cup of poison, which Meera drank with a smile upon her lips.

mīrā kē prabhu giridhar nāgar sahaj milē abināsī rē

Meera's Lord is Giridhar Nagara, the imperishable Lord, who is effortlessly met through pure devotion.

SADGURU SŌYĪ DAYĀ (BRAJ BHASHA)

sadguru sōyī dayā kari dīnhā tātē ancinhārā maiṅ cīnhā

My true guru showed great mercy upon me; because of that grace, I recognized that ultimate reality which was previously unknown to me.

bin pag calnā bin par uḍṇā binā cōm̐c kā cugnā

Walking without feet, flying without wings, and pecking/feeding without a beak.

binā nain kā dēkhan-pēkhan binā sarvan kā sunanā

Seeing without physical eyes, and listening without physical ears.

caṃd na sūr divas nahīṃ rainā tahāṁ surat lau lai

Where there is neither moon nor sun, neither day nor night, there my consciousness merged in deep meditation.

binā ann amṛt-ras-bhojan bin jal tṛṣā bujhāyī

I feasted on the divine nectar without food, and my thirst was quenched without water.

jahāṁ haras tahāṁ pūraṇ sukh hai yah sukh kāsau kahnā

Where divine joy reigns, there is absolute bliss; to whom can one describe such bliss?

kahai kabīr bal bal satguru kī dhan śiṣya kā lahanā

Kabir says: I surrender myself completely to the true guru; blessed is the disciple who receives such a treasure.

SANTŌ SAHAJ SAMĀDHI BHALĪ (BRAJ BHASHA)

santō sahaj samādhi bhalī

O saints, natural and spontaneous meditation is the highest path.

sōyī tē milan bhayō jā din tē surat na anat calī

From the day I met the divine, my inner consciousness has not strayed anywhere else.

āṁkh na mūṃdūṁ kān na rūṃdhūṁ kāyā kaṣṭ na dhārūṁ

I do not close my eyes, nor do I block my ears, nor do I subject my body to physical hardships.

khulē nain mēṃ haṃs haṃs dēkhūṁ suṃdar rūp nihārūṁ

With open eyes, I joyfully behold and cherish the beautiful form of the divine everywhere.

kahūṁ sō nām sunūṁ sō sumiran jō kuch karūṁ sō pūjā

Whatever I speak becomes God's name, whatever I hear becomes remembrance, and whatever I do becomes worship.

gṛh udyān ēk sam dēkhūṁ bhāv miṭāūṁ dūjā

I view home and forest with an equal vision, dissolving all feelings of duality.

jahāṁ jahāṁ jāūṁ sōyi parikaramā jō kuch karūṁ sō sēvā

Wherever I walk becomes a sacred circumambulation, and whatever I perform becomes selfless service.

jab sōūṁ tab karūṁ daṇḍavat pūjūṁ aur na dēvā

When I sleep, it is an act of prostration; I worship no other deity.

śabd niraṃtar manu ā rātā malin vacan kā tyāgī

My mind is constantly absorbed in the eternal word, completely abandoning harsh or impure speech.

uṭhat baiṭhat kabahuṁ na bisarai aisī tārī lāgī

Whether rising or sitting, I never forget; such is the unbroken state of absorption I have attained.

kahē kabīr yah unamanī rahnī sō paragaṭ kar gāyī

Kabir says: I have openly sung of this transcendent state of living.

sukh dukh kē ik parē param sukh tēhi mēṃ rahā samāyī

Beyond the dualities of pleasure and pain lies the supreme bliss, in which I remain perpetually merged.

TŌSŌṂ LĀGYŌ NĒH (BRAJ BHASHA)

tōsōṃ lāgyō nēh rē pyārē nāgar nandakumār... nāgar nandakumār

I have fallen deeply in love with You, my beloved Krishna, the wise son of Nanda.

muralī tērī man haryō bisaryō ghar-vyauhār

The enchanting sound of Your flute has stolen my mind, causing me to completely forget my household affairs and worldly duties.

jab tēṃ savanani dhuni pari ghar āṅgaṇ na suhāyi

Ever since the melody reached my ears, neither my home nor my courtyard brings me any comfort.

pāradhi jyūṃ cūkai nahīṃ mṛgī bēdhī dayi āyi... mṛgī bēdhī dayi āyi

Like a hunter whose aim never fails, Your love has struck my heart like an arrow piercing a deer.

pānī pīr na jānayi jyōṃ mīn taḍpi mari jāyi rasik madhup kē marm kō nahīṃ

Water does not feel the agony of the fish that writhes and dies without it.

samujhat kamal subhāyi nahīṃ samujhat kamal subhāyi

The innocent lotus flower cannot fathom the deep longing of the honeybee.

dīpak kō jō dayā nahīṃ uḍi-uḍi marat pataṅg

The flame feels no pity for the moth that repeatedly flies into it until it dies.

‘mīrā’ prabhu giridhar milē

Yet Meera says: I have met my Lord Giridhar, jaisē pāṇī mili jayō raṅg jaisē pāṇī mili jayō raṅg

And my soul has merged with Him just as color dissolves seamlessly into water.

pyārē nāgar nandakumār...

Beloved, wise son of Nanda

JŌGĪ MAT JĀ MAT JĀ MAT JĀ (BRAJ BHASHA)

jōgī mat jā mat jā mat jā... pāyi parūm̐ maiṃ cērī tērī hauṁ̐

O yogi, do not go, do not go! I fall at your feet as your humble servant!

agar candaṇ kī citā banāvūm̐ apṇē hāth jalā jā

If I build a funeral pyre of aloe and sandalwood, set it ablaze with Your own hands before You leave.

jal bal bhayī bhasm kī ḍhērī apṇē aṅg lagā jā... apṇē aṅg lagā jā

And when I am burned and turned into a heap of ashes, smear those ashes onto your own body before you leave.

kānhā... ō kānhā... mērē kānhā... pyārē kānhā...

Oh Krishna

jōgī mat jā mat jā mat jā... pāyi parūm̐ maiṃ cērī tērī hauṁ̐

O yogi, do not go, do not go! I fall at Your feet as Your humble servant!

prēm bhagti kau paiḍō hī nyārō ham kūṃ ḍaul batā jā

The path of love and devotion is entirely unique. Show me the way and teach me how to walk it before You leave.

mīrā kahē prabhu giridhar nāgar jōt mēṃ jōt milā jā... jōt mēṃ jōt milā jā

Meera says, O Lord Giridhar Nagar, before You leave, merge my light into Your supreme light.

kānhā... ō kānhā... mērē kānhā... pyārē kānhā...

Oh Krishna

LĀKHAN JĀTI JAGAT (BRAJ BHASHA)

lākhan jāti jagat māṃ phailī kāl kō phand pasāriyā

Countless species fill this world, where time has spread its invisible snare everywhere.

sādhō bhāī jīvat hī karō āsā

O seeker brothers, strive for liberation while you are still alive!

jīvat samajhē jīvat būjhē jīvat mukuti nivāsā

Understand while alive, realize the truth while alive—liberation dwells right here in life itself.

jīvat karam kī phāṁs na kāṭī muyē mukuti kī āsā

If you do not cut the noose of karmic bondage while living, how can you hope for salvation after death?

abahūṃ milā tō tabahūṃ milēgā nahīṃ tō jam pur vāsā

If you realize Him now, you will attain Him hereafter; otherwise, you will only dwell in the realm of death.

sat gahē satgurū kō cīnhaiṃ sat nām visvāsā

Hold fast to truth, recognize the true master, and place unwavering faith in the divine name.

kahaiṃ kabīr sādhan hitkārī ham sādhan kē dāsā

Kabir says, "The company of true seekers brings ultimate good; I am a humble servant of such seekers."

MAN RĒ TŪ KAR LĒ (HINDI)

man rē tū kar lē sāhēb sō prīt

O mind, cultivate true love and devotion with the Supreme Lord!

saran āyē sō sab hī ubārē
aisī uṃkī rīt

Whoever seeks His refuge, He uplifts them all—such is His divine nature.

suṃdar dēh dēkh mat bhūlō jaisē tṛṇ par sīt

Do not be deluded by looking at the beauty of this physical body; it is as transient as a dewdrop sitting on a blade of grass.

kāchī dēh ākhir gir purī hai jyōṃ bārū kī bhīt

This fragile body will ultimately crumble away completely, just like a wall built of sand.

aisō janam bahur nahīṃ pēhō jāt umarī sab bīt

You will not get such a precious human birth again, yet your entire lifetime is passing away unnoticed.

kabīrā caḍhē gaḍh ūpar
diyē nagārā jīt

Kabir has climbed atop the ultimate fort of spiritual wisdom and beats the drum of victory!

BER BER NAHĪ ĀVE AVASAR (HINDI)

ber ber nahīṃ āve avasar 2026 (Hindi)

ber ber nahīṃ āve avasar
This precious chance will not return, nor come again to stay;

jo jān to karle bhalāī

Know this in heart, do good in life, and joy will pave your way.

ber ber nahīṃ āve avasar
This precious chance will not return, nor come again to stay;

Surdas prays to sing His praise forever and behold Him with joyful eyes.

ber ber nahīṃ āve avasar

This precious chance will not return, nor come again to stay;

kānhā... o... kānhā...

O Krishna...

SĀDHŌ ŚABAD SĀDHANĀ (HINDI)

sādhō... sādhō... śabad sādhanā kījai

Seeker, make the pure word your daily practice and quest, jēhi śabadatē pragaṭ bhayē sab sōyī śabad gahi lījai

Cling only to that living word from which all worlds manifested.

śabadahi guru śabad sun sikh bhayē śabad sō birlā būjhai

That primal word is the guru, that word births the disciple, yet rare is the one who grasps its inner worth;

sōyī śiṣya sōyī guru mahātama jēhi aṃtar gati sūjhai

That master and pupil alone possess the grace, within whose awakened hearts the inner light takes place.

śabadai vēd-purān kahat hai śabad śabadai sab ṭhaharāvai

The Vedas and Puranas sing of the living word alone, in the sound of that soundless word, all existence settles and finds its foundation.

śabadai sur muni saṃt kahat hai śabad bhēd nahīṃ pāvai

Gods, sages, and saints speak its eternal name, yet few reach the secret core of its mystic flame.

śabadai sun sun bhēṣ dharat hai śabadai kahai anurāgī

Hearing the primal word, men wear the robes of every guise, devotees proclaim its love with yearning sighs.

ṣaṭ-darśan sab śabad kahat hai śabad kahē bairāgī

The six philosophies all extoll that living word, and the detached recluse chants it.

śabadai kāyā jag utpānī śabadai kēri pasārā

From that primal word sprang the body, from the word the universe spun, the grand expanse of creation by the pure word is done;

kahai 'kabīr' jahāṁ śabad hōt hai bhavan bhēd hai nyārā

Says Kabir, where the primal word holds its secret sway, that ultimate realm is transcendent.

Oh Mother, my beloved Lord did not inquire after me...

lēy kaṭārī kaṇṭh cīrūṁ
karūṁgī maiṃ apaghāt

I shall take a dagger and pierce my own throat, ending this life on which grief and anguish dote.

mīrā vyākul birhaṇī rē...
kāl jyūṁ bilalāt
kāl jyūṁ bilalāt

For Meera, the restless, torn by separation, cries out in agony like death at her side. Oh Mother, my beloved Lord did not inquire after me...

AB TŌ NIBHĀYĀṂ SARĒGĪ (HINDI)

ab tō nibhāyāṃ sarēgī, bāṁh gahē kī lāj|

Now that You have taken my hand, You must keep Your vow to protect me.

samarath saraṇ tumhārī saiyāṃ, sarab sudhāraṇ kāj||

O Almighty, I take refuge in You; You alone can set all things right.

bhavsāgar sansār apārbal, jāmēṃ tum hō jahāj|

The ocean of worldly existence (bhavasagara) is vast and uncontrollable, and You are the only vessel that can carry me across.

niradhārāṃ ādhār jagat guru tum bin hōy akāj||

O master of the world, You are the sole anchor for the anchorless; without You, my life is utterly lost.

jug jug bhīr harī bhagatan kī, dīnī mōcch samāj|

Age after age, You have relieved the suffering and distress of Your devotees, granting them eternal liberation.

mīrā saraṇ gahī caraṇan kī, lāj rakhō mahārāj||

Meera has taken refuge at Your lotus feet—O Lord, preserve my honor!

rādhē śyām, rādhē śyām, lāj rakhō rādhē śyām

Radhe Shyam, Radhe Shyam, preserve my honor, Radhe Shyam.

DĒVĪ JAGADŌDHĀRIṆĪ (HINDI)

dēvī jagadōddhāriṇī
2026 (Hindi)

dēvī... jagadōddhāriṇi tāpatraya vināśinī
dharā... āj jhulas rahī śānti-sudhābhilāṣiṇī

O Goddess... Uplifter of the universe, Destroyer of the three-fold miseries, The earth... is burning high today, Longing for the nectar of peace.

āgū bhaḍḍukkāyī havāōṃ nē pānī bhī hai uphān par lāvā ubal kar jaise
dhartī kā sīnā cīrē hai

The winds have turned to fiery breaths, the waters rise in turbulent unrest, like boiling lava bursting forth, ripping through the earth's own chest.

kṛpā kar dē māṁ tū aisī
śānt hō ākāś bhī
pṛthvī bhī jal vāyu bhī
śānti praśānti sarvatra
śānti praśānti sarvatra

Shower Your grace, O Mother, in such a way, That the skies may find their calm, The earth, the waters, and the air, Peace and deep tranquility everywhere. Peace and deep tranquility everywhere.

yudhōṃ kā jaisē ant nahīṃ kōyī ik dūjē kaun jānē kōyī bhaiṃs usī kī jiskī lāṭhī
āj putr hai pitā kā vairī

Wars seem to have no end at all, None knows or cares for another now, Might rules , power dictates right, Today, a son stands as his father's foe.

kṛpā kar dē māṁ tū aisī

saṃg kadam baḍhāyē ham kūbhāv tyāgē sāth calē – sadbhāv kā dīp jalāyē ham
sadbhāv kā dīp jalāyē ham

Shower Your grace, O Mother, in such a way, That we may walk together, step by step, Forsaking ill-will, moving hand in hand— Let us light the lamp of goodwill. Let us light the lamp of goodwill.

sōnē kē piñjarē mēṃ baṃd yē man kā pañchī khud kō nōṃcē uḍ nā bhūl kē phaḍphaḍāyē kabhī ūṁghē kabhī cōt khāyē

Caged inside this golden coop, The bird of the mind claws at itself, Forgetting how to fly, it flutters in distress, Now dozing off, now wounding itself in pain.

kṛpā kar dē māṁ tū aisī
prāṇaśakti hō śānt sab kī śānt śvās-niśvās bhī indriyāṁ balī śānt hō
buddhi vāṇī suśānt hō

Grant us such mercy, O Mother Divine, That the life-force within all becomes serene, May the breath flowing in and out find calm, May the restless, powerful senses be appeased, May the intellect and the voice find profound peace.

kṛpā kar dē māṁ tū aisī – tērī bāhōṃ kē palnē mēṃ milē śāṃti kī abhilāṣiṇī
śāṃti praśāṃti sarvatra
śāṃti praśāṃti sarvatra

Grant us such mercy, O Mother Divine— May we be cradled safely in your arms, A soul that longs for the embrace of peace. Peace, absolute peace, everywhere. Peace, absolute peace, everywhere.
